VOL. XVIII. NO. 5

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA, LINCOLN, TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1918

PRICE FIVE CENTS

ELIGIBLE UPPERCLASSMEN HAVE GOOD CHANCE TO WIN

Few Men Out to Practice Who Are Available as Varsity Material

Football Games to Be Played Every Saturday For Benefit of Soldiers

With the Iowa game but 12 days away, the prospects Monday evening of a football team of the usual Nebraska calibre—the kind that whips the Dame, Michigan, and the other fellows to a standstill—were not encouraging. But eleven or twelve upperclassmen are working out with the squad who are eligible to play varsity football. Plenty of freshman material is available, but it is yet certain that the first year men will be allowed to play.

Professor R. D. Scott, director of athletics, issued a call last night for upperclassmen in the University who are of sufficient weight and size, come out to football practice, and make an attempt for a place on the first squad. The opportunity for any man of sophomore standing or better, to get on the varsity team are excellent. There are at present just about enough eligible men to make a team. If injuries are sustained in any of the big games, it will be hard to get men who are even available for the substitute positions. If there are any men at all in the upperclasses weighing 165 pounds, even if they are without much football experience, it behooves them to get out on the field and make a try for the University team. Never were the chances for winning a letter so good as they are at this time.

Syracuse and Virginia Cancelled?

It is now practically assured that all games on the Nebraska schedule will be played off as heretofore planned, with the exception of the engagements with West Virginia and Syracuse. These dates have not yet been officially removed from the schedule, but Professor R. D. Scott said yesterday that it could be accepted as certain that these two games would not be played. The expenses at this time would be prohibitive and it is doubtful if the army regulations would permit of the players being away from the University for the length of time required to go to Morgantown, West Virginia.

Syracuse University has also discontinued for the period of the war, the old policy of adopting the traveling schedule that she has followed in previous years. While the war lasts it is probable that the greater part of the inter-sectional games will be discontinued. In their stead will be the games with the army and navy camps that are situated near the University. Nebraska has a game this year with Camp Funston, and the University of Iowa plays the Great Lakes training station on next Saturday at Iowa City.

Capt. MacIvor in Accord

Capt. E. J. MacIvor is heartily in accord with the spirit of all university activities, and especially so with football. During the war period at the university it is especially to the interest of the army authorities to maintain at the university a college spirit similar to that of past years. To do this the authorities plan to have a game for the soldiers every Saturday. By doing this the new men will get the university spirit, and through this medium the morals of the men will be kept at a high pitch.

OVER SIXTY ALREADY ADMITTED TO STUDENT NAVY TRAINING CORPS

Nebraska Quota of 150 Expected to Be Called This Week

Will Not Compete With S. A. T. C.—Can Have Men Sent From Other States

Sixty men had been examined and accepted in the students navy training corps up to two o'clock Monday afternoon. More men may apply to fill the quota of 150, which has been allotted the University of Nebraska. Ensign F. G. Condict, navy recruiting officer at Lincoln and acting supervisor of the new military unit, wishes to announce that the new organization is merely a part of the students' army training corps. Any man who has qualified in the University for the S. A. T. C. will be admitted in the navy section if he can pass the physical examination.

Will Not Compete With S. A. T. C.

Ensign Condict does not want to compete with the officers of the S. A. T. C. in filling the Nebraska quota with Nebraska men. He told a Nebraskan reporter that he was not begging for men. He added that if the necessary number of men were not found in our state, it would be an easy matter to get them from other states. Some states such as Iowa were allotted only 100 men and Ames for instance would be more than willing to transfer some of its men to Nebraska. If the number of enlistments got up to 150 by Wednesday evening the local recruiting officer will telegraph to Washington asking for men from other states.

All the navy recruits of this section will go to the University and pursue certain courses prescribed by a navy officer who will arrive in Lincoln soon.

The students will be divided into two classes, the engineers and the other branches of the navy. All will receive $32.65 per month, subsistence—up to $2 per day—and $100 to buy uniforms for the duration of the war. All are enlisted for four years provided they are needed for war or emergencies. During peace times ordinarily they will not be called upon for duty.

May Attend School Two Years

Although plans are not complete, it is probable that the navy section will be quartered and schooled with the S. A. T. C. The engineers, 100 from Nebraska, will probably attend school for two years. Although the boys are not promised commissions, it is understood that they are considered the best officer material of the country. "He who works will be rewarded and the loafer who joins this to be a slacker in protection will leave coal in some submarine" is the motto of which the section will be conducted, said Ensign Condict.

All boys registered in the S. A. T. C. who wish to apply for the navy section may do so until October 1 when they will be taken into the former organization.

Husker Veteran on Great Lakes Squad

Paul Dobson, who left the University last spring to enter the navy, is now on the Great Lakes football squad. Dobson was prominent in University activities while in school, and was elected to the Innocents Society before he entered the navy last spring. He is a member of Alpha Sigma Phi.

The football squad at Great Lakes this fall is composed of star players from many of the big universities in the country. Competition is keen and any man making the team must be of the highest caliber. Dobson is rivaled for the full-back position on the team by Willson of Ohio State University, who made a name for himself in the football world last year. Both men will be on the squad which goes to Iowa City next Saturday to play the University of Iowa.

TWO HUNDRED MORE ARE REGISTERED ON MONDAY

Late Numbers Swell Total Beyond Twenty-five Hundred Mark

Twenty-one Register For S. A. T. C.—Seven For Navy Branch

Monday, the first day of school work, netted 191 new registrants, which, added to the 2,379 who had completed registration Saturday evening, brings the total number of registered up to 2,570. One hundred thirteen of the late registrants entered the general college courses; 71 registered in the S. A. T. C., making a total of 1,458 soldiers, and 7 signed up for the S. N. T. C., making 16 sailors so far out of a possible 150 who may take that training. If less than the prescribed quota of 150 apply for S. N. T. C. training, the necessary number may be drafted from the army corps.

Classes got under way in good shape the first day but a few men taking their physical examinations were compelled to miss their assignments. Such confusion will be regulated in a few days and the courses will then be running smoothly. Throughout the year, however, units will be withdrawn from the S. A. T. C. and transferred to other posts.

IMPORTANT CHANGES IN LAW COURSE ANNOUNCED

Juniors and Seniors Are Combined—Still to Be Three- Year Course

Important changes in the law college have been announced by Chancellor Hastings. The junior course has been combined with the senior course, and there are only the freshman and senior courses offered this year. Next year the seniors will take the junior course with the juniors.

The small classes in law and the need of all available space for the military instruction has made this combination necessary. The law course still remains a three-year.

NEBRASKA GETS PORTION OF S. N. T. C. ALLOTMENT

Nebraska ranks very high in the number of men allotted for the navy section of the S. A. T. C. Out of 3,760 men picked in the United States for the section Nebraska gives 150, while our neighbor state, Iowa, gives 100 only. Twenty-one hundred of these men will be put in engineering colleges.

CONVOCATION

Chancellor G. W. Hastings will speak at convocation this morning at 11 o'clock. His theme will be "Democracy, War and Education." Chancellor Hastings is a very interesting speaker and has a vast store of information regarding the subject, which he has chosen to discuss.

Students of all classes will benefit themselves by attending this convocation.

STUDENTS AWAIT ORDERS FOR WAR AIMS CLASSES

Members of the students' army training corps will not go to war aims classes until further announcements are made concerning the rooms and instructors. Prof. Guernsey Jones, director of the work, said Monday that definite plans will be here from Washington soon. Until they come no work will be done in that line. Profs. Roy E. Cochran and Frederick W. Sanford, who have been giving a similar course to the army contingent during the summer, will have charge of some of the divisions.

OVER ONE THOUSAND PASS S. A. T. C. PHYSICAL EXAMINATION

Nebraska Cornfeds Show Up Well in Tests Before Military Specialists

Captain MacIvor Makes State- ment to Men Registered Prior to September 12, 1918

Over one thousand young men from all the counties of Nebraska passed the physical examination at the Armory yesterday preparatory to entering the students army training corps. The boys represent nearly one hundred per cent of our state's youths who are between the ages of 18 and 21.

Although the examinations were stiff, the number of physically unfit would not make one skeleton squad. It took two to three hours to go through the testing machine of specialists. Every inch of the body was well examined by the military authorities trying to find defect in our corn fed youths but they were disappointed. The military authorities were very much pleased with the excellent showing.

Enrollment May Reach 2,000

From the present available estimates given by the registrar and the military authorities, it looks as though the total S. A. T. C. enrollment will reach the 2,000 mark. Nearly 200 young men registered at the University Monday, notwithstanding the fact that registration was supposed to be over last Saturday afternoon. More men will come during the week.

The most novel part of the examination was given by an army captain whose name has been withheld. He works on the theory of psychological and ancestral factors as effecting ones mentality. Several questions are asked and from the manner in which the recruit answers and carries himself the wise medical captain infers many things. He emphasized the importance of this newly applied part of the physical examination.

Most of the boys had a high pull beat, but the physicians attributed that to excitement due to anxiousness on the part of the will-be soldier. Another compliment.

The boys show a sign of relief and satisfaction when they bid good-bye to the last of the two dozen examiners. The strain has been long and intense on the part of the boys for the last six weeks. September 23, has been anticipated as a great day. The patriotism shown by the boys would surely make the Kaiser say again, "Where do we go from here?" and we are afraid the pro-Germans might wish to be invisible.

The recruits are made to understand the seriousness of the organization. They are urged to study hard and intelligently to avoid K. P., G. H., and many other undesirable jobs which eventually lead to a cantonment. The organization every man is treated in the same way. He who works is rewarded accordingly but woe be to the slacker and loafer. Here is the one time when every student will have to work and work hard.

Can Handle Men By October 1

Captain MacIvor is confident that by October 1, he and his assistants will be ready to put the S. A. T. C. in working order. Many details, however, are still to be worked out.

It is rumored that as far as the military authorities are concerned the drill will not have to commence until October 15. The rumor, while it is asserted with positiveness on the part

MAJOR O. V. P. STOUT NOW IN CAMP FOREST GEORGIA

Major O. V. P. Stout, Engineers, U. S. A., was called to service January 5, 1918, and reported to Camp Lee, Virginia. About two months later he was sent to Washington and assigned to the construction division of the quartermaster's department. In July he was ordered to Camp Humphreys, Va., and in August was attached to the 209th Engineers.

CO-EDS RESORT TO OUT DOOR SPORTS FOR OCTOBER

Owing to the need for barracks for the S. A. T. C. the government has been compelled to use both gymnasiums for the month of October. Sport and games will take the place of indoor work for all the girls while the gymnasium is being used for their purposes.

EXPERTS TO HELP MEN ANSWER QUESTIONNAIRES

J. H. Broady and W. A. Luke Arrange to Give Much Needed Aid

J. H. Broady of the law faculty of the University and W. A. Luke of the city Y. M. C. A. have arranged to assist students in filling out their draft questionnaires. This assistance may be had in room 201, Law building, beginning Tuesday.

The volume of questions in the questionnaire is enough to stagger the bravest and wisest, and professional assistance will be found necessary in most cases.

ONE THOUSAND MARK IS SET IN CAMPAIGN FOR SUBSCRIPTIONS

Co-Eds Report Good Progress in Collecting Orders—Paper to Play Important Part

Monday evening saw the spindle on the business managers' desk well filled with subscriptions for The Daily Nebraskan and he was entertaining high hopes that the subscription list will climb up and top the 1,000 mark before the campaign is closed. In fact the campaign may not let up until the 1,000 mark is reached.

The machinery was slow in getting started owing to the lack of a permanent business manager and the work had to be handled thru the editorial department. Co-eds have been combing the campus since last Wednesday and many have shown good results.

The paper is fulfilling a much larger function in the school this year on account of the many official bulletins for S. A. T. C. men besides official school notices and social items. The manner in which the free copies were gobbled up the first few days may be taken as a prediction of the support the student body is going to give.

Advertising is much harder to secure this year and a large subscription list is absolutely necessary in making the paper a bigger success. When the funds are available the publication can be made much more interesting and can please a greater number of students by running more pictures, cartoons, and other features of interest.
