DR. CHARLES GILKEY

To hear and confer with a man with the ability Dr. Gilkey has, is an unusual opportunity for University students. Dr. Gilkey is a remarkably gifted man. His lectures are famous throughout the country.

University students owe it to themselves to attend every lecture Dr. Gilkey gives next week. His presentation of "Universities and the War" will broaden the views of everyone. College men and women should be well-informed on war affairs. Responsibilities are proportional to opportunities.

PHI BETA KAPPA

It is evident from the list of Phi Beta Kappa pledges that students who are "doing things," those who are unselfishly working for the good of the school, feel that high scholarship is very important. There are people who discourage participation in school activities on the ground that such work prevents high scholastic standing. There are people who are eager to argue that relatively high grades come only to those people who do nothing but study. This year's list of the honorary scholarship fraternity shows conclusively that the majority of the best students have not devoted their school life to the pursuit of grades alone.

The majority who were awarded the honor are fraternity men and women. Fraternities deserve credit for this as they include a relatively small per cent of the University students.

It is encouraging to realize that students who can "do things" other than study recognize the importance of scholarship.

THE TENNIS COURTS

Tennis is one of the most popular of spring recreations. Out-of-town students have formed the habit, however, of waiting until vacation to play, as the two courts do not allow everyone an opportunity.

Another reason the demand for more courts is imperative is that there are no other public courts in Lincoln in the vicinity of the University. We are able to borrow swimming pools and auditoriums but we are not able to borrow tennis courts.

THE GIFT BEARING GERMANS

By John Luther Long

If any of the peace proposals which have come from the Teutonic allies had come from nations alive to their international obligations, jealous of their national integrity, scrupulous as to their general honor, the world might be cheered by the hope that, presently, when the scales had fallen from deluded but honest eyes, we might reach a basis which would offer the poor comfort of a gradual reapproachment. But the Teutonic allies are not such nations—not any of them. They are, together, notorious for the lack of the things mentioned above. So, behind each offer camouflaged as peace, hides the grinning skeleton of other wars; of national and personal deceit; of the advance repudiation of the very obligations they propose to take; of the absolute indifference to right; of the utter lack of aggregate and individual honor. All these are gladly lost, sunk, destroyed, in the mad stress to achieve unholy means to unholy ends. It is hopeless to treat for peace with sovereigns so entirely turned from right to wrong thought. But one thing these peace offers with baleful, hidden purposes will do: they will fix forever our determination to conquer this intolerable thing and to turn the minds of the rulers and peoples who have conceived and are fostering it, toward the Right, or else to put them aside from the path of honest nations and men, to live sequestered in their ignominy. One of these two things is to be the judgment of the world against the Teutonic allies.

PROF. M. M. FOGG JUDGE AT INTERSTATE DEBATE

Sole Referee in Contest Between Morningside and South Dakota Wesleyan

Prof. M. M. Fogg returned recently from Sioux City, where last Friday evening he served as sole judge in an interstate debate between Morningside College and South Dakota Wesleyan, on the question, "Resolved, That the United States should have sole power of censorship during the war." The single judge idea is a rather novel occurrence in the field of debate, and because it places all responsibility upon one man, the judge must be unusually experienced and proficient in the art of judging debates.

During vacation, Professor Fogg will go to Wayne, Nebraska, to address the Teachers' Association on problems of the war, and discuss the Four-Minute Men workers of the country.

Y. M. C. A. Has Classes For Foreigners' Groups

Classes for two groups of Greeks have been organized and conducted during the year at the railroad yards through the efforts of the Social Service committee. The war called many of these men away and the number of classes was reduced this year as a result. The classes were in charge of Leo Sturgeon, '21, who taught the ways of American government and business.

have organized groups and enthusiastic discussions are being held.

The Fraternity Leaders
The fraternities and their leaders are as follows:

- Alpha Sigma Phi—W. A. Luke.
- Alpha Tau Omega—Guy E. Reed.
- Alpha Theta Chi—W. W. Bolt.
- Beta Theta Pi—C. A. Hudson.
- Delta Chi—T. F. A. Williams.
- Delta Tau Delta—W. Edgar Gates.
- Delta Upsilon—Prof. E. L. Human.
- Pi Kappa Phi—E. A. Worthley.
- Phi Kappa Psi—Harry G. Hough.
- Sigma Alpha Epsilon—Prof. N. A. Bengston.
- Sigma Chi—Prof. G. O. Virtue.
- Sigma Nu—Ralph Mosely.
- Sigma Phi Epsilon—Dean O. J. Ferguson.

Farm House—Dean C. C. Engberg.
Bushnell Guild—Roy E. Cochran.

Alpha Gamma Rho and Phi Phi Chi have not secured permanent leaders as yet but will before the next meeting. Among non-fraternity men classes are being led in various districts over the city by Prof. H. B. Latimer, Prof. G. A. Loveland, A. C. Krebs, William F. Urbach, Chas. E. Lively, E. M. Brouse, Ernest W. Lundeen, Walter H. Judd, C. L. Christensen, Roger Jenkins and J. Lloyd Lyne.

Want Every Man
The organization of these groups has been as thorough as possible, considering the difficulty in securing leaders, but if there is any man who has not been asked to join a class or is not at present attending one, if he will make it known at the University Y. M. C. A. office, a class can be found that is convenient for him to attend. University women have organized a great number of similar groups, meeting in almost all of the sororities and large women's rooming houses.

The movement for this state was started at a Student Volunteer Convention held at Doane College, Crete, Nebr., February 15-17, which was attended by seventy-five delegates from the University, all of whom reported that it was one of the greatest events of its kind they have ever known. Its influence was more far-reaching than anyone can estimate and it accomplished a great deal towards effecting a more united spirit among Nebraska colleges.

Oakley R. Cox Writes Letter Saying He Has Run Across Number of Cornhuskers

The Soldiers' Committee of the Patriotic League, has just received a letter from Lieut. Oakley R. Cox, ex-'20. He thanked the committee for the Christmas greeting which he received and spoke of meeting many old grads in travels about France. Following is a copy of the letter:

Feb. 27, 1918.

Soldiers' Committee, University of Nebraska.

I received your most welcome remembrance just yesterday, but nevertheless it shows that the old school is still on the job.

In my travels about France I have come across many old grads and some who haven't graduated yet. Just last Sunday I met Capt. Norton Ware, '04, and we got talking about some of the professors and he spoke of Professor Caldwell and Dean Stout. Some more of the younger men are Harry K. Granger, Frank Proudfit, John Lyons and Harold Lilton. They are getting along fine and would sure be glad to hear from any of the students because letters do a lot of good away over here so far from home.

I remain,
Lieut. Oakley R. Cox., ex-'20.

$21

Beginning early last fall, as you are no doubt aware, there have been a number of sharp advances in the wholesale price of wool.

The result is—these Spring Suits if purchased on today's market would cost considerably more.

Naturally, the logical thing for us to do, would be to put a retail price on them, in keeping with their true value today.

Instead of that, however, we are passing a substantial saving over to you, by marking these All Wool, hand tailored, Suits for men and young men at the very low price of $21.00.
