ON THE FUNNY SIDE

SCHEME TO SCARE AGENTS.

Tobias Knowal peeped through the window of his office, then tiptoeing to his desk put a flannel bandage around his neck, put his arm in a sling, ran his hands through his hair and limped to the door.

"Mr. Knowal?" inquired the caller. "Yes," groaned Knowal. "What can I do for you?"

"You appear to be far from well," said the caller.

"Appear to be!" echoed Knowal. "Do you think I'm doing this for fun! But what can I do for you?"

"Oh—er—I won't trouble you now," said the caller hurriedly. "Any time will do." And he departed.

"It's some trouble," murmured Knowal, pulling off his bandages. "But it's really the quickest way to get rid of these life insurance agents. That one won't trouble me again, anyhow!"

Poor Prospects for the Bride.

"I should think the girl's parents would object."

"What do you mean?"

"The parents of the girl one of the kaiser's sons is going to marry."

"Why should they object?"

"How would you like a daughter of yours to marry a young man who is soon to be kicked into the cold world without even knowing a trade by which he can support a wife?"

THE HAPPY ONE

"So Miss Griffin is married at last?"

"Yes. And who is the happy man?"

"Her dear old dad."

Figuratively Speaking.

"Wouldn't let you hold her hand, eh?"

"She gave me to understand that some other fellow held an option on it."

"Did she have on an engagement ring?"

"No."

"In a case like that the claim ought to be staked out."

An Intuition.

"You went wrong the way you allowed that girl to take you. She doesn't know the road."

"Well, do you know, I had an idea I was being miss-guided."

The Reason.

"Why is that screeching woman in the next flat continually singing her 'Ho ho!' song?"

"I guess that's what she is cultivating her voice with."

The Painful Part.

"Jones doesn't want his wife to go away."

"Feels the separation, no doubt."

"Yes, from the necessary coin."

Would Like a Correction.

"I have called to ask you to correct a mistake in your report of a speech by Mr. Bloggs, the independent candidate, last Tuesday."

Editor of Dulbury Messenger—Do you represent Mr. Bloggs?

Visitor—No; I was the voice from the back of the hall which you reported incorrectly as shouting, "It's a lie!" What I really said was "You're a liar!" —London Punch.

The Doctor's Side.

"Doc, you charge some people more than others, don't you?" inquired the grocer. "People with money, for instance?"

"Sometimes."

"Suppose I charged you that way?"

"That would be all right, provided you didn't charge poor people anything, a custom not unknown to doctors."

Natural Tendency.

"Funny about that sleepwalker."

"What was?"

"He got up in the night and went straight around the corner to a waka."

THE UKULELE

THE languorous charm of the Hawaiian native instruments—so moving in appeal, so observably in vogue—is strikingly characteristic of the Ukulele. Its tone possesses that curiously beautiful timbre, that exotic charm of tonal quality which has made these instruments so sensation-ally popular.

The Ukulele has a pleasing grace of form. The finer models are made of genuine Hawaiian Koa wood. It is much in request today among the smarter college and other musical organizations.

It is easy to learn. Its price includes an Instruction Book.

Hawaiian Steel Guitar

Every chord struck upon this typically representative Hawaiian instrument is marked by a weird, plaintive harmony and strangely beautiful qualities of tone. It brings, to any music, qualities full of vivid color and varied charm.

Price $5.00 and upwards, including steel and set of Three Thumbies for playing, and Instruction Book.

Catalog on application.

Lyon & Healy "Walburn" Ukuleles, $15.00; Leonardo Numa genuine Hawaiian make, $7.50; Mauna Loa brand, $4. May be had of 12,000 leading music dealers. Write for name of the nearest dealer.
