HERBERT QUICK HERE ORGANIZED AG WEEK WILL DISCUSS FEDERAL FARM LOAN ACT JANUARY 19
 Former Newspaper Man and Citizen of Omaha, Knows Nebraska Conditions

Herbert Quick, chairman of the federal farm loan board, and widely known writer on agricultural topics, is to be one of the headliners on the bill for the week of Organized Agriculture at the University farm, January 15-20.
 Friday, January 19, has been set aside by the committee in charge of organized agriculture as "Farm Loan Day," when Mr. Quick will make two addresses on the new federal farm loan act. At 10 a. m. he will speak in the judging pavilion at the University farm on the subject, "The New Farm Loan Law." At this time opportunity will be given anyone to ask questions. At 2 p. m. Mr. Quick will preside at a farm loan conference in which he will give instructions in methods of organization of national farm loan associations. This talk is especially designed to meet the needs of those who desire to assist others in organizing farm loan associations, such as county agents, extension workers, and persons who desire to become members of farm loan associations, as well as all others interested.
 Mr. Quick was formerly a Sioux City newspaper man and lived several years in Omaha. Consequently, he is conversant with Nebraska conditions and is well fitted to discuss the work or organizing national farm loan associations in this state.

To Receive Insignia
 A new ruling at the University of Texas has just been made to the effect that all men working on the school publications shall receive official recognition for their services. Editors of the annual, the paper, and other publications will receive gold medals, as will the business managers. Other medals in silver and some in bronze will also be given to others on the staffs. The medals will be suitably inscribed and will be as much of an honor as the athletic letters. This is expected to increase very materially the interest in this line of work.

List Indian Mounds in Waushara County
 Forty-nine Indian village sites and 332 mounds have been found in Waushara county, Wis., by the authors of "The Indian Remains of Waushara County," the latest number of the survey series of "The Wisconsin Archeologist," published by the Wisconsin Archeological society. The authors are E. C. Tagatz and George R. Fox.
 Many of the village and camp sites show traces of occupancy by considerable populations for long periods of time. Signs of aboriginal garden beds and the remains of five enclosures, probably the sites of council houses, were found.
 Most of the mounds in this region are conical in shape; 47 are oval and 17 are linear. More than 500 copper instruments of large size have been unearthed, but few Indian cemeteries were found because of the sandy soil.
 Maps, diagrams and photographs illustrate the findings of the authors of this publication so that the reader may locate the various mounds and sites and study them for himself.

Wisconsin—The plan for raising money for the stricken camps of Europe has been very successful in the University of Wisconsin. The hardships of the prison camps are presented to the students in a very graphic manner by the men who are making this their life work. A general "Go to Church" Sunday date for all the students has been set, and all the boys who are habitual stay-at-homes will have to attend church on that day. A vigilance committee will mark the absence of each student, and proper punishment will be administered when the Sabbath day is past.

Everything Spooky
 Over two thousand students of the University of Illinois attended the first all-university Hallow'een party ever given at that school. Starting with a snake dance up and down mysterious ways and ending in fortune telling and old fashion games, the party was a distinct success.

Bradley KNIT WEAR
"Cum Laude" Sweaters
 Funny how ubiquitous a sweater is. From matriculation to graduation its uses are multitudinous, its paths devious. And how nomadic, too. The athlete's luxurious shaker, proudly alphabetized, migrates from "stude" to co-ed, from frat house to girl's dorm. If it's a Bradley, it abides there.
