TEAM LEAVES FOR IOWA INVASION

NEBRASKA TEAM LEAVES FOR IOWA THIS AFTERNOON

STUDENTS RALLY FOR SENDOFF AT 3:40

Train Leaves Over Rock Island—Team Is Going to Win Saturday's Battle

The Cornhuskers leave for the battle with Iowa at 4:05 this afternoon, over the Rock Island railroad.

At 3:40 this afternoon the team will leave the Armory for the Rock Island station. Every loyal rooter who does not have a class, will be at the Armory to bid the men Godspeed, and to let them know that Nebraska expects her team to win the battle Saturday at Iowa City.

No thought of defeat is in the minds of the student body; no feeling that the team may lose is in the hearts of the Cornhuskers.

Nebraska suffered a reverse last Saturday, but it takes more than a defeat by a small margin, by an inferior team, to take the heart out of the Nebraska eleven, their coach, and their student body.

Determined to Win

Nebraska is going to Iowa City with the determination to win, and to retrieve by as big a score as possible, the loss of last Saturday's game.

The announcement that has been carried on the bulletin boards the last day or so that a football rally would be held at convocation hour this morning was a mistake. The whole effort of the students will be to give the team a rousing sendoff as they leave for the train today. The spirit will be as indomitable as the spirit that sent the men to victory against the Oregon Aggies.

Although drill was called for 4 o'clock today, Commandant Parker has ordered first call not to be blown until 4:25 and last call at 4:30. This will give the cadets plenty of time

LAST OF INFORMAL TEAS TODAY IN ART HALL, 5:30

Dean Mary Graham will entertain all the girls of the University at the last tea of the year today in Art hall from 4 until 5:30 o'clock.

This is the last of a series of teas which Miss Graham has given for the purpose of getting the girls better acquainted. All girls are especially urged to come to this, if only for a short time.

WAR PRISON FUND GATHERING FORCE

Quiet Campaign Among Students Yielding Results—Faculty Solicited

Work on the European war prisoners fund has been going on quietly among the student body, but steadily gathering force. No solicitation is being made; the proposition is presented and the student is asked to give what his sympathy for these six millions of men of all nations, suffering tortures of body and soul, dictates to him to give.

The campaign for contributions is being very effectively carried on among faculty members, and the re-to march with the team to the station, and to get back to the campus for drill.

Band to Lead March

The band will lead the procession to the train, and the team will be drawn in the great carryall that has been used so often to carry Nebraskans to the scene of battle hopeful and confident, and bring them back victorious.

"Why of course we are going to win," one of the men on the team said last night. "This talk of defeat doesn't get very far with me. We are going to fight until we do win."

The team will go from Lincoln to Des Moines, Ia., where they will stay until Saturday. Then they take the interurban to Iowa City for the conflict Saturday afternoon.

The game is the homecoming game for the Iowans. The old grads will be back to cheer their team, and everyone will be pulling for an Iowa victory.

The Same Old Story

Nebraska has bucked that sort of thing before, and come out at the head of the game. Nebraska bucked it this year at Portland, when the whole Pacific coast, with the exception of a few Nebraskans, were pulling for Doc Stewart's former pupils to win.

But they lost. That is what Cornhusker supporters believe will be the outcome of the game Saturday.

And they are going to be gathered together in a great big room, hearing of the game as The Daily Nebraskan special wire sends it from the field, watching the game play by play, pulling for our boys if they are fighting against their own goal; urging them on if they are in the enemy territory.

Let the team realize that Nebraska is with them, and that psychic wave that Dr. Stewart speaks about will cross Nebraska and Iowa fields to the team on the grid Saturday, just as it covered 2,000 miles to Portland.

LINCOLN STEFFENS TALK TONIGHT

EASTERN JOURNALIST IN ADDRESS TO NEWS WRITERS

Invited by Prof. M. M. Fogg—Will Talk on Mexico Later at All Souls Church

Lincoln Steffens, one of the best-known journalists of the country, visits the University this evening. He comes on the invitation of Prof. M. M. Fogg to address particularly the students interested in journalism—the members of the Journalism courses, former members of these courses and the members of the Journalism fraternity and sorority.—Sigma Delta Chi and Theta Sigma Phi. He will speak on "Journalism," from 7:15 to 7:45 in the Music hall, the Temple. The meeting is open to the public.

Mr. Steffens has had thirty-five years experience in newspaper and magazine work in New York. He was the first of the political investigators to show up the system of invisible government in American cities, which he did when he turned the searchlight ten years ago in "The Shame of the Cities," on the politics of St.

CARTOONS FEATURE HOMECOMING ISSUE OF THE AWGWAN

One of the noticeable features of the Homecoming number of the Awgwan is its cartoons. The work of Lyman Thomas on the cover and center page is to be commended especially. The jokes are keen and the atmosphere should rekindle the waning spirit of any old graduate.

The next number of the Awgwan, the Christmas number, will be out before December 10. It will contain all the latest ideas for Christmas presents for the family and sweet hearts and will bring a message of holiday cheer, according to the staff.

SPECIAL LEASED WIRE A BIG HIT

DAILY NEBRASKAN'S OWN STORY OF GAME SATURDAY

No Profit to Paper—Tickets Merely to Cover Cost—Surplus to War Prisoners

Rarely has anything made a bigger hit than the plan of The Daily Nebraskan to run a special wire from Iowa City with a report of the Iowa game play by play, strictly for the student body. The first tickets were put on sale yesterday afternoon, and they were selling rapidly.

The nominal charge of a nickel was no drawback, when the students realized that they would be able to see and hear of the game in an enclosed place in comfort, by The Daily Nebraskan's own representative, coming from Iowa City by special leased wire second to none in the city.

Not a Money Maker

It is no intention of The Nebraskan to make money on the loyalty of the student body. The nickel charge is made merely to cover expenses of leasing the wire and paying for the service. Any surplus will be turned into the fund for the relief of the prisoners in the European war camps.

The idea originated in the editorial staff of the paper, simply as a part of the service a college paper should give the student body from which it draws its support.

Tickets to The Daily Nebraskan football party can be secured from sellers on the campus, or by coming into The Nebraskan office in the basement of U hall. The game will commence about 2:30 Saturday afternoon.

SORORITIES TO HELP TAG FOR CHARITY

Co-eds to Ask Students to Contribute Small Change Friday on Campus

Saturday will be Tag Day for the Lincoln Charity Organization society, in the city, and on Friday the following organizations will sell tags at the places named: Alpha Chi Omega, Music school; Alpha Omicron Pi, at the Armory gate in the afternoon; Alpha Xi Delta, Armory in the morning; Achoth, the Observatory gate and on the football field in the afternoon; Delta Delta Delta, outside the Administration building gate; Pi Beta Phi, at the Temple; Delta Gamma, at the Library gate; Kappa Alpha Theta, at the Law school; Silver Serpents, the faculty.

On Saturday, Alpha Phi will sell at

MAY SHOW MOVIES OF IOWA GAME NEXT MONDAY

Plans have been made to take moving pictures of the Nebraska-Iowa game next Saturday with two camera men at work if it is possible to rush the films to Chicago so that they may be shown at a local theatre Monday. If this is found to be impossible the films will not be made.

So much interest was shown in the pictures of the Oregon Aggies game that efforts will probably be made to have movies of all the important games played away from home.

SCRAPPY SCRIMMAGE BY HUSKER WARRIORS

SCRUBS WITH OLD STARS CAN'T SCORE

Team Looks Good for Victory in Annual Battle With the Hawkeyes

The practice on Nebraska field yesterday afternoon was by far the most scrappy scrimmage that has been held this year. The varsity, after a heart to heart talk with Dr. Stewart, went after the scrubs and, although the latter used Frank, Rutherford and Halligan, they were unable to score while the varsity was shoving over two touchdowns.

Every one of the men was fighting for all that was in him and the team roughed up the scrubs considerably. An old married man, by the name of Rutherford, received most of the varsity's attention in the way of extra fists and cleats.

Stewart Smiles

Doctor Stewart was forced to almost smile once in awhile when he heard the invitations which were hurled across from one side to the other, but his smiles were of joy to see that the men were fighting as they should.

Cook, Caley, Otrouplik and Dobson all were fighting hard at carrying the ball and if frequent fumbles hadn't occurred because of the slippery ball, several more scores would have been rung up.

Line Work Good

The work of the entire line was excellent when it came to stopping the scrub plays or opening holes for the backs. Mose especially deserves credit for his nerve in playing the game even though his shoulder was hurting him at every move. It is still doubtful if "Mose" will be able to get into the game Saturday.

Riddell was back at his usual position last night and helped muss Rutherford up, quite a bit.

LINCOLN A CHALLENGE TO SOCIAL SERVICE

One-Fifth of City Foreign Born or Descendants of Aliens—Cast One-Sixteenth of Vote

Lincoln, with 18 per cent of her population foreign-born, and 40 per cent either foreign born or children of foreign born parents, offers a challenge to the University for industrial and social service work.

From 100 to 150 Mexicans are in the city, for the most part uneducated, poor, and at constant feud with one another.

IOWA COACH WARNS TEAM AGAINST OVER-CONFIDENCE

HAWKEYES SHOW DISPOSITION TO TAKE BATTLE LIGHTLY

Coach Jones Shifts Men Seeking to Find the Most Efficient Combination

(Special to The Daily Nebraskan) Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 22.—Deplorably slow work by the Hawkeyes in scrimmage yesterday afternoon with the second team was made the occasion by Coach Jones of a warm talk to his men on the general subject of over-confidence. Much to the consternation of the coaching staff, the Iowa squad this week is showing a disposition to take the Nebraska game lightly and is failing to drive into the preparatory exercises with the same vim that marked the drill for Ames. Jones was not slow to take this notion out of the heads of the players.

"Look at Illinois and Minnesota," he said, "and at Chicago and Illinois. There have never been so many upsets before as there have been this year to prove that the chesty team is sure to get defeated. Because Kansas beat Nebraska and Iowa beat Ames is no reason for believing that Iowa will beat the Cornhuskers," and the Hawkeye mentor chased his men to the gymnasium in considerable disgust, hoping and praying both for a reversal of form and spirit on the morrow.

Iowa scouts who have seen Nebraska in action declare that the Cornhuskers have a powerful eleven, and the coaching staff anticipates one of the hardest games of the season for the entertainment Saturday of the huge homecoming crowds. It is anticipated that the game will be won by a close score and will furnish thrills a-plenty from first to last.

Mendenhall Returns

Yesterday afternoon's practice, while poor from the standpoint of scrimmage work, was encouraging in other ways. Mendenhall, who has been out of the game for more than three weeks, was in at right halfback again and appeared to be in fair condition once more. He will almost certainly start the game against Nebraska, although Duncan, by reason of the great playing which he has been doing recently, will go through at least half of the game. Davis was also on the regulars again yesterday, and seems to have come through the Cyclones without being permanently damaged. Scott was on the field in street clothing, but did not attempt heavy work of any sort. He has contracted bloodpoisoning in the leg, but Trainer Jack Watson expects to have him in condition by Saturday.

There were several substitutions made on the varsity during the afternoon. Captain Laun, after playing at right end, was relieved by Von Lackum for a time. McKee and Triplett alternated at left tackle. Fosdick played guard in place of the crippled Huzelman. In the backfield, Nugent acted for Davis for a time, Van Pelt was in place of Scott, and both Mendenhall and Duncan appeared at left half. Jones also tried Bannick, substitute quarter, at this position, and he acquitted himself well enough so that he may get in the Nebraska game as a half.

CORNHUSKER BANQUET TICKETS ON SALE

PRICE $1.25 FOR ANNUAL FOOTBALL FEAST

New Stunts for Entertainment—Crisp Speakers for Toast List—Rules for Ticket Sellers

The Cornhusker banquet will be held Friday evening, December 8, at the Lincoln hotel, commencing at 6:30. Tickets will go on sale today. The price will be a dollar and a quarter.

That in brief is the announcement of the great annual football feast, when Nebraska spirit is at its highest pitch, when the victories of the season will be recalled with joy, and the one defeat, for there can be but one, will be spoken of as something that happened, that is all.

The banquet will be pep from the word go, with a lot of new novelties in the line of entertaining. While the courses are being served, music will be played, and between courses there will be a new kind of entertainment. After the meal a short and enthusiastic talkfest, with speakers on the toast list who know how to say what is to be said in the most concise manner of saying it.

Who Will Sell Tickets
Iron Sphinx and Vikings, sophomore and junior organizations will assist in selling tickets. Those who wish to sell can get them from the student activities office from 10 to 11 o'clock Thursday, Friday and Monday.

DR. G. W. STEWART SCHEDULED FOR SIGMA XI SPEECH

Dr. G. W. Stewart, head of the department of physics, University of Iowa, will lecture before Sigma Xi, December 7, on "Physics of Audition." Dr. Stewart is the first of a number of prominent lecturers from other institutions that the society has obtained to lecture on research work.

The lectures will be conducted under the auspices of Sigma Xi, but the meetings will be open to all who are interested and it is the purpose of the society to create as much interest as possible in the work.

Shortly after the Christmas holidays, Dr. Steigitz, head of the department of chemistry, University of Chicago, will deliver his lecture here.

CLASS TEAMS IN LAST PRACTICE

Seniors and Sophomores Work Out Today—Senior-Junior Battle Friday

The last practice of the senior football team before the conflict with the juniors Friday afternoon on Nebraska field, will be held this morning at 11 o'clock.

The sophomores, who buck up against the freshmen Saturday morning, will practice this afternoon, commencing at 4 o'clock.

Dope on Saturday's conflict rather favors the freshmen to take the battle. The result is very much in doubt however, and the same can be said of the junior-senior game.
