

HERE AND THERE IN THE COLLEGE WORLD

Indiana—International Night was the name of the performance given by foreign students at the University of Indiana. Russians, Spaniards, Philipinos, Irish, Chinese, and Scotch participated. Their different parts were brought out by a dream which one of the characters had, bringing to her the understanding of other peoples besides her own through the performances which the different nationalities put on before her.

Illinois—The library school of the University of Illinois has recently sent announcements of its summer courses to the various other universities. There is an 8-weeks course for college graduates who have received the degree of Bachelor of Arts from any university. Credit from this course will be accepted toward the B. L. S. degree. There is also a 6-weeks course which is open only to librarians, and in addition to these courses a series of special lectures on the use of the victrola in the public library will be given during the first part of the summer session.

Washington—For the first time in the history of American universities credit is to be given for community service. A maximum of five credits will be awarded to the girls of this university who wish to do social service or recreational work in the city of Seattle if they carry on this work under the supervision of the Girls' division of the war camp community service.

Yale—A recent gift of $100,000 is to be utilized for purchasing the old Governor Ingersoll house in New Haven as the home for the University press. The place will also serve as a memorial to the son of the donor who died in the service and who was one of the original founders of the University press. The building will be called the Earl Trumbull Williams memorial.

Yale—Yale won a clear decision in the triangular debate, defeating Harvard and Princeton. Yale upheld the affirmative side of the question, "That the eighteenth amendment to the constitution be abolished."

$1,000 NECESSARY TO HELP NEBRASKA ATHLETES

lutely empty and the Board of Regents were unusually liberal in allowing appropriations and it was only through the liberality of the Board of Regents that any kind of a basketball or track program was carried out.

Next year this condition will be entirely wiped out. The large appropriation for the athletic department will strew the path with lay out way of roses compared with the sad state which has almost been passed in safety. It is up to the students this time to put the program across this time and hereafter lend only their moral support.

If the campaign is unsuccessful the relay team will not go to Harvard and the following men who have earned letters will have to go without them:

- Football—
 - Howarth
 - Dobson
 - Schellenberg

All Styles—All Weights
All Sizes

We have a style for the evening gown; for the afternoon dress, for the street costume or the lounging gown. We can please the athletic girl or the stay at home girl; the school girl or the mother.

GLOBE Tailor Made
Union Suits

Following are the descriptions of the seven Globe styles illustrated here:

Low neck, no sleeves. Many women now prefer the low neck sleeveless styles as they can be worn with the light gauzy dress stuffs that are so much the vogue and still give ample protection to the body. Every woman should have this style in the wardrobe for evening wear at least. We have three lengths. Style shown in sketch (4) for those who wish their legs fully protected. Style shown in sketch (1) for those who wish protection but do not wish their underwear to show through their stockings. The short drawer shown in sketch (2) is now popular the year around.

neck styles and yet does not show through the thin dress stuffs now being worn. The elbow length sleeve can be worn with almost any gown. We have it in stock in full ankle length, see sketch (6) for those who wish their legs well protected and in opera length, sketch (3) to protect the knees but not long enough to show through that part of the stocking which is seen.

Dutch neck, elbow sleeve. This style has come into general use and well it should as it gives more protection than the low High neck, long sleeve. For general use. These suits are made to open all the way down the front which has many advantages over the styles which open only part way. These suits give full protection to chest, arms and legs. The long sleeve style is shown in sketch (5) the elbow length in sketch (7).

run twenty-three for the 220 any day of the week. "Mac" will not be handicapped by being forced to train for the 440 as he is in prime shape for this race and can devote the week to speeding up for the shorter dashes. It wouldn't be entirely safe to put your money on the Cornhuskers in the coming fracas but the Gophers will have one good run for their money.

The baccalaureate sermon will be given Sunday morning in Memorial Hall. In the evening the chorus and the university orchestra under the direction of Mrs. Carrie Raymond will deliver the oratorio, Elijah.
The commencement exercises will be held Monday morning at St. Paul M. E. church. Major-General Leonard Wood will deliver the address to the graduating students after which a luncheon will be given at the Commercial Club.

RECEPTION IN HONOR OF MISS FANNIE DRAKE

A reception will be given this afternoon in honor of Miss Fannie Draks, secretary of the Y. W. C. A. who expects to leave very soon for France. Miss Drake has been here for several years and has been instrumental in making the organization a success. She has many friends on the campus and this will afford them an opportunity for bidding her farewell.
The members of the advisory board will assist with the serving. There will be special music and light refreshments. Not only every university girl but also the faculty women are invited.

DELIAN SOCIETY ENJOYS ANNUAL PICNIC AT CRETE

The Delian Literary Society chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Beekley went to Crete Friday evening for a picnic at Horkey's park. The time was spent in boating, competitive games, rescue work, and other enjoyable sports. The party returned to Lincoln Saturday afternoon.
