CHEER LEADERS NEEDED

Nebraska might have wone the game against Missouri Friday night had the team had the support of organized rooting by the students. Extemporaneous yells were given by the rooters who were aching to help the team in the fight, but their effectiveness would have been more than doubled if either of the varsity yell leaders had been in charge.

If the innocents elected the cheer leader for the football season only, another election should be held to choose men who will lead the rooting for the rest of the basketball games, for track, for wrestling and for baseball.

If the two cheer leaders were elected for the season, and awarded sweaters on that basis, then they should be made to feel their responsibility and should not be missing men when Nebraska is again in need of them.

THE NEW GYMNASIUM

The pathetic inadequacy of the Armory to contain Nebraska University students who want to see their basketball team in action was strikingly illustrated at the two games with Missouri last week, when every available seat and all standing room was taken by students eager to get this taste of student life, but who were hampered by lack of accommodations.

That a new gymnasium will come in the course of time is an evasion that does not satisfy the present demand of the students. There is much to be said on both sides of the question of whether adequate class room facilities, or adequate facilities for the student's expression of himself as a social being should be given first consideration in the building program.

Difficult it is for students to believe that it is more important that they should have the best facilities for work, than that they should have adequate room to come in contact with their fellow students under right conditions so that student happiness and student health could be kept at the highest point of efficiency.

The social science building, the teachers college high school and the agricultural engineering building have been put down as the next buildings to come on the University extension program.

After these buildings should be placed the new gymnasium and the woman's building. Without them the best recitation rooms in the world will be much less than of passing efficiency. Student happiness, student health, and student spirit have a larger part to play in the student struggle for knowledge than the great class rooms and laboratories.

The decision of the medical college to make study in military science a requirement for graduation will probably be opposed by the pacifist medical students at Omaha, judging from Lincoln campus experience.

CONSIDER ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Every University man and woman should pause a bit today to consider Abraham Lincoln.

His life is the epic of Americanism. He was able to do, strong to will and determined to accomplish, and yet great-hearted enough to think first of others and lastly of himself.

Forceful as Lincoln is known to have been, he is remembered today for his gentleness above all else. So great was his faith in things that are good, that the things that are bad lost power to awe him.

Just to think of Lincoln and his life helps one to remember that so many things are fine and so many people are worth while that the rest does not really matter.

NON COMPOS MENTIS

Our Daily Thought

The phrase "The joy of living is in the joy of giving" is all right in its place—but how about the recipient?

If war is declared the position of army cook would be desirable for some of these pacifists. They could hide under the wagon when the bullets whizzed by.

P. S. Maybe the shells would settle the coffee.

I did not raise my boy to be a soldier—

I fetched him up to be a pastry cook,

To tann and sew on all the buttons—

To drape himself upon the closet hook.

—Et Cetera—

I went into the Cafeteria

The other day

And sat down Beside a student

To eat my meal.

You are thinking

That I am going

To say that he Yodeled.

He didn't—but he

Had a knife

That acted like the Original coal shovel.

The dexterity

And proficiency

With which he

Balanced baked beans

On the blade

Was awe-inspiring.

It seemed as if

The man

Were taking his

Life in danger

And I interestedly

Watched to see

If his hand shook

Because if it had

The knife would have

Slipped.

And then I

Wondered why

A man in the Pursuit of culture

Could not have the Opportunity to Learn the ways of the world

So that he would not

At least

Dissect his meal

And his mouth

With his knife.
