NEW ARMY BILL AFFECTS CADETS

The new Army Reorganization bill contains many provisions of interest to cadets in state universities. Greater importance is placed in the work and more remuneration is provided for by the government.

The preamble to the bill divides the army of the United States into the regular army, the volunteer army, the reserve officers' training corps, the enlisted reserve corps and the national guard. Of these divisions, the one we are primarily interested in is the organization designated as the reserve officers' training corps.

In order to thoroughly realize the purposes of military training in state institutions, it is necessary to grasp the purpose of the drafters of this bill in providing the reserve officers' training corps. The purpose is not to instruct the men as soldiers merely, but to provide a body of men capable of acting in the capacity of officers of volunteer armies. By the bill, the president is empowered to appoint not to exceed 5,000 men, graduates of a four-year course of military training, as second lieutenants, to serve a period of ten years.

Another section of the bill of special interest is the one providing for all cadets remaining in the corps beyond the two years of required work. It states that such members of the corps as are selected by the president of the institution and its professors of military science and tactics to continue the work, and who devote five hours per week and take certain courses in camp training, will be furnished "with commutation of subsistence at such rate, not exceeding the cost of garrison ration prescribed for the army as may be fixed by the secretary of war."

The secretary of war is authorized to maintain camps for the reserve officers' training corps—no camps to be maintained longer than six weeks—with the expense of transportation and subsistence met by the United States so far as appropriations will permit.

It may reasonably be expected that the provisions incorporated in this bill will add materially to the seriousness of military work at the university. As Mr. Hay, the chairman of the committee on military affairs, stated in submitting the report, "the committee on military affairs has had under consideration a bill to increase the efficiency of the military establishment of the United States." It is not to be doubted that the bill will perform its purpose.

RECOMMENDS NEW PLEDGING RULES

and to the fraternities of the council.

V
For the first semester of 1916-17 the rules which have hitherto governed rushing and pledging shall apply.

Believed Regents Will Adopt
It is believed that the regents will adopt the recommendations presented by the interfraternity council. It is pointed out by members of the fraternities that the newer rules really accomplish what the sophomore pledging rule aims to do, but apparently does not, that is, keep up the fraternity scholarship as a whole. The newer recommendations will at once provide an incentive for all fraternities to keep their scholarship standing high; will offer an inducement to those whose standing is low to raise it, and will act as a stimulus to those whose standing is high to keep it there.

Prof. P. M. Buck, jr., was unanimously re-elected chairman of the interfraternity council for next year. Verne Hedge was re-elected vice president, who is by the constitution an alumnus, and Robert Proudfit, Delta Chi, was elected secretary.

The council unanimously adopted a resolution presented by the active members, that every incoming chapter of a fraternity be required to have a residence of two years before being admitted to the council.

Acacia Admitted to Council
Acacia was elected to membership in the council. The application of Pi Kappa Phi was laid over for one year. This fraternity was not chartered until this school year.

The rule previously adopted by each of the fraternities acting individually, that after September 1, 1919, no student coming to the university belonging to a high school fraternity be initiated into a fraternity in Nebraska university, was adopted by the council and made a part of its rules.

Notification of this ruling will be sent to every high school in the state.

A standing committee to co-operate with the chancellor on admission of new fraternities was appointed, to consist of Verne Hedge, Dean O. V. P. Stout and Robert Proudfit.

Two student members of the executive board of the council were elected: John Stoddart, Beta Theta Pi, and Henry W. Campbell, Kappa Sigma.

means," complained one actor, "yesterday after a hard day's work we were innocently pinched and had to submit to various humiliations when we were so tired that we could hardly stand. We got to bed at 11:30 that night and were hustled out at 4 o'clock today, as the director is desirous to get all the scenes done in Lincoln today. Se we're all very sleepy, but have to hustle."

All the same, the camera man is "pulling" down twenty-five hard "plunks" for every day, rain or shine. So is the director.

The play was written by Chandler Trimble, '14, and won the $100 prize offered by the World-Herald. Mr. Trimble, who is practicing law in Omaha, got his training as an author in Prof. R. D. Scott's class in playwriting when he was a student at the university here three years ago.

In the play, a Nebraska youth attending the University of Nebraska, meets here the girl of his dreams. Later he makes a success of business in Omaha.

ASSOCIATION CABINETS

The last meeting this semester of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet was held last evening. Plans for the membership campaign next fall, and for the reception of the new girls were discussed. Tea or punch, according to the weather, will be served in the association rooms. After the business was over the Y. M. C. A. cabinet met with the girls for a short time, so that the new members might get acquainted.

We Thank You

Once more we take this opportunity to thank University Men for their patronage during the past year.

To those who graduate we wish full measure of luck and prosperity. With those who return next fall we hope to resume the same pleasant relations which have always characterized our dealings with University Men.
