BIG PRIZE OFFERED FOR BEST INDUSTRIAL ESSAY

 portant factors in the success of the manuscript.
 The copyrighting of the chosen manuscript will be vested in the board, and they will have all the rights to the script, for this reason. Each competitor shall sign his script under an assumed name. His true name should be sent, along with his address, in a sealed envelope to the headquarters of the board. The envelope must be superscribed with the assumed name of the writer. No manuscript will be accepted, the true authorship of which is disclosed when the manuscript is received by the board, nor any which has been previously published in any way. Contributions to the contest must be mailed before July 1, 1919, and addressed to the National Industrial Conference Board, No. 15 Beacon Street, Boston, Massachusetts. Each envelope must be marked: "For the Prize Essay Contest in Industrial Economics."

The right of rejection of manuscripts is entirely reserved to the board. Honorable mention, however, may be made of those articles which are especially noteworthy, and arrangements made for their publication, in full or in part, the compensation being decided between the board itself and the authors.

Those persons who are on the special committee for the advancement of this contest are: Frederick P. Fish, of the Fish, Richardson & Neave Company, Boston, chairman; Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman, president of Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., and Henry R. Towne of the Yale & Towne Manufacturing Company of New York City.

RUTH HUTTON TO REPORT ON CHICAGO CONFERENCE

 be given by Ruth Hutton, the University Y. W. C. A. representative.
 At this conference there were over 400 students, of whom there were not more than one from each institution. Every state in the Union was represented.
 The delegates discussed some of the problems of the women students of America. They also talked about whether the students were accepting their share in the responsibility of the reconstruction of a new world. A commission was appointed to report the findings of the conference. These findings will be given by Ruth Hutton at the meeting.

UNIVERSITY BILL GETS GOOD START

 means that the sentiment for the bill is so strong in the legislature that the public will realize its actuality in a short time. With $3,000,000 appropriation the university will not find it hard to spend the money.

LIEUT. COLE RETURNS FROM OVERSEAS DUTY

Lieutenant Dana F. Cole, formerly professor of marketing in the economic department at the university, has returned from France where he has been serving in the artillery. Lieutenant Cole may resume his work in the school of commerce this semester, assisting Professor Martin with the work in accounting, besides instructing the courses in marketing. It is quite probable that the unusually large section of economics 1 students will be divided and Lieutenant Cole may have charge of one of these divisions.
 After he was accepted for an officers' training camp in 1917, Lieutenant Cole was put through a very intensive training until last summer, when his regiment left for France. When the armistice was signed, he was near the front lines and was at that moment preparing to send the members of his unit into the thick of the fray. Professors Stephens and Virtue are now the only instructors in the economic department who are still in the service of the government and their return is anticipated next fall.

ANNUAL TO HAVE FINE UNIVERSITY SECTION

 in order for university work, will be pictured for the first time. Many students have already arranged to purchase their annuals, although the sales campaign does not begin in earnest until next Tuesday. This seems to indicate that the student body is anxious to see the book and the sale promises to be bigger than ever.

TOURNAMENT OPENS WITH FAST GAMES

 furnished by the Delta Upsilon-Acacia match in which the D. U.'s rolled up the modest score of thirty-eight, leaving only the wee sma' cipher for the Masons. The D. U.'s look like winners. Every man on the team is a vet, Smith, Paynter, and Perry being on this year's freshman squad. It seems a cinch they will get into the finals.

The Score:

Delta Upsilon 38	Acacia 0
Egan	Wallace
Smith	Myer
Carson	Silsbee
Perry	Vetter
Paynter	Power

Referee—Munn.
 The following games are scheduled for this evening at 6 o'clock:
 Sigma Nu vs. Delta Chi.
 Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Alpha Sigma Phi.
 Alpha Tau Omega vs. Sigma Phi Epsilon.

 Omicron Nu, the honorary Home Economics society, was at home to the girls, faculty, and friends of the department last Saturday afternoon at the practice cottage of the department. The decorations were in keeping with Washington's birthday. American flags were used in the dining room. Mrs. E. A. Burnett, Miss Katherine Cranor, Miss Marguerite Rice, Miss Blanch Harris, Miss Ruth Curtice, Miss Elizabeth Lacey and Miss Esther Warner were among the honor guests who have been especially interested in the Practice Cottage. Harold McMahon, ev-'20, has been visiting in Lincoln for several days. He returned to Chelsea, Oklahoma, yesterday.

 Mr. and Mrs. Richard Westover have returned to Lincoln after spending the past year in Baltimore, Md., where he was in the government service. Mrs. Westover was formerly Janet Wheeler, '16.
 Miss Amanda Heppner has gone out of the city and expects to be gone for several days.
 Lieut. Hugh H. Drake, '13, was a guest at the Sigma Nu house yesterday, on the way to his home in Kearney.

DEAN BARNETT GUEST AT FAREWELL BANQUET

 turn gave full credit to his associates for their splendid spirit of co-operation so evident at the farm. He briefly described the history of the college, spoke of the present day tendencies in education, and pledged the agricultural college to keep step with the modern demands of education, and especially to bring the help of the institution to the man on the land.

The Master Key!
 You have heard of the "master key" that opens every door of a great office building. Did you ever hear of a MASTER SCHOOL of BUSINESS?—an institution that combines the advantages of the best schools with certain individual advantages of its own. This Master School, like the master key, unlocks all the doors of business to those who successfully complete one or more of its courses of study.
