A SUGGESTION BOX FOR THE STUDENT COUNCIL

The Daily Nebraskan, at the request of the Student Council charter convention, has placed on the campus south of University hall, a box for suggestions regarding the student council. Every Nebraska University student is invited to submit ideas on the question by dropping them into this box. Especially is it urged that these suggestions be made today and tomorrow, so that they may be of use to the charter commission in drawing up its questionnaire to be submitted to the student council representatives who meet at Purdue university this week-end.

Students of the University who have gone to college where the student council has been used, should consider it their duty as loyal Nebraskans to tell about the council in their former school, and to submit ideas to the commission. Any student who has thought enough about the question to have any definite ideas should take this opportunity to make those ideas known to the charter convention.

Now is the time to be of service to the student council commission. The establishment of the Student Council will prove a crisis in the student life at Nebraska. The call is clear for every student to help by all means within his power.

THE ALL-GREEK PARTY

The success of the second annual all-Greek party at the Alpha Sigma Phi house Friday night, should mean the establishment of this event as an annual University interfraternity and intersorority affair under the supervision of the Interfraternity council and the Pan-Hellenic union.

The Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity is to be congratulated upon its unselfishness and upon its hospitality, but the expense of this annual program should no longer be borne entirely by this fraternity. The affair proves such a good means for getting acquainted, and is so truly a democratic event, that the University cannot afford to let it drop.

This is something over which the two governing bodies of the fraternities and sororities should assume general charge. The Nebraskan urges them to announce soon that this has been done for next year.

PUBLICATIONS AND ADVERTISING

The action of the student publication board, in defining the field of advertising for University publications, was a wise means of retaining the friendship and patronage of Lincoln advertisers. Business men who have not been in close touch with the University have at times been confused by the constant demands upon them for advertising, made by representatives of the numerous campus publications. To restrict them to their own fields, giving only The Daily Nebraskan and Agriculture a free field, was due the Lincoln merchants.

WHY NOT INTERSORORITY CONTESTS?

The success of the fraternities in holding annual tournaments in basketball, bowling and baseball, should encourage the sororities of the University to start similar competitions. Intersorority basketball and bowling tournaments could be run off, and other means of sorority competition might suggest themselves to the women students. Many universities have bowling and basketball contests among the sororities.

The fraternity contests at Nebraska are annually the means of giving healthful physical exercise to men who would not otherwise receive it. This is even less important than the friendships which the contests cement between the participating fraternities. The same good would be accomplished among the girls by sorority tourneys.

BRIEF BITS OF NEWS

Goes to Norfolk.—Mamie Meredith, '13, who read rhetoric themes last semester, has accepted a position as instructor of English in the Norfolk high school.

Publishes Book.—D. N. Lehmer, '92, has published a book on "Synthetic Projective Geometry." Mr. Lehmer is professor of mathematics in the University of California.

Lectures in Iowa.—Dean Charles Fordyce of the teachers' college, returned from Belmont, Ia., Saturday evening, where he gave several addresses at a convention.

Professor Frye Back May 15.—Word has been received from Prof. P. H. Frye, head of the department of rhetoric, that he is recovering rapidly and that he will return about May 15.

North Bend Won.—The debate in the high school debating league at North Bend, at which Charles E. Scofield, '17, of Lincoln, was the sole judge Wednesday evening, was won by North Bend, not by Schuyler, as reported.

To Interest Engineers.—M. J. Dick, of the Henry L. Doherty Co., New York city, will meet the senior electrical engineers today to arouse interest in that company's work in public utilities. The company maintains a cadet course in the field for engineers, and annually attempts to secure the best men from the several colleges. Last week G. H. Pfeif of the General Electric company and G. Blebel of the Westinghouse Electric company made similar visits.

Spoke to German-Russians.—Prof. H. W. Caldwell, of the department of American history, spoke to a good-sized audience of German-Russians at Park school yesterday afternoon on "America and the Great War." This placard, distributed in West Lincoln Saturday afternoon, advertised the lecture: "Herr Prof. H. W. Caldwell, Ueber Professor von Amerikanische Geschichte des Statas Universitaet wird eine Ausprache halten ueber das Thema 'Amerika und der grosze Krieg.'"
