UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA, LINCOLN, THURSDAY, MAY 4, 1916.

PRICE 5 CENTS.

OMAHA PREPARING TO ENTERTAIN 2,000 UNIVERSITY STUDENTS, MAY 19

ALL CIVIC AND BUSINESS ORGANIZATIONS JOIN IN PLANNING RECEPTION.

The Gate City Is One of the Wonders of the West—Compares With Nation's Biggest Cities.

What shall be done with the 2,000 students that are going to Omaha two weeks from tomorrow, when the university will be the guest and the Commercial club, business houses, high school, daily newspapers, and, best of all, old Nebraska alumni will be the hosts, is a question that is bothering the students more than the men who are arranging the program in the big city.

For in Omaha, they are beginning to worry over the problem of getting enough of the city's bigness before the students in the short space of twelve or fourteen hours. For Omaha is Nebraska's greatest city, and she is the Gate City of the west.

The Omaha Commercial club is carefully arranging the program to crowd as much interest and excitement into the short space of time as possible. There is much to see.

A Trading Center

Omaha is a great trading center. The trade statistics show the high rank the city has, comparable with Chicago and Kansas City, and exceeding all other centers as a stock market, as a packing center, as a grain market, as a butter manufacturing point, as a thousand and one other things that one can call to mind in thinking of the business of a great city.

But great as Omaha, jobbing and other interests are, her merchants in the retail district are proud to invite comparison with merchants in other cities of two and four times Omaha's size. Her retail stores exhibit goods garnered in every corner of the world. Her great department stores are loaded with every conceivable thing that can please the purchaser.

And as a progressive American municipality, Omaha invites the study of the university students. She has a great municipal waterworks, with headquarters at the beautiful Minnecusa pumping station, that furnishes the purest water to its thousands of inhabitants. She has a park system that compares favorably in both wild and cultured beauty with that of any other city. And her parks are connected with a boulevard system that furnishes drives to please the most exacting.

The Public Schools

Her public school system is one of the finest in the country. A high school that is an architectural triumph, and with courses of study long recognized by the most exacting universities, and a commercial high school where business branches are taught that has won wide recognition complete her secondary education.

The Nebraskan will tell more about Omaha, dwelling not along general lines, but on specific points of interest as the time approaches for the trip. Meanwhile the city is extending the welcoming hand. The response of the students and faculty of the university will be as warm as the welcome extended. The campus committees are planning on not less than 1,750 students making the trip on the great day, May 19.

FIFTEEN COLLEGES IN GIRLS CONVENTION

NEBRASKA UNI. WELCOMES MIDWEST DELEGATES

Four Schools Represented for the First Time—Interesting Discussions Are Promised

Twenty-six college women, representing fifteen schools, arrived in Lincoln today to attend the Girl's club convention, May 4-6. Colorado College of Agriculture, the University of South Dakota, De Pauw and Miami universities are sending delegates for the first time.

Helen Humphreys, vice president and treasurer of the association, from the University of Michigan, and Irene Liggett, secretary, from the University of Illinois, are prominent among the delegates.

Each school has the privilege of sending a junior and a senior delegate, with voting powers. Louise Coe, '17, and Jean Burroughs, '18, are the delegates from Nebraska.

Subjects of interest to all of the schools will be discussed at the business meetings. Athletics and the relationship of the Y. W. S. A. to the student government are perhaps of the most interest to the delegates. Marian Kastle, '17, will give an account Friday of the student activities office at Nebraska.

The Student Council

THE THREE ISSUES:

DO NOT CONFUSE THEM

There are at present three important issues before the students, having to do with university life. Though they are entirely different, they are closely related. That they may not be confused, we will outline them as follows:

1. The Single Tax is a fee of three dollars a semester, the proceeds of which are applied to certain all-university activities. It will be paid by all students who will receive benefit from these activities.

2. The Student Union is an organization having as its object the establishing and maintenance of a Union building, to be devoted to student life.

3. The Student Council is an organization elected by the students and responsible to them. It will have general legislative, administrative and some judicial power over student affairs.

The three institutions are closely related. The Student Council will administer the funds collected from the Single Tax, and will have as one of its duties the obligation to see that the best returns are being received for the money expended. The Student Union will be responsible to the Student Council for the proper administration of the all-university Union building.

WHY YOU SHOULD SUPPORT THE STUDENT COUNCIL

1. It will mean that the students have an organization to represent them on all occasions.
2. By unifying student life it will create a better Nebraska spirit.
3. By being representative of the various departments of the university, it will create a greater and more wholesome departmental spirit.
4. It will mean the adoption of the Single Tax, which will produce better student activities.
5. It will mean the adoption of the Student Union, which will produce more democracy among the students.
6. It will mean the creation of a University State, having functions similar to the state at large, thus producing a laboratory in self-government.
7. The results in other schools justify its adoption here.
8. It will bring order and unity where now we have disorder and chaos.

PORTER A CANDIDATE FOR ATHLETIC BOARD

Grove M. Porter has been approved as a candidate for the athletic board, and his name will go on the ballot with the rest Monday. Porter has been a varsity football player for the past two years. He was also active in helping manage this year's Farmers' Fair.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB ANNUAL BANQUET

The annual banquet of the Cosmopolitan club (Corda Fratres) will be held Saturday, May 6, at 6 p. m., at the Lincoln hotel. Dr. H. B. Alexander will act as toastmaster and the following will respond to toasts: Chancellor Avery, Prof. Sarka Hrbkova, C. Petrus Peterson, Mrs. T. A. Williams, Senator Shumway, Henry Chung.

The object of the club is to unite student movements and organizations throughout the world, to study student problems and to promote among students closer international relations, mutual understanding and friendship.

Everyone in the university, whether student or faculty member, who believes in promoting the sympathetic appreciation of character, problems and intellectual currents of other nations is most cordially invited to be present Saturday evening.

The officers of the Cosmopolitan club are: C. H. Park, president; Prof. Sarka Hrbkova, first vice president; Paul Kies, second vice president; C. Magnussen, secretary-treasurer; Knute E. Carlson, recorder.

Colorado

"Campus day" is the latest innovation at Colorado; it is a day to be set aside in which every student is expected to assist in "back-to-the-farm" methods of improving the campus. Work is from 8 a. m. till 1:30 p. m., when luncheon will be served by the co-eds.

HEAVY DEMAND FOR XANTIPPE TICKETS

Ballard, Ex-Nebraskan, Who Wrote Play, Will Witness Student Performances

Harold Campbell, who has so successfully managed the University Players plays during the past season, declared a few days ago that the demand for seats for "Believe Me, Xantippe," which will be given its final performances Friday and Saturday nights at the Oliver theatre, has exceeded all expectations. The first day that Campbell walked down the street with posters advertising the play under his arm, he was stopped a dozen times within a few blocks by people who wanted tickets then.

FREDERICK BALLARD, '05 Author of "Believe Me, Xantippe"

The play will be especially interesting in that it will be watched by Frederick Ballard, '05, the author. Mr. Ballard has seen the best New York companies in the piece, and his com-

GIRLS' EDIT NEXT DAILY NEBRASKAN

Friday's issue of The Daily Nebraskan will be reported, edited and published entirely by the girl members of the staff. Eva Miller will be editor of the paper, and she will be assisted by Vivienne Holland, Jean Burroughs, Marguerite Kauffman, Fern Noble and Ruth Morgan. Every news event of the day will be reported by a co-ed, even including the baseball game in the afternoon. The men members of the staff have been invited to take a holiday, and, needless to say, they have been more than glad to act on the suggestion. A copy of the issue will be given to each of the visiting delegates to the Girl's club convention.

IVY DAY TICKETS ON SALE

Ivy Day tickets are on sale on the campus today. Committee members are anticipating that not less than 2,000 students will take part in the festivities, which begin on the city campus in the morning and continue at Electric park in the afternoon and evening. The tickets are necessary only for the program at Electric park, which commences at 1:30 o'clock, and will include dancing, a water carnival, games and sports, a picnic lunch, band concert, vaudeville performance and the annual tapping of the Black Masques and Innocents.

HUGG, CANDIDATE FOR ATHLETIC BOARD, NOT ON BEFORE

In the report of the candidates for membership on the university athletic board, published a few days ago, Ed Hugg was mentioned as a present member of the board who is a candidate for re-election. This is a mistake, as Hugg, who was captain of last spring's basketball team, is not now and never has been a member of the board. The Nebraskan takes this opportunity of making the correction of the mistake, which was caused by the inadvertence of a reporter.

"REVIEW OF REVIEWS"

WANTS PICTURES

The "Review of Reviews" has telegraphed the Alumni Journal, asking for a loan of the photographs of Dean Roscoe Pound, of Harvard university, and Chancellor Elliott, of Montana university, former Nebraska students, which were published in the April issue of the Journal.

FAIR MUST BE PROPER

The County Fair, a very important event in the college life of the students of the University of Washington, may be wiped from existence by the faculty unless "the students fully realize their responsibility and act decorously. Heretofore there has been a feeling that on this one evening at least, the lid had been lifted, and that anything was permitted," according to the Daily, which ran a red-ink scare-head extra on Friday.
