PAYS TRIBUTE TO DEAD STATESMAN

New York assembly immediately upon his graduation from Harvard. It was there he started the observance of the practices which made his political career a success. He opposed unfair political practices, bucked the machine, put his confidence in the people.

Governor McKelvie said that the reason Roosevelt accomplished so much was because he loved his work. Fearlessness was perhaps his outstanding characteristic. He said what he believed was true. He is one of those of whom it may be said "They have letters in their pockets addressed to posterity." He was a great man, an exceptional patriot, a man who believed in the principles of Americanism, whose life may be summarized in one word—"service"

Omaha

A Convention City

OMAHA is ideally located as a point for holding conventions.

Nine trunk line railroads with twenty-two branches enter the city.

Omaha has direct railroad connections with more cities in Nebraska than any other point.

Its hotel and amusement facilities are unexcelled.

Convention secretaries should inquire about our helpful convention service.

MRS. WILLIAMS SPEAKS ON VOCATIONAL WORK

At the Freshman Commission meeting held at the Woman's Building at five o'clock yesterday afternoon Mrs. T. F. A. Williams spoke on the subject of vocational training other than teaching, for university girls. She emphasized especially the great need for trained settlement and social service workers, for whom high salaries are now being offered.

When Mrs. Williams made inquiries among experienced workers as to the advisability of taking up such work in preparation for paying position, she learned that it was an exceedingly valuable course, and she in turn wishes to urge girls of the University of Nebraska to specialize in social service and settlement work because of the many advantages afforded by it. At the present time educated stenographers are in great demand in business offices, and educated persons find a little business training useful in many small ways, but a girl may be fitted for social service work upon the completion of her university course, in which she has taken such subjects as psychology, ethics, economics, and hygiene, obtaining an A. B. degree.

As a special appeal the fact was brought out that right here in Lincoln there is an ardent call for girls of university education to fill positions in the public schools and to get in touch with employees in the factories. University girls now in school have a splendid opportunity to fit themselves for this interesting work.

MENORAH SOCIETY TO HOLD SOCIAL MEETING

The Menorah Society of the university will have its first "get-together" meeting on Sunday evening, February 16th, at 7:30 p. m., in the Women's Building, 12th and Q Streets. This is an effort of the organization to bring all the Jewish students of the school together, that they may become better acquainted with one another.

All the Jewish students and the faculty of the university are invited to attend.

HAND GRENADES

Meow! Meow! Nice Kitty!

Wait a minute, Laura—pardon me, I meant to say Laurette. I never will remember that you don't want to be called Laura—where are you going? To the library, Fine! I'll walk a couple blocks with you, and you can tell me what sort of a time you had at the senior prom. Yes, I was there with Tom. My dear, didn't he look stunning in a dress suit? Oh, you didn't notice it? Why, I don't see how anyone could help looking at Tom. No, my dear, don't be silly. Of course I haven't a case on him—we're just good friends. You don't see how anyone could get a case on Tom? Why—of course you know, I think of him merely as a brother, but I can see how any girl might—er—well—why, I think you are perfectly horrid!

Speaking of men, where did you pick up your horrible example? Now, Laura (pardon me, I mean Laurette) I don't mean to be catty, it's not my nature, but I can't imagine anyone even having sisterly affection for him. Oh, please don't be angry—I didn't mean to hurt your feelings. But tell me, who was he? Bob Hamilton! The football player! Was he there? I've been crazy to meet him all year! What!!! Your man was he! Why wasn't he class? You know, dearie, I was just joking. You'll introduce me to him, won't you dear? You did look so sweet in your new evening dress—I heard several people say so!

Didn't Grace look horrible in that pink affair she wore? And people have the nerve to say she looks like me! Why, Laura! You think so too! Tom says he can't see the slightest resemblance. You know Tom is really awful clever—in fact, I can't see why they don't ask him to work on the "Awwan!" You know those cute little flower-pots from which we ate our ice cream—yes, with the grated chocolate on top to look like the dirt in which the flower was growing! Well, Tom said it was simply great—a little pun on the word grate, you see. My dear, don't be offended that I explained it to you—several people to whom I have told the story have been unable to find any humor in it.

Well, I turn here. I'm awfully glad that I met you. We must take lunch together some time real soca! And some time when you and Bob have nothing else to do, just drop in and see men, won't you dear?

THE UKULELE

THE languorous charm of the Hawaiian native instruments—so moving in appeal, so observably in vogue—is strikingly characteristic of the Ukulele. Its tone possesses that curiously beautiful timbre, that exotic charm of tonal quality which has made these instruments so sensation-ally popular.

The Ukulele has a pleasing grace of form. The finer models are made of genuine Hawaiian Koa wood. It is much in request today among the smarter college and other musical organizations.

It is easy to learn Its price includes an Instruction Book.

Hawaiian Steel Guitar

Every chord struck upon this typically representative Hawaiian instrument is marked by a weird, plaintive harmony and strangely beautiful qualities of tone. It brings, to any music, qualities full of vivid color and varied charm.

Price $2.00 and upwards, including Steel and Set of Three Thumbies for playing, and Instruction Book.

Catalog on application.
