

DETAILED ACCOUNT OF TUESDAY'S CELEBRATION
(Printed at request of Military Department)

A patriotic celebration was held at the University of Nebraska athletic field at promptly 11 o'clock a. m. Tuesday. This celebration was one of 150 held throughout the country at the various institutions having S. A. T. C. units. It began at the University of Nebraska at 11 a. m., in the east at 12 o'clock eastern time, west of Nebraska at 10 a. m. mountain time, and those held still farther west began at 9 a. m. Pacific time.

It was deemed fitting, by the president and war department of the United States, that the opportunities presented to the young men of this country should be inaugurated by universal celebrations throughout the country which would begin, at the various institutions, simultaneously. This feature of the occasion tended to make more solemn and more impressive these ceremonies. Almost every member and prospective member of the S. A. T. C. units throughout the country attended these ceremonies, and were informed of the opportunities open to them by application to the work ahead of them.

At the University of Nebraska S. A. T. C. there were, in attendance, in addition to about 2300 members and prospective members of the S. A. T. C. unit, hundreds of spectators, all of whom were duly impressed with the solemnity of the occasion. Promptly at 11 a. m. the Star Spangled Banner was played by a band and everyone of the audience sang the national anthem with fervor and feeling. Immediately after the singing of the Star Spangled Banner every S. A. T. C. member and all others in the audience repeated after Captain Edmund J. MacIvor, commanding officer, the oath of allegiance to the flag as follows:

I pledge allegiance to my flag and the republic for which it stands; one nation, indivisible with liberty and justice for all.

Commanding officer spoke, addressing his remarks particularly to the members and prospective members of the S. A. T. C., as follows:

"This day has a peculiar significance for more than five hundred colleges and universities throughout the United States. It will witness the organization of a unique and powerful force of fighting men—the students' army training corps. The patriotism of American educational institutions is demonstrated to the world by the generous and splendid way in which they have rallied to the support of this far-reaching plan to supply the American armies with officer material and trained specialists of all descriptions.

"It is most fitting that this day, which will be remembered in American history, should be observed in a manner appropriate to its significance and to the high aims and ideals of the students' army training corps.

"The students' army training corps, both vocational and collegiate sections, will be assembled simultaneously throughout the nation on October 1, 1918, at 12 noon, eastern time; 11 a. m. central time; 10 a. m. mountain time, and 9 a. m. Pacific time. All units of the corps will be assembled promptly at the hour directed for the time zone in which each unit is located, as it is desired that the assemblies be simultaneous.

"As of October 1, 1918, the United States army training detachments established at educational institutions by the committee on educational special training are merged with the students' army training corps as section B thereof.

Members of the S. A. T. C., the government is furnishing you with an opportunity, which will open the way to advancement in the service to you personally and which, if you will give your all, will be the means of more rapidly perfecting our already great military service. You are all men who have had educational opportunities and you ought to be in a position to speedily adapt yourselves to the needs of the service. The government looks to this and other S. A. T. C. units for officer material, and it expects that a goodly percentage of those of you who apply yourselves to the work before you will become leaders of the army and navy of the United States. You are entering upon the most serious undertaking of your lives and it is up to you to put forth every ounce of energy in you to make successes of yourselves and to bring this war to a successful termination. There are 150,000 young men in this country who are at this moment attending ceremonies of this kind and who are being told substantially these same things which I am now telling to you, and the eyes of the country are upon you and will be constantly upon you until the end of the war. Make up your minds that you are in the army, that your living conditions will be new to you and that you will have to adapt yourselves to army conditions from the moment you shall be inducted. Play the military game as it ought to be played and be good soldiers every minute of the time you spend in the military service. It is needless to tell men of your mental caliber that you cannot buck superior authorities in military life, but a word to the wise is sufficient, and to those of you who may feel like bucking it some time during your service, I will just say, "don't do it."

HAWKEYES INVADE
LINCOLN TOMORROW

fast defensive game at end in the scrimmage yesterday.

The definite lineup for the game was not announced but Coach Schissler states that his material is pretty well lined up. The lineup of the first string players in the order of preference follows:

Center—M. Munn, Dana and Thorpe.
Guards—Ross, Kreilmeyer, W. Munn and Dana.
Tackles—Lyman, DuTeau.
Ends—Swanson, Martin, Cyprian, Hartley and Atkins.
Quarter—Lance and Newman.
Half—McMahon, Schellenberg and Howarth.

Full—Hubka.
The Iowa lineup has not been announced but will probably be the same as used in the game with the Great Lakes, with the addition of two or three freshmen. It is understood that the star Hawkeye punter is a first year man who did not participate in the game last Saturday.

Season Tickets Going Slowly
Students' bargain tickets have been dragging miserably since the opening of the campaign. Uncertainty in the schedule at the first of the week caused the management to hesitate in pushing the sales by solicitation on the campus and that may be accountable for the luke warm response of the student body. Now that six big attractions have been assured or "money back," the campaign leaders were greatly disappointed when the record Thursday evening showed only 342 books had been sold. The rousing rally yesterday morning was expected to wake the students up and cause a stampede for tickets.

Ample explanation has been made that admission to one game on a season ticket is fifty cents and single admission to the same game will run from $1.00 to $2.50, and that the $3.00 season ticket is good for reserved seat in the choicest portion of the stands. The management sees a long, long trail ahead of it before the sales reach the 2000 mark unless a rush is staged today and tomorrow.

CORNHUSKERS HAVE NEW WAR TANK

Iowa Has Veteran Team
the greatest team in her history. Coach Sissler, who witnessed the Great Lakes-Iowa game, said that the Hawkeyes have nine veterans back and two more that are better than old timers. However, his hopes are high for the old Cornhusker tank. He said that before long we would have as good a team as any in the country, barring of course, any more such accidents like the one which will take away Nebraska's old star, Harold McMahon. The assistant coach declared "we have enough fight to lick Iowa and it's up to the student body to see that the team has it."

Captain MacIvor, in his clear military style, closed the bag for all doubts as to the outcome of the battle. He will use all his power to put Nebraska on the throne in the football world. In regard to out of town trips, he stated, "Where any other commandant gives two days, I will give four, if necessary," because he believes that men restrained and held down will not develop as fast as those who are given a reasonable amount of freedom. He gave a good example of what a man will do when put on his honor.

Professor G. E. Condra, who is one of the most popular university speakers, brought the rally to a final climax in a stirring loyalty talk. He impressed upon the students that Nebraska's colors, scarlet and cream, stood for "fight" and that it is the high privilege of any member of the university to fight for the old school.

The newly organized band contributed to the rally with U, U, U, and I between speeches. Helen Howe and Frances Whitmore, led the co-eds in cheers. The boys would then try to show them up in yells lead by D. V. Stephens and Glenn Hopkins. With these splendid manifestations of spirit a more successful rally would be difficult to stage.
