PAYS TRIBUTE TO DEAD STATESMAN

Students and Faculty Gather at Roosevelt Memorial Service Held Yesterday.

Governor McKelvie and Chancellor Avery Review Life of Great American.

To do honor to the great American whose recent death the whole country mourns, faculty and students met in Memorial Hall Monday morning at a special convocation.

Governor McKelvie, and Chancellor Avery in a few words, paid tribute to the memory of Theodore Roosevelt.

The university feels an especial interest in the late ex-president, in that Nebraska conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Civil Law, and Roosevelt, in a letter to the chancellor, has said he felt prouder of this degree than any other he has ever received.

A selection on the pipe-organ by Mrs. Carrie B. Raymond and music by the university chorus, started the program.

Chancellor Speaks

In the absence of Regent Judson, who is ill, Chancellor Avery gave some personal reminiscences of Colonel Roosevelt before introducing Governor McKelvie. The chancellor said his most striking impression of the colonel was his marvellous memory for details.

"One of the greatest, most vigorous and most virile men in the history of America, one whose mark in history will be indelible," was the chancellor's verdict.

"Ours is not a country of traditions, it is too young," Governor McKelvie declared, "ours is a country of men and of principles. We are traveling constantly upon uncharted seas. I think there is no one who has meant so much by way of inspiration to young men."

Roosevelt's Activities

Roosevelt's wide range of interests is shown by his activities as a scholar, author, orator, sportsman, athlete, ranchman, soldier and statesman, the governor said. He was unusual as an orator, for he had the rare ability of presenting what he said in forceful expression which gripped his hearers.

As a sportsman he made valuable contributions to the museums of the country in the booty from his hunting expeditions.

In his career as an athlete we find the first evidence of the real Roosevelt. As a boy he had a delicate physique, but, realizing the handicap this would be, he overcame his physical frailty and became able to compete with the best of athletes.

Love of Nature

His love of nature and of being outdoors was probably the reason for his becoming a rancher, according to Governor McKelvie. Although he was not unusual as a rancher, he accomplished some important things. Great progress in eradicating "cattle-rustling," a common practice in his neighborhood at that time, was made with his help.

Everyone remembers Roosevelt as leader of the "Roughriders." As assistant secretary of the navy, he helped prepare the navy for the great record made in the Spanish-American war. His prominence as a soldier came not from the length of time in service, but from the brilliance of his achievements.

Begins Public Career Early

Mr. Roosevelt began his career as a statesman at the age of twenty-three, when he became a member of the

Tag Day Slogan

A volume of the 1919 Cornhusker will be given to the contributor of the snappiest slogan for the Daily Nebraskan Tag Day subscription campaign to be held Tuesday, February 18. Contributions should be filed at the student activities' office before noon Saturday.

AN EASY WAY TO GET A CORNHUSKER

A 1919 Cornhusker to each fraternity and sorority reporting a 100 per cent subscription to the Daily Nebraskan by 12 o'clock Saturday has been offered by the management of the paper.

The Nebraskan must have student support. Instead of having a "Rag" for each fraternity why not have a "Rag" for each member. It will make a better Daily Nebraskan, a truer type of school spirit. Fraternities and sororities should make their subscriptions 100 per cent.

The names of fraternities attaining this goal will be published on the Honor Roll in The Daily Nebraskan. Make your fraternity 100 per cent! Get that Cornhusker!

We complacently fancy ourselves moral victors along many lines where there really has been no strong temptation to combat. With generations of clear brains, temperate habits and cool, clean blood behind us, we have never had personal battle with many foes against which others must wage fierce struggle. — Chicago Evening Post.

COLLECTING RELICS OF EARLY UNIVERSITY DAYS

A committee of alumni is at work collecting the relics of the early days in University Hall. For a long time this was the only building on the University Campus and so all the oldest relics have to do more or less with it.

A program has been found which was used for a meeting the very first year the university was opened. The committee is also starting a card catalogue of all the publications, books and articles, that have been written by university graduates or faculty members. This cannot, of course, be confined altogether to one building, so the committee aims to make it a broad beginning, for all graduates and faculty.

The committee consists of Mrs. A. G. Warner of the class of 1886, Mrs. M. P. Knotts formerly of the state historical society and Dr. A. C. Hunter. They will appreciate any help that can be given them in their endeavor to arrange for an exhibit for the semi-centennial celebration this spring.

WOMEN'S FACULTY CLUB TO HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC

Wednesday evening, February 12, the Women's Faculty club will hold their annual mid-winter picnic at the Women's Hall, 1430 R street. This is one of the two occasions of the year when the club invites the men of the faculty to be present. Following the dinner there will be entertainment for the evening in charge of a committee.

The Women's Faculty club is composed of the wives of the professors.

We should choose our friends thoughtfully, wisely, prayerfully, but when we have pledged our lives we should be faithful whatever the cost may be.

Junior and Senior Laws Unite in Election of Class Officers

The eyes of the university are again directed for the first time since the interference of the war, to the Law College, whence comes a thundering forboding a storm. Juniors and seniors have locked arms for the remainder of the year in the effort to make one real class. As a consequence there are upwards of forty men occupying seats in the joint sessions of the upperclassmen this semester and among that forty there has developed two mighty and distinct elements that are clashing today in the election of class officers for the combined class.

With the announcement yesterday of elections to be held at 10 o'clock today there was little said openly. But the rival forces have been at work for over a month preparing for today's battle and the lawyers are awaiting the outcome of the election anxiously.

Just who the possible candidates for the class honors will be has so far

DAILY NEBRASKAN TAG DAY

Tuesday, February 18, has been scheduled for The Daily Nebraskan Tag Day subscription campaign.

All subscribers will be given tags. All who are not subscribers will be conspicuous by the absence of the distinguishing pasteboards, and solicitors will make life uncomfortable for them until they deposit a dollar for the "Rag" and have the little yellow receipt tucked safely away in their pocket.

Beginning Wednesday the distribution of copies will be limited to the subscription list. If your name is not posted at Station "A" you may not receive the "Rag" which you have been sponging all year. You need not lose your paper, however. A solicitor will be present to take your subscription.

R. O. T. C. MEN TO SIGN FOR NEXT SUMMER CAMP

Should See Capt. Frankforter in Headquarters Today at Five O'Clock.

All men registered in military science and tactics who desire to attend the R. O. T. C. camp next summer are asked by Commandant Frankforter to report to him at 5 p. m. this afternoon at his office in the Armory.

The R. O. T. C. camp will be held some time next summer for four weeks. The exact date will be announced later.

Men registered in courses 5, 6, 7 and 8 who wish to sign the R. O. T. C. contract which will be circulated presently are entitled to commutation of rations. Those men in this course who will not sign the contract and those registered in courses 1, 2, 3 and 4 wishing to attend the camp will not receive subsistence.

It is advisable that those who wish to receive commissions in the officers' reserve in their senior year to attend the camps. Men with the first and second year basic training at the university who attend the camp in their junior and senior year will obtain the bars of an officer.

Although the details for this camp have not been made public it is certain that one month of a student's vacation will be well spent. Camp life will be conducted on a war basis and the usual military discipline will be maintained.

The virtue of hopefulness, the invincible resolve to gaze at the bright side of things is a splendid asset in the life of nations or of individuals.

HUSKERS PREPARE FOR TIGER BATTLE

Nebraska Has Eyes on First Place in Conference—Now Held by Missouri.

Friday and Saturday Games Will Determine Contenders for Valley Title.

The Cornhuskers are now serious contenders for the Valley title. Missouri still leads the race with a clean record and the Kansas Aggies have so far maintained a spotless slate, but the Washington series showed the real strength of the Stewart machine and the Tigers will have to down the Nebraskans if they are to maintain their position.

Coach Rutherford of the Pikers who suffered two defeats at the hands of the Missouri aggregation bears witness to the fact that the Tiger combination is one of the strongest teams who ever contended for the Valley title. Coach Stewart's men must display their best game next Friday and Saturday if they are to remain in the running.

Nebraska Strongest Contender

The Cornhuskers are the only formidable obstacle in the path of the victorious Tigers, and they are some obstacle, however, the Nebraskans must humble the invaders in both contests if they are to get within striking distance of the title. The Cornhuskers are on their own floor in the coming series and when Nebraskans are backed by Nebraska spirit, the strongest team may begin to fear.

The coming games with Missouri will decisively determine the serious contenders for the championship. If Nebraska wins both of them the title is within their reach. The Washington series displayed the real strength of Dr. Stewart's combination and the chances of humbling the Tigers are distinctly favorable.

The Conference Standing

Missouri	6	0	1.000
Kansas Aggies	2	0	1.000
Nebraska	6	2	.750
Grinnell	1	1	.500
Ames Aggies	2	4	.333
Washington	2	4	.333
Drake	1	5	.167
Kansas	1	5	.167
