UNDERCLASSES BATTLE TO SCORELESS TIE IN SECOND INTERCLASS CONTEST

First-Year Men Best Ground Gainers

SECOND CLASH TOMORROW

Benkins Stars For the Yearlings—Redelfs and Eldridge the Bright Spots in Second Year Team

By Dwight P. Thomas

The freshmen and sophomore football teams failed to show which was the superior eleven when they met on Nebraska field yesterday afternoon. The two teams battled for forty minutes and at the end of that time the score was the same as it was at the beginning in favor of the freshmen.

Both classes played a scrappy brand of ball, but the first year men must be given the credit of playing the best game. Melvin Benkins, right half for the freshmen, was the star of the day (a rather unusual phenomenon at that). He was able to do about as he wished with the sophomore ends and line, being good for repeated long gains. The work of Redelfs and Eldridge in the sophomore line, was the only bright spot in that team's weird attempt. (It was rumored that the number of coaches for this team who could be counted by the scores, had something to do with its inability to make consistent gains.)

For most of the game the ball hung close to the center of the field with the freshmen able to make slightly better gains than the second year men, during the first two quarters. In the third quarter the sophomores took a brace and carried the pigskin into the freshmen eleven's territory. At the beginning of the fourth quarter, however, the first year men got together and on several end runs by Benkins and a few line bucks they carried the ball to the sophomore ten yard line, where it was when the game ended.

Second Game Tomorrow

It is probable that another game will be played by the teams Thursday afternoon in another attempt to pick the eleven that is to oppose the juniors in the championship match Saturday. It is practically conceded that either of the underclass teams will be able to take a fall out of the third year eleven.

The lineup follows:

Sophomores—	Freshmen
Simpson	Olson
Redelfs	Hoyt
Smith	Lees
Eldridge	Plehn
Rasmussen	Diamond
Peterson	Ernst
Troendly	Thompson
Colton	Newman
Stromer	Chadwick
Wilken	Bekins
Noble	Burnham
Substitutes—	Freshmen, Bailey, Smith, Sophomores, Long, Dally, Sturba.

PROMINENT PHARMACISTS SPEAK TO MEDICAL STUDENTS

Yesterday afternoon Mr. D. J. Fink of Holdrege and Mr. L. W. McConnell of McCook, both of whom are prominent druggists, visited the college of pharmacy. Mr. Fink talked to all the pharmaceutical students, explaining how an ethical drug store could be conducted in a small town and be made a commercially paying proposition when operated upon a properly scientific basis. Mr. Fink conducts a pharmacy at Holdrege after this method and has made a great success of it. He fills prescriptions and sells all kinds of medicine but does not cater to other lines which most pharmacies have. He believes that by conducting his business in such a way, he acquires the confidence of more of the people, increases his trade and as a result makes it a commercial paying proposition.

Leaves for Washington

Miss Edna Bullock, librarian of the legislature reference bureau leaves today for Washington, D. C. where she will spend her vacation as a bibliographical and indexing expert in the information department of the National Red Cross.

Y. W. C. A. BIBLE CLASSES TO BEGIN NEXT WEEK

The Y. W. C. A. Bible study classes for University girls will start next week and will be held in the Y. W. rooms for the first few meetings. The textbooks to be used in this course will be Miss Bertha Conde's book, "The Human Element in the Making of a Christian—Studies in Personal Evangelism." Last year there were 150 girls in the class, which lasted eight weeks. Girls are urged to join this year's classes and to sign up as soon as possible, giving their first and second choice as to the time for classes. Following are the times when classes can be held.

Monday—3-4, 5-6 and 7-8 o'clock.
Tuesday—4-5 o'clock.
Wednesday—10-11, 1-2, 3-4, 4-5, 5-6 and 7-8 o'clock.
Thursday—3-4, 4-5, 5-6 and 7-8 o'clock.
Friday—11-12 and 5-6 o'clock.

PROSPECTS ARE GLOOMY

Syracuse Has Ideal Backfield in Two Speeders and Two Line Smashers—Line Is Heavy

Syracuse will not be the only team on Nebraska field Thanksgiving day that will be able to play all kinds of football. The easterners have been known for their ability to wear out opponents by smashing tactics in the early stages of the game, and then flashing a brilliant end running game in the final quarters. The Cornhuskers will probably have somewhat the same kind of a game when they meet the Orange representatives.

Coach Stewart kept his men busy late last evening learning new formations and some new tricks in the aerial game which will be presented for the New Yorkers' entertainment.

A hard scrimmage with the varsity lugging the ball, was followed by a lighter one in which forward passing played the principal part.

Physical Condition Fair

Most of the members of the team are in fair physical condition. Schellenberg and Rhodes suffered the most severely in the Kansas game and have been working back into condition rather slowly. They will however be able to go at full speed before the end of the week, provided no more injuries occur.

Nebraska's chances of defeating the Syracuse contingent appear, to be fainter as each day passes. No one denies that the Orange eleven is superior to Michigan by several points, and that it is, probably, the equal of any team in the east. It is also practically certain that the easterners will be at their at Nebraska in order to leave as good an impression on westerners of the way eastern football is played, as is possible.

Syracuse Has Team De Luxe

If weight and speed, combined with experience and ability have anything to do with making up a good football team, the Syracuse eleven should be

PLAN MONSTER RALLY TO START FINAL DRIVE IN RED TRIANGLE CAMPAIGN

Classes Excused Friday From Ten to Twelve O'clock

PROGRAM AT AUDITORIUM

Big Drive Will Be Made Friday and Monday to Raise Nebraska's Quota

All classes will be excused Friday morning from 10 to 12 o'clock, according to the order of Chancellor Samuel Avery, in order that all students may attend an all-University patriotic parade and rally, for the purpose of rousing Nebraska students to show real Nebraska spirit in the Y. M. C. A. Red Triangle Friendship fund.

In connection with the war work the chancellor has issued the following letter to Nebraska students:

To the Students, the Teaching and Administrative Force of the University:

I have just returned from a trip to Washington on official business and find a report of the Red Triangle campaign awaiting me. An analysis of the returns is in part gratifying to those who have the welfare of the country and the soldiers at heart. In part it is disappointing.

On consultation with the various committees, it seems well to continue the campaign during the present week and see if the amount pledged by representatives of the University, namely, $15,000 cannot be obtained. Schools with not one-twentieth of our financial resources have raised over $1,000. Ames has given $25,000. Failure in the campaign at this time would produce a most unfortunate impression in the state.

Severe Economy Necessary

I am perfectly aware that many students are poor and that salaries are relatively low in the University and that living expenses are high. Nevertheless we must win the war or nothing that we hold dear will be worth possessing. We should contribute to the work of the Y. M. C. A. if we have to go barefoot next summer.

From a visit to various camps I am convinced that the war will be won through the spirit of the American soldier. In welding together a military machine that can cope with that of Germany the Y. M. C. A. is an important factor. It is the soldier's club house. It is the place where he writes his letters home. It is the place where he can find a little rest and recreation. As one of the militiamen from the Mexican border said to me last summer, "We fellows just couldn't get along without the Y. M."

Everyone On Pledge List

May we not have on the subscription list the names of all connected with the University as faculty, other employees, or students? Will not some of those who are in relatively comfortable circumstances increase subscriptions already made? Should we not give our money freely in view of the fact the very existence of America as a nation worthy of the respect of man-

WILL ARRANGE SCHEDULE FOR VARSITY DEBATING

Prof. M. M. Fogg Announces Inter-Collegiate Debates Will Be Held This Year

Inter-collegiate debate plans for this year has been delayed by the many difficulties presented by the war which make schedules practically impossible. Prof. M. M. Fogg, who has been in charge of the debating teams for Nebraska since 1902, announces that some agreement will be arranged with another college in a short time.

A change in the usual program has taken place in the arrangement to match Kansas against Missouri on the question "Resolved that the terms of settlement of this war should include the establishment of a league to enforce peace." Last year Nebraska won over Kansas in both contests held in Lincoln and Lawrence. It is not known at present who will be placed against the Cornhusker representatives this season but former Nebraska teams have established a reputation that will warrant a schedule with the strongest teams.

Professor Fogg will be in charge of the work this year but his work for the government in the defense council and the four-minute men league has prevented him from giving the usual amount of attention to the debating teams. He has been corresponding with several colleges about the arrangement of a schedule and intimates that something definite will be known about the matter within the next week.

Announcement will be made for the tryouts for the varsity debate team after the settlement of the schedules. The question this year will be similar to the one adopted by the Kansas and Missouri teams, because of the vital relation of the war to the various public and political problems.

U. S. COAST GUARD SERVICE BIDS FOR UNIVERSITY MEN

All Between Ages of 18 and 25 May Register Now for Examinations December 15

Cadets and cadet engineers of the University will have an opportunity to enlist in the United States coast service by registering now to take the examinations. Captain Godfrey L. Carden of the United States coast guard service has sent word that qualifications for that branch be made as soon as possible. If enough men sign up for this work an officer will be sent to the University December 15 to make examinations both physical and as to the amount of knowledge that the applicants have regarding the service. Those who pass the government requirements will be sent to New London, Conn., for a year's training. During that time they receive pay and rations. When they have completed the course commissions will be given them and they will rank as commissioned officers in the national army.

The nature of the work is chiefly life saving but since the war, the scope of the service with the United States navy. There are at present a large number from this branch of service in European waters with the submarine chasers and other divisions of the navy which have been dispatched to those territories to eliminate the submarine peril.

The work and requirements for entrance into the service will be explained in detail at the engineering society which will be held in M. E. laboratory Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. All university men are invited to attend this meeting. Any one between the ages of eighteen and twenty-five is eligible and may apply to either Prof. L. F. Seaton or Dean L. A. Sherman for further information.

Julia Lorrence Heads Mathematics Club

Julia Lorrence was elected president and Frances R. Botkin was made vice-president of the Mathematical club at a meeting held in Faculty hall Friday evening, November 9.

Announcement of prizes for the contests held last year were also announced. Those receiving awards are: First, Alva Sikes; second, Julia Lorrence; third, William F. Wolfe.

New members elected at this meeting: Geneva Donaldson, Ruth Hall, H. M. Hirata, Jean Landale, L. Nelson, J. P. Peterson, Dorothy Davis, Bernice Downing, Bess Sherman, Laura Johnson, Harriet Raméy.

The following program was given: "Selected Facts of Projective Geometry," Frances Botkin; Report of Mathematical association, Dr. A. L. Candy.

War Affects Orphanage

The Christian Home orphanage at Council Bluffs, Ia., is feeling seriously the effects of the war. The numerous calls for funds for the prosecution of the war, has greatly affected receipts at the home, and the management finds itself confronted by a debt of $6,000 for actual living supplies. An effort is being made to raise this sum at Thanksgiving. The home cares for 500 children annually, and at present time has more than 250 homeless children under its care, and nearly thirty little ones on its waiting list to be admitted as soon as funds and room will permit. The winter season is at hand, when demands on the home are greatest. If you feel that you can help the work at this time, it will be money invested in a good cause. Address the Christian Home Orphanage, Council Bluffs, Ia.

ARRANGE TAXING OF STUDENT FUNCTIONS

Comus Club Dance, Senior Party and Engineers Hop Under Ruling

Ten per cent war tax will be collected on all University social functions that have been held since November 1, as well as on those to follow the inauguration of the tax here, this week. This announcement was made yesterday by the students' activities office.

Action is being taken in accordance with the letter received Saturday by T. A. Williams, agent for student activities, from the office of the internal revenue office at Omaha. In the letter it was stated that the tax, which applies on all theatre and other forms of amusement, will be extended to cover University social functions.

It is believed that no tax will be assessed on "The Piper" since that was given for benefit of the French war orphans. It is thought in the students' activities office that all fraternity or sorority house dances, or any social affairs given by any University organization will be taxed. As questions regarding individual cases come up they will be settled by reference to the war revenue office at Omaha. So far, the only affair of the activities office that will be affected by this provision is the Comus club dance, held last Saturday, and this has already been arranged for.

The management of the senior hop on Friday and the Engineers hop on Saturday have announced that since the tickets are already out, the tax will be collected at the door. For these affairs the tax will be thirteen cents.

Just what method will be used in collecting the tax on those affairs that have already been held, has not yet been determined, but no difficulty in collecting is anticipated. In the future, the tax will be paid when the ticket is purchased.

Oberlies Will Speak at Mass Meeting Tonight

L. C. Oberlies, '95, will speak at the Young Men's Christian association mid-week devotional meeting tonight in the association rooms at the Temple. Mr. Oberlies has played a prominent part in Nebraska politics and has been state senator. During his term of office he was responsible for a number of political reforms. At present he is one of Lincoln's leading business men and is a member of the board of directors of the association. Every University man is urged to take advantage of the address and the meeting tonight.
