ALL FRESHMEN AT CONVOCAATION TODAY

EACH VARSITY MAN IN THE SCRIMMAGE

Coach Schulte for the First Time Sees Every Candidate in Action.

Strong Freshman Team Gives Huskers Stiff Fight—Hubka, Kellogg Still Absent.

The varsity was subjected to a rigid inspection Wednesday afternoon. During the two hour scrimmage with the freshmen every Husker candidate for a position was in the battle for a while. During these two hours Coach Schulte scrutinized each one of his men in action.

The coach is getting acquainted with the team. Altho he knew only a few of the Husker grid men when he arrived in Lincoln two weeks ago he has by this time formed an estimate from observing them in action. Nothing in the way of a first team has been picked but the inspection goes on daily and soon the regular varsity lineup will probably begin to settle down.

Wednesday's practice was initiated by a short punting period. Dobson booted spirals regularly for a distance of forty and fifty yards. Russell was also sending them high and far. There was very little of the ordinary preliminary calisthenics of dummy work, diving, passing, and plunging. The long scrimmage which gave the coach a chance to see what every man on the varsity squad could do to the fighting freshmen was started almost at once.

The varsity squad which first was given a crack at the first year men was lined up in the following order:

- L. E.—Cyprean.
- L. T.—Lyman.
- L. G.—Wade Munn.
- C.—Triplet.
- R. G.—Dana.
- R. T.—Cox.
- R. E.—Lanphere.
- Q. B.—Howarth.
- L. H.—Russell, Henry
- F. B.—Newman.
- R. H.—Jones.
- R. H.—Jobes.

After this bunch of huskies did what they could to the "scrub," (which by the way wasn't scrubbed so bad as some people were looking for) the following varsity wave hit the yearling defense:

- L. E.—Swanson.
- L. T.—Wilder.
- L. G.—Young.
- C.—Day, Smith.
- R. G.—Monte Munn.
- R. T.—Jungmeyer, Wray
- R. E.—Anthes.
- Q. B.—McGlasson.
- L. H.—Schellenberg.
- F. B.—Dale.
- R. H.—Dobson, Ottenstein

Freshmen Scrap Hard.

Before the dust had blown away and taps had sounded every varsity candidate on the field had been given a trial. There are plenty of grid stars on the freshman squad to give Coaches Riddell and Cameron a team which will make Coach Schulte and Schissler's title contenders fight for every yard. It wasn't so easy for them Wednesday. The freshmen guards failed to be appalled by the fierce onslaughts of Dana and the Munn brothers and many times mused up the varsity plays. Cameron and Riddell constantly urged their freshmen on and before the scrimmage was over Cameron jumped into the lineup himself.

Gradually Cameron and Riddell are beginning to get acquainted with their freshmen. They are also commencing to find out that many of their gridsters, who will be wearing green caps as soon as the supply house is stocked, have not been coming out to practice. Fifty suits were issued to first year men and thirty is the average number out on the field. For the purpose of keeping tabs on those who don't use their suits very often, the roll call has been resorted to. Each freshman must be checked off the little book each day. The suit supply is short and the coaches don't want any idle togs in the lockers when other men may not be on the field for lack of equipment.

The work of organizing the University Orchestra is well under way. To date twenty students have registered for this work. The orchestra will be under the direction of Professor Quick who has had charge of this work for the last two years.

"SUNSHINE" GIRL OPENS S. A. DRIVE

Betty Blodgett, A. E. F. Worker, Inspires Girls to Start Vigorous Campaign.

As Eager to Serve People at Home as Boys in Trenches, She Declares.

The committee in charge of the Salvation Army drive met in the Y. W. C. A. room and after listening to an inspiring talk by Miss Betty Blodgett, the "Sunshine Girl," completed their plans for a rousing campaign tomorrow.

Miss Blodgett told of some of her experiences as a Salvation Army worker in the American Expeditionary Forces in France. She and a schoolmate, Miss Watkins, worked with Mrs. Hickey in the famous Hickey hut. They stood at tables and served soldiers at the front line. When the boys heard a shell coming near they would give a signal. The girls would run to their dug-out for safety and return immediately.

The greatest service to the boys was the sisterly comradeship of the girls. The Salvation Army girls always made the boys feel that they were eager to serve them. Miss Blodgett said, "If we saw a boy who was a little down-hearted, he was the boy we made a bee line for."

Since the war people know about the Salvation Army and are making many more calls upon it than before. The Salvation Army is just as eager to serve the people at home as it was to serve the dough-boys in the trenches. And it wants to serve the girls as well as the boys. It must have funds.

FRESHMAN LECTURES START TUESDAY FOR ALL ARTS STUDENTS

The freshman lecture, a required subject for all freshmen in the arts college, receiving one hour credit, will be held at eleven o'clock every Tuesday morning in the Temple. All freshmen whose schedule will not permit their taking it at that time will do so at five o'clock Thursday afternoons. The first of these lectures will be given next week with Dean P. M. Buck as speaker.

The purpose of the series of lectures, according to Dean Buck, is to give the background of the university to the new students—to show them what they are here for and what the school stands for, then to describe the different departments of the university and its ideals, and finally to consider good citizenship.

INTERESTING PROGRAM AT Y. W. C. A. VESPERS

The first Y. W. C. A. vespers of the year held in the Temple at five o'clock Tuesday were largely attended. Carolyn Reed, a cabinet member, presided at the meeting and led the devotional exercises.

These were followed by an interesting program designed to acquaint the new student with all the phases of our university's Y. W. C. A. and to extend to all a cordial invitation to participate in its activities.

Margaret Perry rendered a vocal solo, which was enjoyed by all.

True Jack discussed "Chief Interests of the Y. W. C. A." She said that it offers a religious environment, gives valuable training to girls who wish to become Y. W. C. A. secretaries and is the very best social organization.

Mary Brownell, in treating "The Social Life of the Y. W. C. A." invited all to attend a party to be given by the Y. W. C. A. in connection with the Y. M. C. A. in the armory next Saturday evening.

Helen Lewis spoke on "The Kind of Things a College Girl Ought to Do." She urged every girl to get into the Y. W. C. A. activities.

Jean Landale's topic was "The Kind of Friendships." She said that the Y. W. C. A. ideal is Christian democracy and that she had found the Y. W. C. A. girls to be her very best friends. She urged the girls to form the habit of dropping into the Y. W. C. A. room in the Social Science building.

Mary Waters, the president, announced a campaign for membership to be waged in the near future.

Miss Claire McKinnon, the new general secretary, was called upon for a few words. She is a graduate of the University of Nebraska. This training and her zeal to serve amply equip her for the work.

Irene Barton very ably concluded the program with a violin solo.

The girls dispersed in an atmosphere of cordial friendship. Vesper Services will be held every Tuesday at five o'clock and all girls are invited to attend.

MEMBERS OF FIRST YEAR CLASS WILL BE INITIATED INTO CORNHUSKER TRADITIONS; SPECIAL RALLIES AT CONVOCAATION HOUR

COLONEL MORRISON OUTLINES COURSES IN MILITARY DRILL

The registration for military science this term totals over one thousand at the city campus. The first meeting of the members of the cadet corps was held Tuesday evening at the Temple theatre and chapel, two sections being necessary on account of the number of men taking the course. Colonel Morrison spoke at both gatherings, outlining the work and explaining the different branches to the men.

In the course of his speech the commandant explained the reason for military science at the university. Being a land grant institution the university must give two years of military work to students by an Act of Congress in 1862 and by application several years ago the school was permitted to form an R. O. T. C. unit, the latter preparing a student for a reserve commission in the army at the expiration of his college work.

Three branches of military work are now established at the university, field artillery, motor transport and infantry, besides the band work. A portion of the work will be theoretical and texts will be furnished in part to these registered in this course. Measurements for uniforms will be taken at the side door to the basement of the Armory up until noon Saturday. All assemblies will be before the Armory at the hours designated for sections as posted on the bulletin board before this building. All men are cautioned to hold themselves accountable for attendance at drill.

OHIO REGISTRATION LARGE

Total Enrollment at State University Close to 6,000—Many Come Late.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 24.—Two hundred new students were enrolled Thursday, bringing the total registration to 5493 at Ohio state university.

Scores have not as yet had their schedules approved and will be forced to pay their fees next week. Late registrants, it is believed, will increase the total enrollment in the university to approximately 6000.

Classes are being enlarged daily by the newcomers, which has necessitated the postponing of a majority of the preliminary assignments until next week. An overcrowded condition prevails in many departments.

Prominent "pep talkers" will address men's meeting in Memorial Hall—Representative Women Will Speak to Girls at Temple—Doors Open at 11 O'clock.

All the echoes in the vicinity of the university campus will be torn from their habitats when the freshmen start their special convocations this morning with a good old cheer for the Scarlet and Cream. The men will hold forth with song, cheers and speeches in the chapel in the Armory, while the co-eds will make the rafters of the Temple theatre reverberate with unrepressed enthusiasm. The cheer-leaders are all set to go, on the old time "U-U-U-n-i," and expecting to instill some real Nebraska spirit into the meetings. The atmosphere on the campus has been fairly saturated with enthusiasm ever since registration began, and according to the authorities in the athletic department, there is absolutely no reason why this should not be the most successful season in the history of Nebraska.

Hundreds of old Cornhuskers many of whom have been in the service for more than a year, are back in school, and a something in the air, live and full of vitality, is already acting as a source of inspiration to the new students on the campus. This morning, these first year men and girls are to be initiated into the customs, traditions and activities of the student body of Nebraska. They are to learn what it is to be a true-hearted Cornhusker, and are to do their best to live up to the expectations of their Alma Mater.

Nebraska needs "pep." Freshmen especially, should make an effort to stand back of the school in all enterprises. Activities and athletics that are boosted and backed by every single member of the student body cannot fail! This year the freshmen are several thousand strong and they will all be out this morning to show the upper classmen of what stuff they are made. They will receive a good sized dose of Nebraska Spirit and will leave the rally with a feeling that the success of the University, in all ways, rests with them.

FAIR CO-EDS SWIM IN 'ER-'ER SILK B. V. D.'S

IT WAS 4 A. M. AT NORTH-WESTERN AND THE MILKMAN WAS THE ONLY SPECTATOR

CHICAGO—The milkman who supplies the dormitories of Northwestern University was—well, interested very early Saturday morning when he saw five co-eds in bathing. The milkman said they had on "some silk things that looked like B. V. D.'s."

Friday night the girls decided they had worked hard and deserved recreation. There are stringent rules at Northwestern; one must wear proper bathing suits; one must go in only with a chaperon; and above all one must go in only at proper hours.

It was 4 o'clock Saturday morning. Five kimono-clad figures stole down the fire escape of Chapin Hall. Then they raced to the lake.

The milkman watched them until they saw him. Then they raced home to the hall.

Mrs. Mary Benson was kind to them as they came in the front door, and didn't tell Dean Mary Ross Potter.

Football this year must start with a handicap. The first two games of the season will be held out of town, Iowa at Iowa City, Oct. 4, and Minnesota at Minneapolis on Oct. 11. This means that the team must play away from the home field and without the support of the grandstands filled to overflowing with cheering huskers. Since the team has to do without the actual support of the rooters, Nebraskans must give them a send-off which they will remember, one which will make them feel, when they are out on the strange field, battling for gain, that back home every loyal Cornhusker is with them heart and soul. Such spirit cannot help but bring victory, say loyal supporters of the school. Such spirit is Nebraska pep, the kind that is to be instilled into freshmen this morning.

DEAN C. C. ENDBERG ADVISES REGULAR SYSTEM OF STUDY

"Order your living and you will have plenty of time for study and recreation" said Dean Engberg in discussing "Adjustment to College Conditions," at the mid-week meeting of the Temple Y. M. C. A. last night.

Most of the incompletes of university life, he declared, are due to lack of system in studying and living. Have a definite time for everything and you will have plenty of opportunity for both study and recreation, he asserted.

"Take time to think," he said. "Think over every lesson after you have studied it and be sure you have the principles in mind. Every study requires two hours preparation." Dean Engberg urged that every man take as his motto the words "True hearted, whole hearted, faithful and true." In closing he said that he would be glad at any time to have students bring him their troubles no matter what they were but to never make it necessary for him to send for them.

Organization of the University Band was begun Tuesday afternoon when about 50 men presented themselves for try-outs. More than twenty of this number were selected by Professor W. T. Quick, the Director, and his assistants. It was expected that the men selected in the Wednesday and Thursday try-outs would swell the total number of pieces to seventy or seventy-five. Professor Quick states that the material is excellent and that a band of the usual high standard is assured.

The University Medical College

Reports from the University College of Medicine at Omaha indicate a large enrollment for the present year. The medical school has gradually come to be one of the large and important departments of the University. It has grown remarkably in the last few years and now ranks with leading medical institutions. Its location at Omaha brings the university into closer touch with the metropolis of the state and lays the foundation for the claim that Omaha as well as Lincoln is, in a sense, the home of the University. The value of the buildings, equipment and holdings of the College of Medicine is estimated at $1,505,219.
