TAYLOR FIGHTS UNIVERSITY LEVY

OPPOSES ACTIVITIES BILL IN STATE LEGISLATURE

Levy to Support Medical College and Other Interests Passes Notwithstanding

Representative W. J. Taylor of Custer county again leaped into notice yesterday when he delivered a speech against the levy recommended by a joint house and senate conference committee to support University activities, particularly the college of medicine and experiment stations. Despite his objections, the house passed the bill as recommended.

The speech came after the report of the conference committee yesterday morning. The regular one mill levy for University support had been amended in the senate to provide for an additional .77 mill levy to provide for University activities. The house opposed this and the conference committee was appointed. It recommended the senate amendment with some changes.

When the committee had made its report, Representative Taylor walked to the front of the house, climbed on a chair, and talked against the levy. Among the things he proposed was preventing any more buildings on the medical college campus at Omaha for the time being, in order to lighten the tax burden.

FRAT BASEBALL WILL START SOON

SCHEDULE OF GAMES EXPECTED TO BE COMPLETED EARLY NEXT WEEK

The interfraternity baseball schedule will be put before the public sometime in the future—this is the answer the schedule makers are giving to questions about the lineup of games. It is probable, however, that it will be ready for publication Monday or Tuesday.

Interfraternity baseball usually furnishes a small-sized war, with a pitched battle every time two teams clash. The way some of the fraternities are starting to practice it looks as if this year would be no exception.

The only resemblance between the interfrat games and real ball games is the crabbiness. Errors in these games are as numerous as the proverbial sands, but are somewhat excusable because of the fact that a large number of the men who play do not lay hands on a ball or glove at any other time of the year.

A full schedule in which every team plays every other team is the plan for this year's games. The playing off of the games will be left to the fraternities themselves and no dates will be set.

GIRLS' CLUB VOTES TO HELP RED CROSS

WOULD POSTPONE NATIONAL MEETING AND DONATE MONEY SAVED TO HELP IN WAR

The University of Nebraska Girls' club unanimously expressed itself in favor of the postponement of the fifth annual conference of the middle western intercollegiate association for women's self-government, which was to be held at Minneapolis May 3, 4, and 5, at a meeting yesterday noon.

The suggestion of postponement and the contributing the money which would have been spent as delegates' expenses to the American Red Cross association, came from the University of Michigan. The ballot voted unanimously in the affirmative by Nebraska, follows:

"We move, that,

1. In case of war between the United States and Germany, the fifth conference of the middle western intercollegiate association for women's self-government be postponed.

2. That the dues paid by members of the association for the year 1916-17 (except those necessary to meet expenses already incurred) and all money, such as railroad fares and incidental traveling expenses, which would be paid by the several organizations to send delegates to this conference, be given to the national American Red Cross association.

3. That the three officers of the association who have no expenses contribute from the treasury of the local organization which they represent as large a sum as such organization feels it can pay.

SENIOR GIRLS WILL WEAR THEIR CAPS IN PATRIOTIC PARADE

The committee has also recommended that dark suits be worn, although this is not at all required.

GO TO MEETING OF VALLEY ORATORS

Prof. Searl S. Davis and Guy N. Henninger, '18, Nebraska's Representatives

Prof. Searl S. Davis of the department of rhetoric, and Guy N. Henninger, '18, of Shelton, left last evening for Des Moines, Ia., to attend the first Missouri Valley oratorical contest there this evening.

Henninger will represent Nebraska in the contest, and Professor Davis in a meeting that is to be held to organize the Missouri Valley Oratorical association. That such an association was to be organized was decided at a recent meeting of the chancellors and presidents of the colleges. It was felt that there was a need for a relationship between Missouri Valley institutions other than that resulting from athletics.

"Duties Unfulfilled," is the subject of Henninger's oration. He and Professor Davis will return to Lincoln Saturday.

Fame Of The Golden Fleece Crosses Atlantic To Paris

All the way to Paris, France, in spite of German subsea boats, traveled the story of the Order of the Golden Fleece, which celebrated its one and only banquet in February. NO MORE RESERVE APPLICATIONS NOW

WAR DEPARTMENT ISSUES ORDERS REGARDING COMMISSIONS

Will Apply for Permission to Attend Officers' Training Camp at Ft. Snelling Instead

No more applicants can be received for commissions in the officers' reserve corps, according to orders received from the war department yesterday by Captain S. M. Parker, commandant of cadets. Instead, all those who would apply for commissions will apply for permission to attend the officers' reserve training camp at Fort Snelling, Minn., the orders state.

After three months of intensive drill at the training camp, the men will be either granted commissions in the corps or rejected. Those who have already been examined and recommended will be granted permission to attend the training camp without further formality if they so desire.

In the case of examinations not completed, the applicants will be authorized to appear for examination for the training camp. Those whose examinations have been completed, however, will be admitted to the camp, it is inferred.

The training station at Fort Snelling will be opened May 8, and men will be prepared for all branches of the service for three months.

LISTING STUDENTS RESOURCES IN WAR

INTERCOLLEGIATE INTELLIGENCE BUREAU IS COMPILING INFORMATION FOR REFERENCE

A systematic canvass of the University to find out what those that make it up can offer to help in the war has been begun by the Intercollegiate Intelligence bureau, a national organization of representatives of the larger universities. Letters are being sent out to juniors, seniors, alumni, and officers of the institution asking information in regard to the resources for offense and defense. Prof. C. J. Frankforter, of the department of chemistry, is adjutant in charge of the work at Nebraska.

The letter provide for the accumulation of exhaustive information. Besides covering the capabilities of the individuals, it also takes into consideration various property which would be voluntarily placed at the service of the government in time of emergency.

The List of Questions

Among the things asked are whether the recipient has had military training, and if so, in what branch of service; what scientific, professional, technical, or commercial training or experience; and the equipment owned which would be placed at the service of the government in an emergency. The card also asks for the person's general atti-

The paper outlined the international questions involved, and America's position before and after declaring a state of war with the German empire.

ENGINEERS' WEEK BEGINS MONDAY

COMMITTEE COMPLETING PLANS FOR ANNUAL PROGRAM—BANQUET SATURDAY

Plans for Engineers' week, April 23 to 28, are being rapidly completed by the general committee. The annual program will have the usual features, except that it has been necessary to omit Engineers' night because the mechanical engineering building was not available.

The smoker will be held in Fraternity hall Wednesday with M. F. Clark, '17, in charge. Thursday Convocation will be devoted to the Engineers, who will give a program which is being prepared by I. B. Starr, '17. Friday is field day, under the direction of Charles E. Glasser, '17.

The banquet, which is always the big event in the week, will be held at the Lincoln hotel Saturday evening. An interesting toast list, including faculty, student, and alumni engineers, is in the process of preparation. E. M. Kalecek, '18, is chairman of the banquet committee.

The general committee on the week will meet today with Adolf Blunk, '17, president of the Engineering society, to complete plans for Convocation and field day.

PARADE PLANS FOR PATRIOTIC PROGRAM

FIFE AND DRUM CORPS AND TREASURED FLAGS TO LEAD

Regents, Faculty, Cadets, Bands and Students to Have Sections in Marching Column

To the cadence of the stirring fife and drum music that has led Uncle Sam's soldiers to battle since Bunker Hill, and with flags that were torn by bullets in the Civil and Spanish-American wars, five thousand students, alumni and faculty members will march from the University to the city auditorium next Tuesday, as a part of the Cornhusker patriotic celebration.

The executive committee for the students on the celebration met yesterday to shape the plans for the showing of Americanism. The committee decided upon the order for the march, and also decided that it would be better to call upon different students for impromptu expressions of patriotism, rather than to have just one student take part in the speeches of the morning.

The organization for the parade will commence at 9 o'clock next Tuesday morning. Classes will be dismissed and the buildings locked. Every student is expected to take part in the parade.

Order of Marching

The organizations that will march in order are as follows:

- Fife and drum corps.
- Famous Nebraska battle flags.
- Regents and chancellor.
- University faculty.
- Alumni.
- Cadet band.
- Regiment of cadets.
- University women students, by classes.
- Second cadet band.
- University men by colleges and classes.

Agricultural, engineering, law and pre-medical colleges, arts and science colleges by classes.

The parade will go south on Eleventh street to O street, east on O street to Thirteenth, south on Thirteenth to the city auditorium.

The Daily Nebraskan for Monday will announce the places on the campus where the different organizations and classes will gather, so that they can take their places in the parade without confusion.

Professors Buck and Alexander are working for the faculty on the program. Final details will be complete and the full program announced in Monday's Daily Nebraskan.

PLANS COAST TRIP FOR BAND

DIRECTOR C. B. CORNELL ANNOUNCES TENTATIVE ARRANGEMENT FOR CONCERT JOURNEY

A summer concert trip to the Pacific coast is being planned for the University band, C. B. Cornell, director of the band announced Thursday. Mr. Cornell intended to lay the plan before Chancellor Avery during the day.

"The tentative plan would permit the band to leave Lincoln about the middle of June," said Mr. Cornell. "The band would go as a military organization. We would stage drills every place we stopped. It would be a sixty-day trip.

"A Chicago booking agent will make contracts for the concert dates."

The idea sounded good to members of the band who were told about it by Mr. Cornell Thursday. The director's plans are to have the band men take military drill during the remainder of the school term in preparation for the exhibition drills on the trip.
