tative colleges. The said scholarship is to be open to the following students:

1. To a regularly matriculated student of either sex, in the senior year, who has successfully accomplished the work of the preceding years and who shall be recommended to the faculty by the professor of economics.

2. A student who is able to speak convincingly in public.

3. A student who has taken full courses containing economics as a major study.

4. A student who will agree without cost, to the society, beyond expenses, to deliver five times a lecture on a subject in allied economics during his or her senior year or during the year following his or her senior year at the election of the society. The manuscript of the lecture to be submitted to the society if desired by the directors.

5. The subject for the lectures will be announced by the society at the beginning of each scholastic year.

Prof. J. E. LeRossignol, dean of the school of commerce, will have charge of the granting of the scholarship, and it will be his duty to select some student of this year's senior class, and recommend the name of the student to the society. FIRST NUMBER OF NEW PUBLICATION APPEARS

"Nebraska History" to Be Put Out Monthly by State Historical Society

The first number of a new monthly publication, "Nebraska History," published by the Nebraska State Historical society, is just off the press. Addison E. Sheldon, president of the Nebraska State Historical society, is the editor of this new magazine.

The editors state in their foreword that "It is the intention to make this journal a piece of popular literature—as distinguished from academic. It will aim to present in clear and attractive form fact, story, comment, and criticism relating to the history of Nebraska—giving the news of historical research and discovery, trying to inspire a sincere love for our commonwealth and an active interest in the truthful record of its affairs."

Plans for this magazine were started five years ago when it was proposed as a publication of the legislative reference bureau. When the state historical society and legislative reference bureau consolidated under one head the plans were modified and it will now be the organ of the Historical society and be mailed to all of its members.

"Cum Laude" Sweaters
 Funny how ubiquitous a sweater is. From matriculation to graduation its uses are multitudinous, its paths devious. And how nomadic, too. The athlete's luxurious shaker, proudly alphabeted, migrates from "stude" to co-ed, from frat house to girl's dorm. If it's a Bradley, it abides there.
