UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA, LINCOLN, FRIDAY, MARCH 15, 1918.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

MUST PAY FOR PHOTOS TODAY

Will Omit All Cornhusker Pictures Unsettled For

MANY STILL DELINQUENT

Is Also Last Day for Getting Sophomore Pictures Taken

Payments on Cornhusker photos have been slowly coming in during the last two days. There yet remains on the list of delinquents, two organizations and 29 students. These must be paid today, Friday, or as stated before, the yearbook will be published without the pictures. Business Manager H. B. Thompson stated last night that he wished to make a final appeal to the students whose names are printed below, that they take it upon themselves to settle for their Cornhusker space immediately, so as not to cause any delay in getting out the book.

The last opportunity for the sophomores to have their pictures taken, is today. The time limit was extended last week, so as to give every sophomore a chance to have his picture taken. No more time will be granted after today. The pictures should be taken at the Townsend Studio, as arrangements have been made by the Cornhusker management with this firm, for prompt and satisfactory service.

The names of those students and organizations who have yet to make their payments follow:

Military Department Gets Latest Model Army Rifles

An U. S. army rifle of the latest model has been received by the military department. It is intended that as many cadets as possible become acquainted with one of the more modern guns. The rifles being used now in drilling are of the 1898 model, and while it cannot be expected, with such a demand in the regular army, that every cadet could be provided with a later model rifle, there is now opportunity for a large number of men to acquaint themselves with the new model.

OPENS LECTURE COURSE ON CIVILIAN RELIEF WORK

Dr. Hattie Williams Gives First of Series of Talks on Red Cross Work

Dr. Hattie Plum Williams of the sociology department gave the first of a series of lectures on "Civilian Relief Work of the Red Cross," before her sociology class Tuesday afternoon. She spoke of the Red Cross in general, telling of its re-organization in 1915 into two distinct branches, the military relief corps and the civilian relief corps.

The latter takes charge of the relief work in case of disaster, lends aid to the families of men in service, and takes care of disabled soldiers returned from the front. Already there are eighty-eight wounded soldiers in New York City and they will be sent out to their homes as soon as possible. This will call for experienced civilian relief secretaries in every community and citizens should prepare to co-operate with the relief committee of their locality.

Next Friday at 3 o'clock Dr. Williams will lecture on the services that can be rendered by individual citizens. These lectures are given especially for the sociology class, but any student interested in the Red Cross work is invited to attend.

REFERENCE BUREAU TO MOVE TO STATE HOUSE

Will Assist Special Legislature — Library Remains Open

On account of the special session of the legislature called to make it possible for Nebraska soldiers to vote, the legislative reference bureau will move to the state house Monday.

The legislative reference bureau always has its headquarters at the capitol during every regular session of the legislature, assisting in drafting bills and legislative research. During these regular sessions the reference library in University hall is closed, but since C. E. Sheldon, director of the reference bureau, believes the special session will last only a week, it has been decided to keep the library open.

Coyotes and Bulldogs to Play on Armory Floor

The seemingly inevitable has at last come to pass, and the Wesleyan Coyotes will meet the Cotner Bulldogs in two games of basketball on the Armory floor next Friday and Saturday. Cotner has tried for some time to get a match with the Coyotes but have always been told to go out and get a reputation or words to that effect. But the Bulldogs were true to their tenacious reputation and kept at it until the University Place bunch finally were forced to yield. From all the dope that is available the matches should be exceptionally fast and hard-fought, and it will pay anyone interested in the game to attend. The Friday game will begin at 8 o'clock, while that on Saturday will be staged in the afternoon, starting at 3:30 o'clock.

Student Officers Study German
The students of the University of Colorado believe that the demand for the United States officers to speak German will be as great as for them to speak French, and accordingly they are studying that language.

GOSPEL TEAM WILL HOLD EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS

Eight University Men to Have Charge of Three Services at Emmanuel Church

Members of the University gospel team will have charge of a series of three evangelistic meetings to be held at the Emmanuel Methodist church beginning Sunday, March 17. The men who will take part in these meetings are Charles Lively, '17; Walter Judd, '20; William Urbach, '18; Roger Jenkins, '18; A. C. Krebs, '18; Lawrence Slater, '21, and Ray Cowen, '19.

Special programs and attractive features have been planned for this Easter campaign among which are solos and quartet music by members of the team. There will be a special chorus directed by Prof. O. L. Kendall.

Emmanuel Methodist church is located at 15th and U streets, close to the campus and University students are urged to attend not only the meetings in charge of the gospel team but any of the other meetings which will be held every evening during the rest of the month at 7:30 o'clock, except Saturday.

GIRLS' CLUB PLANS GOOD TIME FOR CO-ED PARTY

Invite all University Women to Attend Gathering Saturday Afternoon

Dancing, a short, novel program and refreshments are the gist of the entertainment that the University Girls' club is planning to give all University women Saturday afternoon from 2:30 to 5 o'clock, in Music hall at the Temple.

Plans for this gathering are in charge of several special committees composed of members of the club, and they are promising a good time for every girl who comes. Just what will be done is another matter, and the committees are not committing themselves on that subject. However, they do invite every University woman to come out tomorrow afternoon, and assure them that it will be well worth their while.

CO-ED PATRIOTISM TO HELP WIN WAR

Women at Mass Meeting Register for Red Cross

ERNEST SPIRIT PREVAILS

Can Sign Up for Working Hours at Library Any Time Today

Patriotism and enthusiastic loyalty again exhibited themselves within the rank and file of Nebraska's student body, when the co-eds and women of the faculty assembled yesterday morning in what proved to be one of the most inspiring Convocations of the school year. The sincerity with which the Red Cross work will be carried on in the future was demonstrated by the hearty response given the speakers and the readiness with which the women registered for definite hours in Red Cross work.

Edith Yungblut, president of the Girls' club, acted as chairman of the meeting. Prof. Sarka Hrbkova, Miss Kowgill and Mrs. Whitfield were the principal speakers. "What are We Going to Do?" was the theme of the entire program and voluntary induction into the Red Cross service rather than compulsory enlistment was hailed by Nebraska's women with true Nebraska spirit.

Mrs. Whitfield spoke first on the work to be done in Lincoln. She told with pride of the splendid work done in the first drive for surgical dressings and of the reputation Lincoln has established for itself because of the amount accomplished in so short a time. "Make surgical dressings" is the cry of the hour," she declared, "and it should inspire us with a sense of loyalty and a desire for service first as does the strains of our national anthem."

Pleads for Nurses

Miss Kowgill's plea for recruits in the nursing profession stirred everyone with a desire to be of some help. Thirteen thousand nurses are wanted by the government by the first of next January and these nurses, taken from our hospitals, must be supplanted by young women who are willing to lay aside their life's plans for the country's cause. "The objection is often raised that girls entering the profession now will never get into real Red Cross work," Miss Kowgill said, "While there is a possibility that they will not complete their training in time to join the hospital unit in France, they will have rendered just as great a service to their country by taking up the work left by those already trained. A life saved on this side of the water is just as valuable as one saved on that side, and there is much to be done in hospitals, in slums, and every place where health conservation is the watchword."

"That the country is at war, has not seeped through some brains yet," announced Prof. Sarka Hrbkova with her characteristic vigor. "We responded to the Red Cross work for a while and then allowed our impulse to wear off. When you sign up here today, for Red Cross work, feel just as our boys did when they signed up in June. Let us make ourselves feel that we are drafted, that we are bound by an iron-clad agreement between ourselves and our government."

R. E. Gillespie, a former Nebraskan, who has been stationed at Ft. Riley in Red Triangle work, made a few concluding remarks. He expects to go to Russia soon to work with the Salvation army.

May Register Today

All of the girls were asked to sign up for the hours at which they could work at the Red Cross rooms. Registration cards will be in the Library this morning so that the girls may register. The rooms are open Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 1 until 6 o'clock.

Ex-Huskies Get Shemmie's Band for Military Ball

The Nebraska Officers' club, at Camp Dodge, Iowa, has completed arrangements for a military ball to be given in the Hotel Chamberlain at Des Moines, on March 30th. The club is an organization of former Cornhuskers who are now officers at the camp and who have banded together for social reasons. In order to give the affair a Nebraska atmosphere, the club has even arranged with Shemmie for a six-piece jazz band to furnish the music for the ball.

ALUMNI DAY WILL BE HELD ON MAY 25

Executive Committee Completes Plans for Banquet and Reunion

The executive committee of the board of directors of the alumni association met at alumni headquarters Thursday to discuss plans for Alumni Day, May 25. President Pollard presided, and Samuel Rees, '04, of Omaha, Director E. P. Brown, '92, and Charles Roberts, '06, were present. The alumni banquet and reunion will be held as usual at the farm campus. Mr. Roberts was appointed chairman of the entertainment committee to arrange for the automobile tour and special features of the day.

The committee transacted other official business. All the members of the committee with the exception of the vice president, Mrs. E. M. Sunderland, of Omaha, were present.

H. B. Wood, '17, writes that he has school of military aeronautics at Massickers' school, Atlanta, Ga., to the school of military aeronautics at Massachusetts Institute of technology, Cambridge, Mass.

This is the same place to which Prof. E. E. Brackett and Prof. I. D. Wood went about two weeks ago. Cadet Wood is studying French and will also take up aeroplane engineering, the construction of the aeroplane, motor trucks, etc.

Indiana

At Indiana University it is a cherished tradition that the members of Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalistic fraternity, shall set the date and be the first to wear straw hats on the campus when the warm days come.

Pennsylvania

By the action of the trustees of the University of Pennsylvania, Kaiser Wilhelm and Count von Bernstorff have been removed from the roll of honor of the university. The emperor received the degree of L.L. D. in 1905, and von Bernstorff in 1911.

WHISKBROOMS WILL BE READY TUESDAY

Only Limited Number of Girls' Magazine to Be Printed

Only a limited number of Whiskbrooms have been printed, and there will be only one edition. Those who have paid for their subscriptions will get the book in the Student Activities' Office Tuesday from 9 to 5 o'clock. Subscriptions are still being taken at the Students Activities' Office. The extra copies will be on sale in the Library Tuesday.

The Whiskbroom is a 54-page magazine printed in brown ink on egg shell paper, with a broom cover, on which is a cut in darker brown ink. It contains prose (bouquets and brickbats), poetry (wise and otherwise), free and blank verse. Being local in character, it is not competing with Awgwan, and wishes only to show what University of Nebraska girls can do in the way of getting out a representative girls' book.

ENGINEERS TO VIEW SHOPS AT HAVELOCK

Twenty-Five Students Will Go on Annual Inspection Trip

"The Engineers' Annual Inspection Trip," begins tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock, and twenty-five engineers have signed up for the trip. The afternoon will be spent in inspecting the concrete and shop plants at Havelock. At 8 o'clock Saturday morning, the engineers will meet in room 102 M. A. and the first inspection of the day will be held at the Lincoln gas plant. From here, the party will proceed to the Lincoln hotel, where the electric elevator system and kitchen appliances will be examined. During the afternoon the trip will include inspections of the Lincoln Traction Co., Beatrice Creamery Co., and the city pumping station.

The trip is held each year under the auspices of the engineering faculty and a written report of the trip is one of the requirements for graduation in the engineering college.

SPRING FOOTBALL TO START MONDAY

Coach Stewart Will Have Several Assistants

FACES A HARD SEASON

Coaches Want Big Squad of Varsity Candidates Out for Spring Practice

Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock the spring football drive will begin in earnest. All the necessary paraphernalia will be issued Saturday from 9 to 12, and it is hoped that there will be so many candidates out that there will not be near enough stuff to go around. Already several of the last year's squad are working out and with these and the new material that is expected, Nebraska fans have every reason to hope for the best team next year.

"Ed" Shaw, captain of the 1917 champs will be on hand to assist in the coaching, as will "Dusty" Rhodes, the captain-elect for the coming year. Coach Stewart is making an effort to enlist the aid of all the old men in the city, to help in this work. There are a number of Nebraska's old ex-football stars who are in business in Lincoln, and it is expected that a large proportion of them will work with the regular coaching staff.

Stiff Season Ahead

Nebraska has ahead of her the stiffest season that any Missouri Valley team has ever tackled, and it is only through the persistent effort on the part of the men in the University that we will be able to carry it through to a successful close. At present there is only one open date from the first week in October until the season closes on Thanksgiving, and the prospects are that even this rest day may be filled up with a game before very long. But aside from being long the schedule is not the easiest in the world. On the list are such teams as the University of Washington, last year's Pacific Coast champions and Denver university, the leaders in the Rocky Mountain conference, besides such strong teams as Northwestern, Notre Dame and Syracuse. Then there are the usual conference games with Missouri, Iowa and Kansas which are always rather tough propositions. Altogether the coming season promises to be a gruelling grind all the way through and it is going to take a lot of hard and steady work on the part of the team. Consequently the coaches are anxious that a large squad of men report for the spring practice and get things to going as early as possible, besides giving them a chance to see about what they will have to depend on for next year.

CONTINUE CODY CAMPAIGN TODAY

Results Yesterday Satisfactory but More Money Needed

Tagging for the Camp Cody Ball and Bat fund will continue today until the necessary funds are secured.

The campaign carried on yesterday was successful, but it was not extensive enough to reach all University people, and it is expected that those who were not reached yesterday will be approached today. Faculty members and University employes will require most of the attention of solicitors today.

The co-eds who were on the job yesterday were for the most part enthusiastic about the response of the University. Only in a few instances have solicitors been turned down flatly, and in this number were included the usual per cent of chronic headshakers. The canvass, if successful this morning, will show that Nebraskans do not value a quarter in their own pocket more than they do the pleasure of making it possible for some Cornhusker in the service to play at the great out-door game.

Bethany

The Bethany college quintet defeated Washburn Wednesday night by a 37-18 score on the Lindsay court. It was Bethany's ninth conference victory.
