picture of two reels. The theatre holds twelve hundred and the seats, with the exception of the boxes, which are held for invited guests, are all reserved for the members of S. A. T. C. and all other men in uniform.

Fifty Chosen for Banquet

The culmination of this round of gaiety will be on Sunday evening when fifty soldier lads will partake of a feast that four gentlemen living at the Lincoln hotel are providing. Some novel things in the way of entertainment are in store for the boys, and they will go back to the barracks that night with a feeling of supreme satisfaction that will make next week's work much easier. Taps will find a happy bunch of soldiers that have been well taken care of by the War Camp Community Service.

MORALE and Victory go hand in hand.

A war lesson for peace times

War has taught people to save; to get the most out of things; to get things that have the "most" in them. That's the great lesson for peace.

In clothes it means all-wool fabrics and best tailoring—Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes. We have them because there's the "most" in them for you; and by giving you the "most" we get the "most." It always works that way.
