VOL. XVII, NO. 10.

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA, LINCOLN, TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1917.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

REPRIEVE LIST TOTAL DROPS 87 PER CENT

Only Fifty Students Excused From Drill This Year Against
400 Last Year

SHOWS A DIFFERENT SPIRIT

The list of reprieves and excuses from military drill has been nearly completed by the military department, and shows a decrease of 87 per cent. Against over four hundred excuses granted last semester, only 50 appear upon this list. These men have been excused only because it was absolutely impossible to take the training, half of the excused being men who are working their way through school.

The military department, working short-handed and relying solely upon student and faculty help until the new commandant arrives, has faced the problem of drilling the largest number of raw "recruits" ever in the cadet regiment, and to be able to publish so short a list of "exemptions" this year reflects a great deal of credit upon both the student body and the department. Captain Jeffrey, the assistant commandant, has proved himself very efficient in keeping the excused list down to only those who really were unable to drill. Men whose outside work or physical condition demanded it, were excused, but it has been the rule of the department to exempt only those who were really unable to take the training.

The complete list of reprieves follows:

J. B. Riley, G. Foe, Jo Kirchl, A. Hansen, H. G. Albrecht, W. D. Choate, G. M. Darlington, E. E. Harper, L. Burley, J. Halbersleben, C. L. Webb, H. R. Knapp, Ashley Williams, C. I. Mathews, Gaylord Davis, H. M. Harata, N. L. Tyson, S. Folling, J. M. Bowen, E. Radensky, Geo. E. Hall, Henry Chesen, Louis Friend, O. R. Schaefer, J. W. Cook, I. J. McKenney, E. Lipnitz, E. M. Fogg, G. A. Kenner, David Proushan, R. E. Koken, E. R. Bailey, C. C. Meyer, W. G. Hubbard, J. H. Moyce, R. G. Van Brunt, D. B. Kantor, Edward Farley, L. M. Kyner, Allard Folsom, D. S. Brazda, W. A. Lewis, A. S. Kennedy, L. G. Warne, R. G. Gere, E. A. Brown, W. L. Dudley, Mark Johnson, W. B. Zimmerman, L. A. Kelley, S. O. Israel.

Mrs. Callie Gregory Cuscaden, '01, is doing extension work in the University of California at Presidio. Her husband, Alex Cuscaden, a former University student, is in the training camp at Presidio. Mrs. Cuscaden is head of the volunteer service of the Los Angeles Red Cross.

GIRLS' CLUB STARTS CAMPAIGN TODAY

Contest for Members From Among
All University Women to Begin After Convocation

The annual campaign for members will be launched by the University Girls' club this morning immediately after convocation, and will continue until Thursday evening. As per custom there are two "sides," each striving to get more members than the other. Kathryn Kohl, '19, is captain of the "Whites," and Mildred Gillilan, '19, of the "Reds."

Twenty-four girls will work for members. The club has ninety-six members already, and expects to boost the number to 500 if possible. The club is for all University women. Its object is to help University girls know each other and to foster democracy.

Prof. Webster in South.—Prof. Hutton Webster of the department of social anthropology, spent the latter part of his summer vacation in the southwest, particularly in the neighborhood of Albuquerque and Santa Fe, where he made a study of the Pueblo Indians. These regions furnish much of interest to the archaeologist, for it is here that the Indians may be found in their culture of three and a half centuries ago when first discovered by the Spanish.

Edwin E. Zimerer, '06, who has been practicing law at Nebraska City, is with the Fifth Nebraska at Deming, N. M. He is lieutenant with the Machine gun company.

Professor Hal Truman Beans, '99, A. M. '00, has secured leave-of-absence from Columbia University, New York City, to accept a position with the Aircraft Production board. Professor Beans' work as inspector of materials for the Italian government since the beginning of the war, has commanded recognition.

CLARENCE STERNS, '20, IN ARCHAEOLOGICAL WORK THIS SUMMER

Dr. F. H. Sterns and his brother, Clarence Sterns, '20, a student in the University of Nebraska, were engaged during the summer in archaeological work in Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Colorado. Many objects of interest were secured and some of them have been shipped to the museum of the University. The most notable of these are a great metate, used by the early Indians in grinding food, and some interesting modern Indian pottery. Two kinds are represented, the glazed, black, Santa Clara ware, and the gray, unglazed pottery, with black decorations, both made by the Pueblo Indians.

ART CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS FOR SEMESTER AT FRIDAY MEETING

At a meeting of the Art club Friday afternoon, officers for the semester were elected: Dwight Kirsch, '10, president; Eva Mills, '19, vice-president; Lorena Miller, '19, secretary and treasurer; and Milma Winters, '20, reporter.

All members are invited to attend a picnic Friday afternoon at Epworth park.

NEBRASKANS RECOGNIZED AT DODGE TRAINING CAMP

Corey, Halligan and Moser Mentioned as Great Football
Players at Des Moines

"Tim" Corey, "Vic" Halligan and Ellsworth Moser, all members of Cornhusker football teams, receive recognition no matter whether they are at Nebraska or in the training camps. A copy of the first issue of The Camp Dodger, a weekly paper published by the soldiers at Camp Dodge, Des Moines, Iowa, includes these men in what they call the greatest football team of the middle west which could be made up from their camp. The Camp Dodger is the first paper published by the men of any training camp in the present war.

The article follows:
"Camp Dodge could put one of the

NEBRASKA WOMAN WRITES "KITCHENETTE COOKERY"

Receives Favorable Comment in Boston Herald as Making
Dishwashing a Pastime

Anna Merritt East, '12, of New York City, has recently published a book, "Kitchenette Cookery," which has received favorable comment by the newspapers and magazines of the country. Miss East was formerly New Housekeeping editor of the Ladies' Home Journal. She superintended the Kitchen Movie pictures.

Miss East is well-known as a lecturer on home economics questions. Among her lectures are, "Home Defense Against Mounting Food Prices," "Wartime Housework," "Facing the Facts, Our Dollars and Cents," and "Changing Food Habits in the Philippines."

The Boston Herald says in regard to her book "Even dishwashing appears a pastime in the book. Miss East has nothing to say about calories and proteins or the chemistry of cooking. She confines herself to the simple process and the definite end."

Life comments, "Coincident with the perfecting of scientific intrenchments at the front, the art of intrenchment is being developed at home. So that Anna Merritt East's illustrated guide to Kitchenette Cookery may be bracketed with Lieutenant Smith's work."

UNION LITERARY SOCIETY GIVES STUDENT RECEPTION

A Large Number Enjoy Evening of Readings, Plays and Musical Numbers

Union Literary society gave a reception to University students in Union hall, Temple, Saturday evening. A large number were present.

A program consisting of a whistling solo by Miss Dorothy Rhodes, a novelty farce, "A Pair of Lunatics," by Earl Starboard and Octavia Beck, and a piano selection by Gladice Rohrbach, was given.

Helen Sargent, '05, who manages her ranch near Buffalo, Wyo., has written Annis Chaikin, alumni secretary, that crops are splendid. "At the end of my second year," she writes, "I feel like quoting, 'Veni, vedi, vinci!'"

GRIDIRON WARRIORS CONTINUE GRIND

Freshmen Are the Butt of the Varsity Practice and Make
No Complaint

TO PLAY WESLEYAN FIRST

Freshmen football candidates had their first opportunity to see what they could do against the varsity when it came to advancing the ball, at yesterday's practice. The first year men showed up well at forward passing and made several long advances with Coach Frank tossing the ball.

The varsity was not to be outdone by the Frosh team and made a number of sensational tosses and catches for good gains. Dobson, McMahon and Otoupalik had an easy time breaking through the scrub line on off-tackle bucks.

One discouraging thing about the practice, from the scrubs' point of view, was that when they intercepted a varsity pass, the varsity still would gain about twenty yards. The scrubs would always have to leave the ball where they caught it and back up, letting the varsity take charge of the ball and try again.

Several varsity men did not get into the scrimmage last night. Minor injuries accounted for most of the absentees. No one is on the seriously injured list as yet, although a number of the men are complaining of bad bruises and cuts.

A game with the freshmen team is scheduled for next Saturday. It will bear all the earmarks of a regular game and will give fans a good chance to get a line on the material for the coming season. There will be no charge for the game and Coach Stewart has invited every student to get out and start the season right.

One week from Saturday the season will be officially inaugurated when the Cornhuskers battle the Wesleyan Coyotes. It is an acknowledged fact that the game was taken on merely as a practice session. However, those who saw the Wesleyan game last year will realize that Coach Kline of the Methodists, will probably have something up his sleeve that will have a real thrill in it for the bleacherites. The Methodists have a number of speedy men on the squad and it is possible that a score might appear on their side of the ledger before the final whistle has blown.

Wilder Has Place On Nebraska's Strong Line

Harold Wilder, who is perfectly tame except when he is on the football field, is starting his second year as a member of the Nebraska football team. His services were thought at the first of the season to have been lost to the team, but much to the joy of fans and coaches he put in his appearance before the end of the first week of school and proceed to take his regular place in the lineup.

Wilder played a steady consistent game all through the season last year up to the Notre Dame game. In that game he showed as much fight, ability and enthusiasm as any guard on a Nebraska team has displayed in recent years. With the Catholic giants towering above him on both sides he refused to believe that they were better men than he was and as the game went on succeeded in proving to the spectators that they were not as good men as he was.

Wilder will have no trouble in holding his place this year and promises to become one of the greatest linemen of recent years.

ELIZABETH LACY IS NEW INSTRUCTOR OF FOOD STUDY AT FARM

Miss Elizabeth Lacy arrived here Friday from Sheridan, Wyo., to take Miss Lella F. Corbin's place at the state farm. Miss Corbin was an instructor in food study in the home economics department until three weeks ago.

Miss Lacy is a graduate of the Goucher College for Women at Boston, and received her home economics degree last year from Simmons college. She has been connected with the food conservation work in Wyoming this summer.

SERBIAN BENEFIT FLAG DAY TO BE OBSERVED ON CAMPUS TOMORROW

A Serbian benefit flag day will be observed by the University tomorrow. The Black Masques, assisted by the Silver Serpents, have charge of the arrangements. Madam Yefish, who is here from Serbia in the interests of her people, and who spoke at convocation last Tuesday morning, will talk to the two societies this evening.

Serbian flags will be sold. No definite price will be asked, students will be allowed to give whatever they can.

STUDENTS ASKED TO REGISTER FOR LEAGUE

Purpose of League of Second Generation Outlined by Miss
Annis Chaikin

Plans are being made for the renewal of the League of the Second Generation which was organized last year. All students whose father or mother attended the University are asked to leave their name with Annis Chaikin, alumni secretary, whose office is in the basement of the Administration building.

"The purpose of the league is to make closer the bond between former University students who are sending their children to the University, and their Alma Mater and to encourage other alumni to send their children to school here," Miss Chaikin said in an interview yesterday.

OHIO COMMANDANT MAKES PREDICTION

Believes United States Will Have
Universal Military Training
After the War

"After this war is ended, the United States will have universal military training," is the opinion which Major George L. Converse expressed during his annual lecture of instructions to the freshmen cadets of the University of Ohio yesterday in the chapel.

"For 40 years this country has hesitated and neglected military matters," said Major Converse. "We are paying the price for these 40 years. Now we are paying the price in millions of dollars which we are spending for makeshift preparation. Soon we will be paying the price with the blood of our young men in France."

"In our haste to make up for the 40 years of neglect, we are constructing temporary cantonments, which at the best will not last more than two or three years, unless extensively reconstructed. And the camps and buildings must be reconstructed or new ones built because after this war is ended, the United States will have universal military training," declared Major Converse.

"We have had public men," he continued, "who have said, 'A million men would spring to arms over night.' This war is showing us that a million men are not a million soldiers."

UNIVERSITY ENGINEERING SOCIETY TO MEET WEDNESDAY EVENING

A meeting of the University of Nebraska Engineering society will be held at 7:30 Wednesday evening in M. E. 206. This meeting is particularly for freshmen. Each department of the college of engineering will be represented by a faculty member who will give a short talk. R. B. Saxon, '18, is president of the society.

Members of the class of '17 are asked to send in their addresses to the alumni secretary so that the next issue of the alumni journal can be sent to them.

Roscoe J. Anderson, '14, who is practicing law at Redding, California, has been made a member of the California state central committee for the second liberty bond campaign.

FRESHMEN TO HAVE CONVOCATION TODAY

One of the Largest Attendances
of Any Meeting of the Year
Expected

GREEN CAPS OUT TODAY

At 11 o'clock today will be held the annual freshmen convocation. The freshmen girls will meet in Temple theatre and the men will meet in Memorial hall. This annual event takes the place of the regular convocation.

In Memorial hall the Innocents, senior men's organization, will have charge of the meeting, and in the Temple the Black Masques, senior girls' society, will have charge.

In connection with the men's meeting it is announced that all freshmen will be expected to wear their green caps. From today until the Olympics they must continue to wear them and after that until cold weather unless they are winners of the annual class scrap.

The program in Memorial hall for men will be opened with music by the University band. The men will then receive their first lesson in University rooting. Dwight P. Thomas and Merle Townsend will lead the songs and yells. The first of the talks will be given by Executive Dean Carl E. Engberg. The dean has been watching freshmen come from all directions and go in all direction for a number of years in the University, and will tell of some of his observations. Following the dean, talks will be given by Ed Shaw, captain of the Cornhusker football team; Wayne Townsend and Ivan Beede, telling of the different work which the student may do in the way of school activities.

At the meeting for the girls in the Temple, a program of music and short talks will be given. Miss Amanda Heppner, dean of women, will speak and Dr. Louise Pound, of the department of English literature, will tell of the openings for freshmen girls in athletics. Edith Youngblut, president of the Girls' club, and Valentine Minford of the Y. W. C. A., will speak of the opportunities in the fields which they represent. Jean Burroughs will speak of journalistic work. Francis Whitmore and Lillian Wirt will lead the yells. Mrs. Carrie B. Raymond, director of music, will play the piano and Dr. Winifred Hyde, associate professor of psychology, will lead the singing.

The committee in charge of the men's meeting advise that if the supply of green caps become exhausted orders will be taken at the College Book store.

REGISTRATION TODAY FOR DRAMATIC TRYOUTS

Time Extended For One Hour at 11 O'clock Today—60 Have Registered

The time for registration for Dramatic club tryouts has been extended so that all students who have not registered and wish to, may do so from 11 until 12 today in front of U 106. This will be the last chance to register for those who wish to try out.

A larger number of men than usual had registered yesterday—the total number was sixty, of whom twenty-five were men. The tryouts will be held at the Temple theatre Thursday evening of this week.

W. L. M. McKay, '98, of Evanston, Illinois, is president of the McKay Mailing Machine company of Chicago.

L. E. Norris, ex-'17, of Falls City, who received his commission as first lieutenant of the infantry in the regular army from Fort Leavenworth, Kan., visited engineering headquarters yesterday. Lieutenant Norris goes to Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind. He was a student in the department of architectural engineering.

NEBRASKAN FREE TO UNIVERSITY SOLDIERS

Believing that Nebraska men actively engaged in the war are just as anxious for news from the campus as their former classmates are for word from them, the management of The Nebraskan will send the paper free of charge to every Cornhusker soldier whose address is known. You can help by sending lists of addresses to The Nebraskan, either mailing them to Station A or telephoning them to the business office, B-2-97.
