HUSKERS DIVIDE WITH JAYHAWKERS

Nebraska Takes First of Two Game Bout 24-23

TANGLES VALLEY RACE

Friday Night Defeat Loses Championship Possibilities to Kansas Tossers —Take Second Game, 31 to 25

Another tangle was added to the Missouri Valley basketball championship race, when Coach Stewart's scrappy bunch of Cornhusker youngsters split a two-game series Friday and Saturday of last week with the Kansas Jayhawkers, touted as strong contenders for the final title.

Friday night's game was by far the most thrilling game of the series, and called forth a much better style of ball than the Saturday night's mix, ending in a score of 24 to 23, in favor of Nebraska. The game was close throughout, and marked by sensational plays, but had the Cornhuskers played consistently throughout it would have resulted in a larger victory over Coach Hamilton's Jayhawk crew. The first half ended 15 to 8 in the Cornhuskers' favor. Then the Husker defense, which had proved impenetrable so far, slacked up, and a spurt by Kansas brought the score to 23 to 23. With less than a minute to play, Cable Jackson, newly elected captain, dropped a free throw in the ring and counted Nebraska's winning point.

The line-up was as follows:

First Game
Nebraska	Kansas
Jackson (c), rf. 19	Miller, rf. .... 2
Schellenberg, lf. 6	Fearing, rf. .... 2
Gerhart, lf. 0	Bunn, lf. .... 8
Hubka, c. .... 2	Mathews, c. .... 2
Thomas, rg. .... 4	Laslett, rg. .... 2
Eldridge, lf. .... 0	Uhrlaub, lg (c). 7
Spear, lf. .... 2
Total	23
Nebraska 24	Kansas 23

Referee—Miller, Missouri U. Umpire—Schultz, Kansas Aggies. Time of halves—Twenty minutes.

The Second Game

The second game went the other way, Nebraska 25 and Kansas 31. Both teams played on a slump, and seemed to lack effectiveness. The Huskers could not get their scoring machine to working smoothly, and their teamwork was erratic. Little else remains to be said about it, except that it was without dispute the Jayhawkers' game after the first few minutes of play. The line-up for the game Saturday night follows:

Nebraska		Kansas
Jackson, rf. .... 9	Uhrlaub, lg. .... 13	Schellenberg, lf. 10	Laslett, rg. .... 6
Stromer, lf. .... 0	Knoles, rf. .... 0	Hubka, c. .... 4	Mathews, c. .... 4
Eldridge, c. .... 0	Bunn, lf. .... 6	Thomas, rg. .... 2	Miller, rf. .... 0
Phillips, rg. .... 0	Fearing, rf. .... 2	Davis, rg. .... 0
Spear, lf. .... 0		Total	31

SHOW NUMBER OF AWGWAN IS EXTRA SPICY ISSUE

Cartoons and Editorials Together With Good Quality of Jokes Compose Live Edition

The April number of the Awgwan is now on sale at Station A. This is announced as the show number and the very striking cover which is a wood print designed by Dwight Kirsch, is representative of that feature.

"Back Soon," the introductory editorial, tells us that this is not the real spring number, but wishes merely to remind us of the balmy spring days soon to come.

There are some good cartoons, by new staff members, with some, of course, by Dwight Kirsch. The jokes are new and spicy and the origin of many can probably be traced to some well known people in school.

One page of clever cartoons gives some original ideas on How to Win the War. The editorial based on the term "The War Will be Over this Summer" is well developed and deserves no little consideration.

NEBRASKA SCHOOLS UNITE AT STUDENT CONFERENCE

Sixteen Colleges of State Send Delegates to Crete

NOTED SPEAKERS ATTEND

Workers From the Orient Tell of Great Need of Christianity in Those Countries, Especially Armenia

Two hundred and fifty college students of the state of Nebraska were registered at the state Student Volunteer Conference which convened at Doane College, Crete, Nebraska, on Friday evening, February 15. Sixteen colleges were represented, Doane, Wesleyan, Cotner, Hastings, Grand Island, Central City, Bellevue, Fremont, Omaha, York, Peru, Wayne, Franklin Academy, State School of Agriculture, Curtis Aggies, and the State University.

The University delegation was the largest, consisting of seventy-five delegates.

Lay Plans to go "Over the Top"

The conference was planned and conducted by C. S. Holcombe, State college secretary, and Curtis M. Galt of Hastings College, President of State Student Volunteer Band. William H. Ramsauer, a national secretary of the Volunteer movement, presided over the conference. It was addressed by T. W. Graham, who had charge of the Y. M. C. A. work at Fort Snelling during both training camps; W. H. Tinker, of the international committee of the Y. M. C. A.; and Miss Forman and Miss Hall, national Y. W. C. A. workers. They presented to Nebraska students the great Northfield program adopted at the National conference in January, and definite

DR. A. L. CANDY NEW HEAD MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT

To Replace Late Dean Davis—Prof. F. W. Upson to Succeed Prof. B. Dale, Chemistry

Fifty-two faculty recommendations for degrees were confirmed; several faculty appointments were made and many resignations accepted at the annual charter day meeting of the board of regents Friday morning.

Dr. A. L. Candy was made head of the mathematics department to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dean E. W. Davis. He takes the position with a salary of $2,500. No appointment was made of a dean for the arts and science college and Dean C. C. Engberg will probably continue to act in that capacity until the next regular meeting of the regents in April.

The resignation of Prof. Benton Dales as head of the chemistry department was also accepted and Prof. F. W. Upson was appointed to take his place on June 1. Professor Upson, who has been in charge of the chemistry department in the agricultural college, will consolidate the plants at the farm and campus.

The following resignations were accepted: Theodore Thorsen, assistant professor dairy manufacturing; H. N. Colman, assistant professor of dairy husbandry; H. B. Pier, assistant professor animal husbandry; Dr. Benton Dales, head of the chemistry department.

The regents authorized the holding of a good roads conference sometime in March either at the farm campus or the city campus.

What The Cornhusker Will Contain

"Students have expressed their opinion regarding the kind of Cornhusker they want. Now it's up to them." Such was the comment of Herman B. Thompson, business manager of the annual, on the eve of the subscription campaign which starts this morning.

"The general student body uttered the most emphatic protest against eliminating general student activities from the book. Now we are to see whether they really meant it or not. The price has been reduced to the lowest possible point consistent with good material and workmanship. Students who have paid $3 and $3.50 for their Cornhuskers in previous years are going to be given an opportunity to purchase as high a type of book in every way for $2.00 this year.

OTOUPALIK WINS NATIONAL AMATEUR WRESTLING MATCH

Cornhusker Mat Artist Lays Claim to Title

MAKES MINUTE FALL

Disposes of Opponent in Jig Time, in Meet at Gary, Indiana.

Hugo Otoupalik, who for the past two years, as a member of the Cornhusker wrestling team has held the light weight intercollegiate championship of the western conference, won the national title in this division last Saturday at Gary, Ind., when he disposed of two opponents in jig time.

The national amateur meet for this year was held at Gary last week with more than eighty entries. A winner at this meet is regarded by authorities as the official champion for the year.

It took the Cornhusker just one minute to make his first adversary quit. "Otie" waited his chance after the match began and then resorted to his old trick of tossing his opponent over his head. After that was accomplished the rest was a simple matter.

The second man, a representative from the Chicago Central Y. M. C. A. stuck with the Nebraskan throughout the first bout which lasted six minutes but at the end of that time the referee gave Otoupalik the decision.

More than three thousand people watched the matches. Many of the famous sporting officials of the country were in attendance, among them Martin Delaney of Chicago, a well known sport promoter and referee, who officiated at the matches.

WAR TIME SOCIAL HOURS ARE AGAIN EXTENDED

Fuel Saving Committee Lets Down Bars on Early Closing Law

Downtown theatres and moving picture houses and University dances and parties now stay open as late as before the recent early closing rule took effect; or they may stay open as late as they care to as far as the fuel conservation committee is concerned.

This decision was reached Friday and took effect yesterday. The early closing is now but a war time memory. The entire light saving program is now practically abandoned. The streets will be lighted as brightly as ever before except on Thursday and Sunday evenings.

The street cars, of course, are not affected by this change and their last cars will leave about 10:30 as they have been.

If the University wishes to recognize this ruling, important changes can be made in plans for University Night, and—anyway—"ain't it a grand and glorious feelin'?"

Minnesota Daily Is Now Tri-Weekly

Owing to the exodus of men from the University of Minnesota at the outbreak of the war the Minnesota Daily is forced to reduce itself to three editions a week.

POLITICAL CAMPAIGN CLOSES TODAY WITH BUT THREE OFFICES CONTESTED

Candidates for Most Jobs Have Easy Time

TWO CO-EDS IN THE RACE

Bid for Senior President and Junior Managing Editor of Cornhusker Three Seek Platform Job

- For Senior President—Elizabeth Erazim, William Urbach.
- For Junior President—D. V. Stephens
- For Sophomore President—Lawrence Shaw.
- For Freshman President—Jack Landale.
- For Editor 1919 Cornhusker—Robert Wenger.
- For Junior Manager Editor Cornhusker—Harold Gerhart, Ruth Snyder.
- For Business Manager Cornhusker—Lester W. Hanson.
- For Ivy Day Orator—Everet Randall, Earl Jeffrey, Gilbert Eldridge.

The Ballot

Today will mark the close of the general election of the second semester. No great rivalry has developed in the political campaign except for senior president, junior managing editor Cornhusker, and Ivy Day orator. The greatest rivalry is shown by Ivy Day orator, there being three candidates. It was expected that an extension of the time for filing would bring in new applicants but the only new filings were those for Ivy Day orator.

Quietest Election in History

This is probably one of the quietest elections that has been experienced for years. There is usually a grand scrap for every office which occasion well-organized political machines. However, we may see some earnest solicitation this morning on the part of a few.

The election will be held today from 9 o'clock to 12 o'clock this morning and from 2 o'clock to 5 o'clock in the afternoon. The polls will be at the west end of the Armory. The Australian ballot system, installed by order of the board of regents, will be used at this election. The vote of each student will be carefully checked so that there will be no chance of stuffing the ballot box.

Two Co-eds in Race

Two co-eds have entered as candidates for office. Elizabeth Erazim is running against William Urbach for Senior President and Ruth Snyder is opposing Harold Gerhart for Junior Managing Editor of Cornhusker. The co-eds far outnumber the men this year and their vote will be a big factor in these two cases.

Elizabeth Erazim, of Ravenna, has been active in dramatics in her class during all four years she has attended University. This year she is chairman of the Senior class play committee and last year she carried the leading part in the Junior class play. She is a member of the University Dramatic club.

William Urbach is major of the Cadet Battalion. He is a member of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet and is chairman of the University Night committee. He played Senior football this year and is a member of the Palladian Literary society.

D. V. Stephens of Lincoln is the only candidate for presidency of the Junior class. He played on the Junior class football team this year and is chairman of the Junior athletic committee. He is a member of the Saddle and Siroin club at the State Farm.

In the Sophomore class, Lawrence Shaw, of Osceola, is the only candidate. Shaw won his football letter this year and was on the Freshman squad. He was also a member of the Olympic committee in his Freshman year.

Jack Landale alone occupies the Freshman ballot. Landale is from Omaha. He was quite prominent in high school activities and from all indications is worthy of the office he is to hold.

Robert Wenger of Lincoln is the only candidate for the position of editor-in-chief of the Cornhusker. Wenger is the present Junior managing editor and has been connected with the work during his first years in University.

Harold L. Gerhart and Ruth Snyder are out for Junior managing editor of the Cornhusker, Gerhart, of Newman Grove, is a member of the varsity basketball squad. He was editor of the high school annual at Newman Grove. Ruth Snyder is a member of Theta Sigma Phi. She is the society editor of the Daily Nebraskan and a contributor to the Whiskbroom.

Lester Hanson, who is the only candidate for Business Manager of the Cornhusker, is from Omaha. He was connected with the publications of Omaha High School and did work on the city papers. He is at present connected with the State Journal.
