CARE OF THE EYES

The following excellent suggestions on the care of the eyes have been issued by the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness. They are well worth reading and remembering:

Don't rub your eyes with dirty hands.

Wear glasses if the doctor advises you to do so.

Don't use your eyes in a poor or flickering light.

If you suspect eye trouble, see an oculist at once.

Don't let anyone but an oculist examine your eyes.

Hold your work or book 14 to 15 inches from your eyes.

SELECTED SAYINGS

Have the light shine on your work or book—not in your eyes.

Don't use other people's towels, wash-cloths, handkerchiefs, etc.

Have sore eyes and granulated lids treated promptly, and as long as the doctor thinks necessary.

Take as good care of your eyes as you would of your watch. You can buy a new watch, but you can't buy new eyes.

The night brings counsel.—French.
 The will is the soul of the work.—German.

Sleep upon it, and you will take counsel.—Spanish.

You may ding the Deil into a wife; but ye'll ne'er ding him out o' her.—Scotch.

No action will be considered blameless unless the will was so, for by the will the act was dictated.—Seneca.

If you want a wife, choose her on Saturday, not on Sunday. No woman is ugly when she is dressed.—Spanish.

The waterspout is constantly spinning. The moment it stops spinning it collapses. At a distance of a quarter of a mile above sea level its spinning speed has been estimated at six miles an hour.

Uneasy rests the aching tooth that wears a crown.

The average man's intentions are several ahead of his actions.

Don't worry if your sins find you out; they will be sure to call again.

Omaha
 A Grain Market

THE Omaha Grain Exchange is the most modern exclusive grain exchange in the United States, and represents an investment of over a million dollars.

A trip to the visitors' gallery is of interest to all who have never seen a grain pit in action.

Omaha holds a unique position. It ships grain to all other markets, but receives no grain from any of them. It receives more grain direct from the country than any market. Omaha is, therefore, the first direct-ship or primary grain market of the United States.
