

THE DAILY NEBRASKAN

VOL. XVIII NO. 1

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA, LINCOLN, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1918

PRICE FIVE CENTS

FOOTBALL PROGRAM CONTINUED IN ABSENCE OF OLD SQUAD VETS

Place at Nebraska Assured by Latest Ruling From Government

Coach Kline Begins Work With "N" Men and New Candidates

Sifted down to but three eligible members for the 1918-1919 varsity squad, Husker veterans were few and far between at the opening of the gridiron season on Nebraska Field Monday. Demands made by the war upon the football line-up coupled with difficulties of scholarship leaves the new head coach of the Cornhusker eleven, W. G. Kline, with but a mere handful of real working material, to start the season.

With a determination however that has won for him a reputation worth while in gridiron annals Coach Kline assumed his job with a smile and great hope for favorable developments in the future which he expects to greatly relieve the gravity of the present situation.

There is in the opinion of Coach Kline and other campus authorities no evident danger that athletics this year will fall beneath the standards of previous years. Rather, with the appearance Tuesday of the largest number of new men that have ever sought admittance to this department of the university on the day before registration indications are that there will be no limit to the new material from which to pick from to fill the vacancies left by the men who have been called into the service or who have otherwise been taken from the ranks of the Nebraska eleven.

Athletic Outlook is Bright
With the aid of Paul Schissler as Assistant Coach, Kline thinks it entirely possible to work the new men, eligible for positions, into line on short notice and so prepare for the heavy schedule that lies before the Husker squad this year.

While many perplexing situations have arisen during the course of the summer, recent developments seem to give the assurance that football will have all of the attention which it has enjoyed in past years and that the schedule as provided last year will remain with few if any changes. Although no statement can yet be authorized, it also appears likely that freshmen will be eligible for varsity positions according to an extended campaign for abolishing the Missouri Valley freshmen rule, in which Mr. Kline has taken the initiative in corresponding with all colleges of the Missouri conference. This plan is favorably viewed and will probably be adopted early enough to permit the freshmen to enter the large games of the schedule. Government interference with the proposed Nebraska schedule is not probable.

W. G. Kline

Following the departure of Dr. E. J. Stewart for athletic service in Italian camps W. G. Kline, a University of Illinois graduate and former athletic director at Wesleyan University, was appointed head coach at Nebraska. Coach Kline has a remarkable string of victories to his credit in all branches of intercollegiate sport and is a close student of the gridiron game. Cornhusker followers are fortunate in securing him at this critical period in football history.

S. A. T. C. IS PROPER PROVISION FOR YOUTHS

Chancellor Hastnigs Expresses Benefits of New Army Unit In Statement

Government Made Timely Move in Restraining Enthusiasm of Younger Class

By Acting-Chancellor W. G. Hastings

"Mr. Hastings, I want to ask you about the S. A. T. C. My son, who is just past eighteen and has been at the special military instructors' camp at Fort Sheridan this summer, is hesitating about registering at the University this fall. He is afraid that if he registers at the University and is inducted into the S. A. T. C. it will delay his getting active service in France. I wish you would tell me what the chances are about that."

The mother's inquiry and the reasons of the son for not registering exhibit the whole situation. The boys are seeking to get to France by the shortest and quickest route. Their friends are constrained to try to help them. Fortunately for them and for their country they are not able to go with any such rush. There is no immediate prospect of the eighteen-year-old lad getting to France at once. Voluntary enlistments for the officers' training camps have been suspended. The intention has been announced that there shall be henceforth no such enlistments from civil life. There is a great dearth of competent company officers for the new army, but it is intended henceforth to take only those who have in the Students' Army Training Corps proved themselves to be good officer material, or those who in the vocational training detachments have well qualified themselves, or those who earn advancement by work in the field or in the military camps. No quicker prospect of reaching France, even as a private soldier, is open to the eighteen-year-old high school lad than that which goes through the S. A. T. C. There as soon as he shows himself to be right officer material he is promised a transfer to an officers' training camp. In the absence of such a transfer, it is expected and intended that he shall remain until next July, when he will either be

GOVERNMENT PLAN FOR S. A. T. C. MAKES CAMPUS A MILITARY CAMP

Government to Train Nearly 2,000 Soldiers on University Grounds

Captain E. J. MacIvor Military Director in Charge of Entire Program

Following the establishment early in the summer of a unit of the Student Army Training Corps at the University of Nebraska, officials here have been hard at work making provisions for the two thousand men who are expected to enlist in this branch.

Although complete plans for housing, feeding and instructing members of this new division have not yet been made authorities here have gone ahead and made temporary provisions for the incoming applicants so that immediate organization of the corps upon establishment of uniform plans by the government will be possible when final arrangements have been made.

When notice was given the University early in the summer that this division would be established here, Dean G. R. Chatburn was appointed campaign director of the State of Nebraska. In his new position Dean Chatburn at once began a campaign whereby complete information regarding the S. A. T. C. was sent to every prospective University student and graduates of high schools together with all others eligible to the corps. The result of this extensive campaign was the application of over 1450 men for S. A. T. C. from this state alone to date. It is expected that the total membership in this branch will be possibly over 1500 men.

Capt. MacIvor Heads Corps

Following the appointment of Dean Chatburn as the assignment to this post of Captain E. J. MacIvor, who now has charge of the entire military program at the University of Nebraska. During the latter part of the summer Captain MacIvor has also had charge of the 927 draft selects in the University training detachment.

Until October 1 or following all steps taken by the University will be under-furloughed, discharged, or transferred to some form of service.

The intense longing for active service in France on the part of all these ads, of course, is only an echo of the sentiment that prevails in their homes, and that feeling here in Lincoln is simply an example of what can be found at every educational center in the entire land.

Colonel Roberts remarked last summer in his annual report that the enthusiasm of the lads naturally rises somewhat higher than that of their elders, and he himself noticed how it had been rising steadily during the year. It had been growing during the whole of last school year in the face of defeats and discouragement to the allied forces in Europe. Despite the gloomy prospects, it still burned on. During the summer it has been fanned into a flame by the great military success which began in July. It is enthusiasm for a great moral issue, which will only grow stronger as that issue is better understood and more developed. It certainly seems that the existence of such a feeling, evidently as broad as our country and as uniform as our institutions of high education, bodes ill for the Kaiser and the great scheme of conquest which he set in motion four years ago.

NAMES OF SOUTH AMERICAN COUNTRIES

Mexico is a Spanish rendering, or combination, of Aztec words meaning the place of the war god. Brazil seems to have derived its name from the legendary island of Brazil (later identified with one of the Azores), because it was found to produce a red wood resembling brazil wood. Chile and Peru are of aboriginal origin. Argentina is an invented name based on the Latin word for silver, as Rio de la Plata, the name of its chief river, means silver river in Spanish.

a provisional contract with the Government.

This contract provides that the University authorities shall provide for the housing, subsistence and instruction of soldiers on a basis of $1 per day for each man for housing and subsistence with provisional allowance for costs sustained in instructing the men and otherwise carrying out a complete military and educational program.

The permanent contract will take into account all extra costs that have been sustained by the institution in carrying out the temporary contract and will probably specify the fees to be charged for applicants. Tuition fees will therefore probably be made to cover only the exact operating expenses of the University in handling each member of the S. A. T. C. until he is inducted into the government service from which time his entire expense will be assumed by the government.

Housing Presents Problem

Apparently the most perplexing problem now confronting both University authorities and Captain MacIvor is that of housing the men of this corps. Many suggestions have been offered as a solution to this question but no practical arrangements seem possible for the short time left within which to make provision.

It now appears to be the plan of the executives to take over the Social Science building for a part of the barracks and to requisition other large private dwelling houses east of the campus where such can be easily and quickly turned into regular quarters. Should the necessity arise however it is also probable that fraternity houses will be taken over for this purpose.

Full arrangements are being made for mess service for the additional men brought in by this corps so that the question of feeding the members of the corps efficiently seems fairly solved.

Instruction as regards members of S. A. T. C. is fully accounted for in the contract and provides that the government shall specify and control all courses of instruction although the institution shall have freedom in conducting the other courses in a general way.

SENIOR ADVISORS WILL PROVIDE FOR FRESHMEN

Dean Amanda Heppner Asks All To Register With Her In Armory At Once

With the object of organizing forces for the senior advisors corps, which will be active this year in the aiding of freshman co-eds arriving at the University, Dean Amanda Heppner has announced that every senior co-ed is requested to see her at the Armory building upon their arrival here in the city.

This is the first time that any extensive plans have been attempted to assist freshmen girls who are entering the University. The dean of women, Amanda Heppner, therefore seeks the co-operation of the senior women and asks that all take into consideration that there will be a large number of Freshmen women arriving during the latter part of the week who have not been provided for in any way.

The purpose of the Senior advisors corps will be to meet these new students and direct them to rooming houses and see that they are properly cared for and registered in the University.

THE CINQUE PORTS

"The cinque ports" of England are the "five ports," Dover, Sandwich, Hythe, Romney and Hastings. In Saxon and succeeding times they were bound to furnish ships for the purpose of repelling invasion, and in return were granted special privileges. Rye and Winchelsea were afterward added to them. To be appointed warden of the cinque ports is still considered a very high honor.

DAILY NEBRASKAN IN NEW QUARTERS

Door of West Basement Entrance in University Hall Always Open—Phone B 2816

Not to be caught standing still while events moved so swiftly about it. The Daily Nebraskan changed its rooming place during the summer. The editorial and news office is now located in the southwest room in the basement of University hall and the entrance is now on the west instead of the south. The door swings open at all times and the paper is always at home to visitors.

Although the change was a severe shock to the official organ of the University, recovery has been complete and the paper is glad to be able to greet the students as they register. While the new office is not so convenient as the old it is hoped the professors will continue to come in with their notices and the students will drop around with the little tips on news they have.

The Daily Nebraskan belongs to the University, to the students and members of the faculty and administrative force and is for their use. Reporters will visit the campus offices daily and every announcement or order to be made and every event which may be of interest to the University public will be published. Co-operation with the reporters saves time in the office and insures complete and accurate reports. Suggestions and criticisms are gladly received at all times.

University of Illinois Puts in Big Printing Plant

Urbana, Ill., Sept. 18.—The University of Illinois is going into the printing business on a large scale, with ultimate prospects of being able to turn out any class of work in that line necessary to the institution, at a big saving to the state.

Heretofore this work has been done, for the most part, in the printing establishments of Urbana and Champaign, and the loss of revenue from state contracts will be felt by every one in the business. This feeling is so acute that, in one instance, a long-established shop has closed.

September 15 the university establishment started publishing the Daily Illini, the University of Illinois newspaper, which heretofore has been issued by contract with local concerns. Various college magazines and other publications will be issued from the state shop. The war has upset calculations, to a great extent, and it is not known definitely at this time what publications will be issued this year.

The plant is to be enlarged as occasion demands. Thus far there have been installed a model 19 linotype, monotype, a big Miehle press, three ordinary Gordons, two self-feeding Gordons, a cutter and a folder.

The plant is located in the basement of the administration building in quarters especially adapted to the purpose. It will employ twelve persons.

PSYCHOLOGY DEPARTMENT OFFERS SPECIAL COURSE

Will Give Soldiers Instruction Preparatory to Government Work

A course in psychology that will meet the present demands of the war department to prepare soldiers in this line and at the same time to maintain the previous standard of the department in its relation to educational work, has been outlined for this term of school and prepared on bulletins which are being handed out to the soldiers and regularly enrolled students.

Soldiers are especially directed to Course 11, which will be taught by Dr. Bentley, and which will prepare men for the Psychological branch of the Government service.

Another course discussing French Philosophy and its relation to the war will be taught by Dr. H. B. Alexander in Course 53, French Psychology from Descartes to Bergson. This course will consist of lectures on the growth and genius of French thought from the Renaissance to the present hour.

Teachers college requirements have been reduced from six hours of Psychology to three hours, so that those desiring to take only the minimum amount of this study can fill the requirements by completing Course 3, which will be taught by Dr. Winifred Hyde with Dr. Bentley assisting.

Although the work of the department has been impaired by the death of Dr. H. K. Wolfe, late head of the Department of Philosophy, those now

(Continued on page 2)