UNDERCLASS TAKE CAUSE OF ORPHANS

FRESHMEN AND SOPHOMORES TO MEET THURSDAY MORNING

Professors Fling and LeRossignol Will Tell of Call of the French War Orphans

Mass meetings of the freshmen and sophomore classes have been called for Thursday morning at 11:30 to consider means for organizing Nebraska towns this summer to take care of the French war orphans. The class of first year students will meet in the Temple theatre, and the sophomores in Memorial hall.

President Will Johnson of the sophomore class, and Vice-President Alice Temple of the freshmen, called the meetings yesterday. Prof. F. M. Fling of the department of European history and Prof. J. E. LeRossignol of the school of commerce, will speak at the meetings.

The Orphan Fund

The purpose of the mass meetings, besides gathering the classes together for the last time this year, and perhaps for the last time that many of them will ever attend a class meeting, will be to consider the work on behalf of the French war orphans. A goodly number of students of both classes, and especially of the freshmen, have been anxious that funds from the class treasury be devoted to supporting for two years French war orphans.

The junior class has already adopted a French baby, and the senior class is expected to do so as its gift to the University and to the cause of better international feeling and humanity. Not to be outdone by the two upper classes, the freshmen and sophomores expect to take the matter in hand.

For the Home Towns

One of the things of far-reaching importance that is expected to come out of the meetings tomorrow, is the organization of a number of students who will take to their home towns in the state the idea of this splendid gift to France, and see that their towns support one or more of the babies whose fathers have given their lives for the cause of liberty.

The work of organizing the under classes for this work has been put in charge of Miss Laura Pfeiffer, associate professor of European history. Both Professor Fling and Professor LeRossignol, who will speak, are well known to University audiences, and the announcement that they will talk is expected to bring out a great many students.

WILL HELP UNCLE SAM THIS SUMMER

MASS MEETING OF GIRLS TOMORROW TO LAY PLANS

The girls' mass meeting to be held at 7 o'clock Thursday evening in the Temple, has already aroused much interest among the University women. Plans are being made to go in groups from the various houses and a capacity attendance is expected.

Mrs. Emma Reed Davison of the University extension service will be present to give information as to what lines of work educated young women should now take up in order to help in the work at home during the war. No other class of women, with the exception of teachers has three months of vacation on its hands. Nobody else has so long a vacation. Miss Davison will endeavor to tell how this vacation can be used most advantageously in the interests of Uncle Sam.

The government is putting a man and woman expert on food conservation and preservation in every county in the state. Many of the home economics girls have already applied for these positions.

ALPHA PHIS AND DELTA GAMMAS ADOPT ORPHAN

Two sororities, Alpha Phi and Delta Gamma, have taken the care of two French war orphans for one year into their hands. Jeanne Paris, ten years old, of Champagne le Marais, Vendee, France, is the Alpha Phi ward. Delta Gamma has not yet selected the child it will adopt. The cost of keeping an orphan for a year is estimated at $73.

Jeanne Paris is old enough to write letters and the Alpha Phis look forward to a correspondence with their orphan. The members plan to send a number of little gifts to her throughout the year.

ONE HUNDRED ARE IN CANNING CLASS

UNIVERSITY WOMEN WILL PREPARE THEMSELVES FOR SUMMER

About one hundred girls registered for the canning classes which will be held in room 306, agriculture hall, at the farm campus the latter part of next week. Maude Wilson, of the department of extension, has general charge of the classes. She will be assisted by Prof. Alice Loomis, Julia Vance, and women of the department of home economics.

The Canning Program

There will be three sessions each day, in the morning, afternoon and evening. Beans, peas, tomatoes, carrots, beets, corn, greens, pumpkins and squashes will be canned.

Glass jars have gone up $2 a gross in the last two days on account of their scarcity. Recognizing this the instructors will discuss the old drying methods.

Girls who wish to enroll for these classes must do so by Friday. They may enroll at the table in the library, at the Y. W. C. A. or at Dean Mary Graham's office. There are no registration fees.

KANSAS MEET COMES FRIDAY

CORNHUSKERS AND JAYHAWKS WILL MEET IN TRACK

Nebraska Not Conceding Victory This Year—Townsend and Jackson Leave School

Kansas will be entertained by the Cornhuskers at the annual dual track meet on Friday afternoon instead of Saturday. This is the chance the Nebraskans have been looking forward to for a long time and unless something goes wrong the Jayhawks are due for a mighty stiff tussle when they step on the track on Nebraska field.

The Kansans are coming up, here conceding the Cornhuskers about 20 points without competition, they say. The Nebraska tracksters, however, are not being deceived by the "bear dope." They remember what happened to Minnesota last week after they had been given 28 points at the start.

Some Strange Concessions

Strange as it may seem the Jayhawks are conceding Nebraska 8 points in the very event in which the Cornhuskers didn't have a man entered in the meet last week, the pole vault. They are also giving both places in the hurdles. Whether all these points will be so generously awarded the day of the meet as they have been during the week is a question for speculation.

Nebraska has lost all hope of capturing the mile relay. Both Jackson and Townsend, important members of that team, have left school and there will hardly be time enough to train two men to take their places. It is probable that Grau, half-miler, will step in to one of the places, the other as yet has no likely candidate. "Mike" Finney, hurdler, has been retained until after the meet Saturday at least and possibly until the end of the season.

Nebraska Recruits At Fort Snelling Write Home Of First Days In The Training Camp

Lots to do, an atmosphere of enthusiasm and light-heartedness, and devout thankfulness that the food is good and plentiful, characterize the first letters that have reached Lincoln from Nebraska University's army at Fort Snelling.

Real work has not yet begun for the recruits, but lots of it is in sight. They find the life in camp, as the Nebraskan correspondent puts it: "Like the first days of school in September." These are registration days; study and work and grind will soon begin.

FROM HUSKER RECRUITS

(By Richard Cook.)

Fort Snelling, Minn., May 14 (via St. Paul).—These days at Fort Snelling seem nothing else than the first days of school at Nebraska in September. There are "freshmen" coming in on every train. There is a busy faculty and a hustling registration staff. A man picks out his branch of service just as he picks out a college or department at the University, but all will be trained alike for the first month.

The Nebraska men are certainly not arriving by groups as Nebraskans. They stand in line at the administration building intermingled with Dakotans, Iowans and many more Minnesotans. They do not see many other Nebraskans until there is a little leisure time to scout around and look them up.

Physical Test Gets Two Per Cent

About two per cent of all the men coming fall to pass the physical examinations. Many thought that when they passed the examination upon first application they were fixed for good, but this is sadly not the case. Everybody likes Major Henry S. Greenleaf, who is doing much of the physical examining.

SOPH. GIRLS WIN FROM FRESHMEN

TAKE CONSOLATION BASEBALL GAME YESTERDAY, 12 TO 4

With skill they did not show in the preliminary game last Friday with the juniors, the sophomore girls' baseball team defeated the freshmen, 12 to 4, yesterday morning at 11:30 on the athletic field. The feature of the game was the strong sophomore battery, Helen Hewitt, pitcher; Josephine Strode, catcher, and the excellent fielding of Maquerite Lonam, sophomore outfielder. Josephine Strode made the only home run of the game. Her playing at home plate was remarkably fast.

The Nebraska men have been looking around for Professors Babbitt and Buck, who may have registered by now. This is Monday morning. The men came in in shoals Sunday. Those of us on duty at headquarters did not get off to go for the typhoid vaccination Sunday as others did. The prophylaxis or whatever they call it makes one a little dizzy sometimes. A few are not influenced at all. Many have dull headaches which can be slept off.

The hats came late and the companies were marched to the quartermaster's early this morning to get outfitted. We have been putting the straps on our rifles and taking the oil from the parts. These guns are great things, brand new and very light. We like the hats, too. The uniforms are cool and feel good. We're off of civilian clothes now and glad of it. One doesn't have to wear collars or neckties.

Lots to Eat

Two dramatic students who have forsaken amateur footlights for training camps, Lad Kubik, '17, and Deyo Crane, '19, have written interesting letters to Prof. Alice Howell, head of the dramatic department, in regard to camp life.

The letters follow:

"I have just come back from the doctors who gave me "a shot in the arm" for typhoid, and of course that means that I have succeeded in passing the physical examination. That I shall like the place and the work goes with-

STUDENT COUNCIL VOTE ON MAY 25

STUDENTS WILL PASS ON STUDENT SELF-GOVERNMENT PLAN

Plan Will Be Submitted as a Whole, With Separate Vote on Government Plan

The vote on the plan for a student council, as recommended to the chancellor by the council commission, will be May 25, one week from next Friday. This was announced yesterday by Miss Florence McGahey, acting registrar.

Every student in the University will be asked then to register his approval or disapproval of the plan for a student governing body selected by popular vote, that will have control over and direction of the work of co-relating student activities and exercising minor disciplinary powers.

The plan will be submitted on the ballot in two ways. Students may vote for the plan as a whole, and the eight different provisions will also be submitted separately, so that a student who is against one provision can so register his vote, and vote in favor of the other seven provisions.

If the plan is approved by the student body, it will be presented to the University faculty senate. If approved then, it will become the constitution of the organization of the students for their own self-government, and the first election of members will be held within three weeks after the opening of school next fall.

Since the plan was submitted to the chancellor, the first week in May, it has caused a great deal of campus discussion. In the opinion of those who have been most actively interested in its adoption, it will pass the students by an almost unanimous vote.

out saying, for the place is surely nicely situated and the commanding officers are gentlemen. And as for food, potatoes are on the menu for every meal, and please don't omit the bacon. You ought to see us at mess, lined up with a cup and culinary utensils in one hand and an aluminum plate and dish in the other, patiently waiting for our "hand out." All the men are satisfied and feeling good. Perhaps though all may be sick after the antitoxin works.

I am well protected here with Crane on one side and Wilson from Iowa on the other—and by the way, all writing letters at this time; some using suit cases and others anything they can get a hold of.

"Have seen Ted Metcalfe, Moser, Pascale and many other Lincoln men, not forgetting Carl Peterson.

"As Lad has likely told you he and I are in the same company and bunk beside each other. It is hard to realize that we are in camp and that work, real work starts Tuesday morning.

"We have received our equipment, but owing to my size they are unable to give me my uniform. I expect to receive it tomorrow.

"Our captain is a fine appearing, clean cut looking young chap of about 24 or 25.

"The mess is good and we have plenty. The main difficulty seems to be that it is a very long time between meals. I don't know how it will be when we get into some real work. This training will do wonders for us."
