Senior Poem By Chas. E. Schofield.
 From the far-flung plain bathed in sunset light,
 From the city that lies at our feet, From the rough board shack of the homestead-right, From where culture and opulence meet,
 From the denims of toil and the broadcloth of ease, From the desk and the farm and the mill, From nations and peoples over the seas,
 From valley and desert and hill, From lonely firesides and crowded marts,
 With plenty or poverty blest, With the hopes and ambitions and dreams of our hearts, We have come on our eager quest.

The quest is for wisdom, the wealth of the soul,
 For freedom, the fruitage of truth, For training the head and the hand to control
 The passions and powers of youth.

The quest is for pleasure and freedom from care,
 A joy that will never grow old;
 That every day's storm may swiftly be clear
 In a sunset of crimson and gold.

The quest is for friendship, the adamant band
 That reaches the ends of the earth.
 And knits heart to heart, and joins hand to hand Without question of station or birth.

The quest is for vision, for golden ideals,
 The ramparts of fire of the soul, The beaconing light that ever reveals
 A higher and nobler goal.

The quest is for service, a vision of need,
 The niche in the wall we may fill And give to the world in word and in deed
 A balm for its sorrow and ill.

To thee, O Nebraska, we come in our quest, Thy bountiful gifts to receive;
 We take them in trust and return thee our best,
 The life thou has taught us to live.

We give thee our hope, Alma Mater we love,
 The spirit unconquered of youth, We give thee our faith that the long years will prove The worth of thy passion for truth.

We give thee our highest endeavor the time That we linger within thy iron gates, We give thee the strength of our life at its prime,
 And all that in future awaits.

We give thee our loyalty thru all the years, Whatever thy battles may be;
 And true to thy vision the children thou rear'st, Thy sons and thy daughters, will be.

We give thee what measure of honor we win, Thy crown is our caplet of fame—May never Nebraska, because of our sin,
 Be humbled in sorrow and shame.

We come from the Yesterday into Today
 And on to Tomorrow go;
 When we shall meet again, who shall say?
 For who can the future know?

Today we are here; Tomorrow, where?
 "All Hail!" and "Farewell!" in a breath;
 Yet each on our way will a vision bear Hid deep in the heart beneath, A vision of life with Nebraska men, Where a man is a man for his worth,
 And not for his wealth, and not for his kin,
 And not for his station or birth.

A vision undimmed by the mists of the years:

To this will we ever be true; Our words and our deeds, our joys and our tears, O Nebraska, we pledge them to you.

REGENTS LET NEW BUILDING CONTRACT

coln for $13,495, and the contract for plumbing to the Weyant Plumbing & Heating company of Lincoln for $10,- 915.

Appointments Made
 The following new appointments were made: Cleo B. Austin, clerical and storeroom assistant in agricultural botany; Harry N. Thomas, county agent of Dawes county, in place of George Unruh; Robert J. Drake, scholar in American history, in place of Alice Frum; Herbert J. S. Devries, assistant cost clerk in department of construction; Hubbard R. Cross, engineer in Dairy building; Nita Fagan, stenographer in dairy husbandry, in place of Edith Johnson; Mildred P.
 French, bulletin clerk, in place of Helen Richards; Cora Austin, assistant in office of purchasing agent, in place of C. Currie.

Miss Florence I. McGahey was made acting registrar. While this position has been for many years held by a man, it is not improbable that Miss McGahey will be promoted to the full position at some future meeting of the board.

The budget for the summer session was approved. The board, however, thought it desirable to announce to the professors that in case any class, owing to war or other conditions, is unduly small, this par-
 Any professor who feels it undesirable to plan to remain in Lincoln on the uncertainty of employment in the summer session, will be permitted to cancel his engagement.

The board authorized the statement that if general salary increases could not be made on the part of its officers and other employees, and inasmuch as it is impossible to increase salaries it is inexpedient to increase titles.

Postpone Consideration of Budget
 The details of the budget were not considered, but the chancellor and the efficiency agent were directed to go over the budget in the hope that they could prepare one for adoption at another meeting of the board in which no deficit would appear. This will be presented to the board at an adjourned meeting to be held Friday, May 4.

The shortage of funds at the University will be a surprise to some people who feel that the legislature was appropriating money freely. The legislature has appropriated, to be spent under the regents, more money than ever before, but the increases will go to the hospital and laboratory buildings of the Medical college at Omaha, the work for entomology, an additional general farm, a special fruit farm, increases in the work of the conservation survey, increase in the North Platte substation, and several other items which are expended under the regents but which do not contribute directly to the work of instruction and investigation at the University and University Farm.

The regents experienced greater difficulty than at any time during the last twenty years in planning for a coming biennium to the work of the University proper on the basis of the current year. A decrease in the probable attendance owing to war conditions will doubtless make the appointment of some new instructors unnecessary. The board regrets exceedingly its inability to reward in a substantial way those who have rendered faithful service, and it calls the attention of the people of the state to the fact that the item for salaries and maintenance of the two main plants was the only special item called to the attention of the legislature for which the regents were unable to get any serious consideration.

Mrs. A. E. Davisson and Miss Maude Wilson, faculty members of the school of agriculture, have been made state heads of the department of food production and conservation of the National League for Women's Service. Miss Louise Pound, professor of English at the University, was appointed state head of the Bulletin bureau of the league. She will be assisted by Miss Helen Mitchell.
