SHELLY PACKS UP AND IS OFF TO WAR

Husker Star Leaves for O. T. C. on Eve of Game With Jayhawkers

Kansas Coming on Special Train to Wallop Nebraska—Rally Thursday

With the approaching cyclone growing fiercer and more furious hour by hour, Coaches Kline and Schissler were busy with trowel and mortar yesterday constructing a solid bulwark which would withstand the violence of the Kansas storm, when one of the best fortified compartments had a sudden collapse.

The news that halfback Schellenberg would leave the next day for an officers' training camp exploded and demolished the rear end of the structure. The speedy little Husker filed for admission to the O. T. C. when the call was sounded for infantry candidates about a month ago, and he received instructions to leave for camp this week.

With Harold McMahon, the second member of the pair of stellar halfbacks on crutches, Coaches Kline and Schissler were seeing spots dancing before their eyes over the outlook for Saturday's battle between the Cornhuskers and the Kansas Jayhawkers. The Nebraska eleven was just recovering and adjusting itself after three members of the squad left last week for officers' camps, and the coaches are getting to be expert maneuvering officers in shifting around the backfield material to make a strong aggregation.

Schissler said yesterday: "Schelly is one of the great players developed at Nebraska in recent years. A hard driver on offense, he is equally proficient on defense. He tackles fiercely and can be depended on to break up all forward passes that come sailing into his section of the back field. I hate to contemplate what may happen to the Cornhuskers in the Kansas and Notre Dame games unless Schelly is on the job at left halfback."

Special Jayhawk Train

The Jayhawk clan is coming to Lincoln next Saturday with a special train load of rooters including most of the S. A. T. C. detachment, to wipe the Cornhuskers off the landscape. Their 33 to 0 defeat at the hands of the Oklahoma Sooners last week has anything but disheartened them and their determination to clean Nebraska is redoubled.

DRAMATIC CLUB WILL STAGE TRYOUTS SOON

Theatrics Expected to Thrive This Year—First Meeting to Be Announced

The University Dramatic club has announced that tryouts will be held in the near future. This is an opportunity for new and old students of the university to take part in one of the leading activities of the school. It is a chance to become an actor, a forceful speaker, and to acquire a name.

Membership in the Dramatic club is always been a coveted honor, and year after year students have tried out for it in great numbers. Last year one hundred students tried for membership in the club, and all will vouch that it was a great experience, and "lots o' fun." Following are the rules for trying out: (1) Tryouts will be held before judges only, and not before an audience. (2) Each candidate is to select a character from a familiar play, interpret it, and commit the part. (3) No monologues will be accepted. Two or more persons shall select consecutive parts and try out together. (4) Five minutes are allowed for each group. For further information in regard to the tryouts, students will go to "1" hall, room 106.

All students in the university are eligible for membership in the Dramatic club, and all who believe that they have any talent, are asked to be on hand at the tryouts. Parts may be selected now, and when the definite time for the tryouts is announced, the work of memorizing and interpreting the parts will be completed. In all probability the tryouts will be held sometime next week. Enthusiasm, as so far expressed by the students, is a good indication that the present year will be one of great things for the Dramatic club.

If you will think more of saving than of spending you will be surprised to learn that there are many things which you do not need after all.

CONVOCATION

What the Red Cross is doing for our Soldiers and Sailors," is the subject of the convocation address by Professor J. L. Gillen of the University of Wisconsin, at the Temple Wednesday evening at 7:30. Professor Gillen is chairman of the central division for civilian relief during the war, with headquarters at Chicago. In his university work he is associated with Professor Ross, formerly of the University of Nebraska.

TEN TRANSFERRED TO ATLANTIC CITY

Notwithstanding the fact that the war is officially over, the S. A. T. C. of the Nebraska University continues to be one of the busiest places in Uncle Sam's domain. Each week sees a new detachment of men leaving for officers' training schools. Owing to a very strict government regulation which forbids publication of the date and time of departure of troops until arrival at destination, there is always some little delay in the official announcement and publication.

At present a large delegation of infantry officers-to-be await the call which will send them to a training school. This list will be announced within a few days.

Ten men who were lucky enough to be selected to attend the coast artillery school at Fortress Monroe, Virginia, have arrived at their destination. The men having left in this call are:

Bateford, John
Gooden, Max W.
Holt, William M.
Johnson, Clyde E.
Maddox, William M.
Stocker, John S.
Thorpe, Ralph M.
Townsend, Clinton A.
Wright, William R.

ANNOUNCEMENT FOR GENERAL CHEMISTRY

Students who missed the one o'clock lecture in general chemistry last Monday, on account of the half holiday, are requested to attend one session of a lecture to be given at 11 o'clock Thursday and to be repeated at 11 o'clock Friday in the lecture room of the chemistry department. This is a popular lecture on the application of chemistry in war and in peace. Persons not enrolled in chemistry courses will be admitted.

LIBERTY PARTY TO BE GIVEN NOV. THIRTIETH

First Big All-University Dance Has Been Postponed for Two Weeks

The big Liberty party scheduled for Saturday evening in the city auditorium has been postponed because "The Hearts of the World" is being shown there this week and next. As there is no other place in the city large enough for the party it was decided to wait until the auditorium was obtainable and will probably be held the Saturday night after Thanksgiving.

The Black Masque and Innocents have charge of the party and many novel features are planned. There will be dancing for those who wish to dance, and several committees are at work on a program for the entertainment of those who do not dance. All university students are invited as well as all men in the S. A. T. C.

A prominent physical director says every great athlete inherits his physical perfection from his mother. About all dad seems to do is pay the bills.

CLASS ATTENDANCE FOR S. A. T. C.'s COMPULSORY

S. A. T. C. men can no longer be excused from classes by their instructors but must receive permission from their military officers, according to notices sent out Tuesday as a result of a conference between Acting Chancellor W. C. Hastings and Regional Director E. C. Nicholson Monday. Instructors were also requested to make daily reports of all absences or other breaches of discipline by S. A. T. C. students.

One of the notices, in part, says: "The request is eminently reasonable and timely. There is much danger that the coming of the armistice at the time when our organization is just getting under way, may lead to a relaxing of attention and discipline that may cause a disastrous loss of time and morale. Officers and instructors, therefore, will report to the registrars' office by five o'clock each day any absence or other infraction of good order which has occurred in their classes or on the campus under the observation within the preceding twenty-four hours."

Baron Burian of Austria-Hungary says that war is "senseless bloodshed." There is no teacher like experience, and it took four years to whip the lesson in.

URGENT APPEAL FOR WAR FUNDS

Huskies Lagging in Their Support of the United War Work Campaign

But Three More Days Remain in Which to Raise the $25,000 Quota

With the nubbin of Cornhusker patriotism floating barely at the 4,000 mark, the war work thermometer at the west entrance of the Armory indicates that Nebraska students have failed to live up to expectations in subscribing to the university's quota of $25,000. Three days of the campaign have now elapsed and so far Husker students have accomplished nothing but a poor start. But three days remain in which to put the university "over the top" in war work activities.

To offset this delay the committee in charge are making an urgent appeal to all students to go the full limit in making their contributions. A ten dollar subscription from each student is necessary to put the University of Nebraska "over the top." A report from Creighton university at Omaha states that with the campaign still in progress there the average for each student is $21.

Navy Heads List

The naval section of the S. A. T. C. heads the list of university organizations with a 100 per cent subscription. Closely following are Companies "D" and "E," the first of the army section to turn in their reports. Other companies have not completed their campaigns.

University women are far behind the men in their subscriptions. Ten teams, each under the leadership of a captain are canvassing the cyeds. Beginning today they expect to meet every girl on the campus and each one is asked to be ready to fill out her pledge card promptly if she has not already done so.

Time Given for Payment

A liberty leeway of time in which to fulfill the terms of the pledge is allowed. Subscriptions may be paid in full or in part December 1, February 1, or April 1.

With the close of the war at hand there is greater need than ever for the 250 million dollar fund. The work that must be carried on abroad will be greatly extended during the entire period of demobilization. Military authorities estimate that it will require at least a year to bring the American (Continued on page 4)

WHAT DO YOU THINK IS MY SHARE?

By Bruce Barton

He is a conscientious gentleman, who honestly wants to do right. And he came to me shaking his head.

"I want to do my full part in this United War Work Campaign," he said. "Do you think a hundred dollars is my share?"

And I told him that it would be hard for anyone but himself to decide. "There are so many different ways of looking at money," I said. "A hundred and seventy millions looks big at first glance. It is forty times what Jefferson gave for the Louisiana territory.

It's a dollar and seventy cents for every man, woman and child in the land; it's more than eight dollars and a half for every household.

You can figure it on that basis," I told him. "On the basis of dollars and cents. Or you can figure it on the basis of boys."

"Of boys?" he questioned. "I do not understand."

It's less than fifteen cents a day for each of our soldiers and sailors," I answered. "Fifteen cents a day to give them warmth and comfort and entertainment, and lectures, and games, and the thought of mother and of God."

"Fifteen cents a day for a boy, two for a quarter a day. How many boys will you take?"

And his eyes kindled. "I think I could take ten at least," he said. He drew his check book out.

"Figure it out and tell me the price," he said. "I want you to give them the best you've got. What is it going to cost?"

"—for ten boys, for a year, at two for a quarter a day?"

So I figured it out for him; suppose you figure it out for yourself.

MORALE, THEY CALL IT, AND IT IS WINNING THE WAR

By Bruce Barton

Back from the lines they came, their minds full of pictures that refused to fade.

They did not smile; they did not joke; they did not speak. Like men grown old in a single night they dropped heavily upon the ground, their eyes staring cold before them.

In a moment the hut door opened and a secretary came out. His eye took in the situation at a glance. It was no time for talk; he turned back into his hut again.

And suddenly a baseball rolled out and bounded on the ground; then came a bat; and gloves; and a catcher's mask.

A man who sat beside the hut picked up the ball and turned it idly in his hands as if it had been some foreign thing. Another man picked up the bat; a third played absently with a glove.

Then, like flame out of smouldering embers, a baseball game was born full fledged behind that little hut. The air was filled with laughter, and the loud shouts of men whose minds are cleansed of every worry, and whose hearts are free.

So peace came to those men who had been so burdened with their memories. And in the morning they were fresh—as men who had never fought.

They call it morale—the miracle that restores men's spirits and sends them back every morning fresh and confident.

You have today your chance to contribute to morale. It is a chance you must not miss.

For morale is winning the war.
