COMEDY BY DRAMATIC CLUB SCORES HIT

"Les Folles" Brings Down Crowded House at Saturday Night Presentation

Les Folles, a musical vaudeville show written by the dramatic club, was presented to a "sold out" house at the Temple theatre Saturday evening. The play was given as if it were a rehearsal of a real show, a take off that convulsed the audience from start to finish.

The scene shifting was done before the audience, carrying out the idea mentioned in an introductory statement of the stage manager, Herman Thomas, that "the show was merely a rehearsal." This clever idea was maintained throughout the entire entertainment giving a delightfully informal touch.

Herman Thomas strode about with a very business-like air which he doffed from time to time as he saluted his friends in the audience. Irving Clark gave a good monologue concerning the rest of the show and various individuals. He closed with a pathetic story of a wounded American soldier in France.

Monsieur La Poudre and his printemps / mademoiselles made the hit of the evening. Melba Bradshaw, in a male impersonation and Herbert Yenne assisted by Mr. Goodbrood and Harry McKilly in extremely décolleté feminine apparel executed some graceful dances. Yenne, as the vamp, was very expert in his management of the part and kept the audience in paroxysms of merriment. One dance was rendered very effective by repeated blinking of the footlights throughout the dance.

Strode and Johnson Lead
Josephine Strode and Glen Johnson played the leading roles with good effect and presentation. Alfred Reese and Larry Raugh played important minor parts.

"The man upstairs" played by Genevieve Addleman, Walter Herbert and Carlisle Jones, was an ingenious and well done little bit of acting which kept the audience in a fever of anxiety as to what was coming next. Herman Schroeder in a very amusing black face act followed this.

A bewitching bevy of chorus girls captivated everyone with their songs and dancing: Olive Medis, Flavia Waters, Thelma Detweiler, Isabel Pearsall, Lois Melton, Mary Helen Alensworth and Rosavere Menaugh.

Les Folles was very successful in every way and the only regret of the audience was that it was too short.

MISS GRANT WILL BE CONVOCAION SPEAKER

Miss Grant, who has recently returned from France, will speak at convocation Tuesday morning in Memorial hall of her experiences and types of service in France of which little has ever been printed.

Miss Grant was for eight months regional director of decorations for the Le Mans district. Her work of decorating Y. M. C. A. huts and making things livable for the soldiers was deemed so important that she was given a camionette and a driver by the army. It is in honor of her driver that Miss Grant wears the insignia of the 34th division.

With the help of three men, Miss Grant managed this work of the Y. M. C. A. for the district extending fifty miles around Le Mans. While decorating was one very important part of her work, there were other things of a great variety which she did to cheer the soldiers, those who were training and fighting and later those who were waiting to go home.

"Has that young man who was calling on you given you any encouragement, Bernice?" asked her father. "Oh, yes, father. Last night he asked me if you and mother were pleasant to live with."

ORGANIZE WAYNE CLUB

Organization of the Wayne club was completed Friday evening when an enthusiastic group of former Wayne normal students and Wayne residents gathered in Social Science hall.

It was impossible to notify every eligible person of the meeting, or even to get a complete list of those students but it was estimated that the club can depend upon forty members this year. Members of the club point out that, as the Wayne normal grows, it will send an increasing number of students to the university.

The primary purpose of organizing the club is social. Those who attended the meeting Friday declared that the "pep" displayed guarantees that "lots of fun" is coming.

The club voted to have a group picture taken for the Cornhusker.

SOPHOMORES REVEL SATURDAY EVENING

First All-Sophomore Event of School Year Has Record Attendance

Hundreds of second-year students attended the "coming-out" party of the sophomore class Saturday evening, November 22, in the Armory. This event marked the first all-sophomore party of the school year.

Thanksgiving decorations were used throughout the chapel and armory. Each sophomore was "tagged" as he entered.

A clever program started the festivities. A skit entitled, "A Pair of Lunatics," was given by Mildred Gallehan and John Dawson. Lois Melton and George Bushnell gave a stunt from the "Follies" which were presented earlier in the evening in the Temple theatre.

Following the program the evening was spent in dancing in the Armory, and games were provided for those who did not care to dance.

Miss Amanda Heppner, Miss Jean Stewart, Miss Helen Comstock, Mrs. C. S. Jones, and Professor and Mrs. W. W. Burr were invited as chaperons.

The committees for the party were as follows:

Decoration—Fay Clark, chairman; Ben Lake, Elizabeth Scribner, Hesper Bell, and Sidney Stewart.

Refreshments—Harriet Ford, chairman; Jean Hudson, Mary Thomas, Herbert Gish, Alfred Isham.

Program and Music—Ruth Fickes, chairman; Mildred Gallehan, Marie Prouty, John Fike, Howard Hammond.

Reception—Donald Ibert, chairman; John Lawlor, Esther Passoni, Beulah Mills, Eva Holloway.

LOW SALARIES OF TEACHERS ENDANGERS EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM

The nation-wide agitation for increasing salaries for teachers in all branches of educational work has taken but one thing into consideration, namely, the fact that the instructors are unable to subsist on the wages they now receive. A prominent university authority has pointed out, however, that there is another side to the question that receives less attention, but that is of prime importance: the danger to education which low wages tend to bring about.

He declares that a young man or even a middle aged man who takes up teaching as a profession does so at his own discretion. He knows that with the education he has acquired that he will be able to draw a much larger salary than that which is complementary to the position of instructor in a modern institution of learning. Under such conditions it is his (Continued on Page Four.)

SIG EPS AND ATOS WIN IN FRATERNITY FOOTBALL SATURDAY

Sigma Phi Epsilon and Alpha Tau Omega demonstrated their gridiron supremacy over Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Beta Theta Pi, respectively, Saturday forenoon on Nebraska field in one of the greatest football classics ever staged in Lincoln. The Greek double-header was a football event that will live long in the memory of Cornhusker students. It is thought that each team had at least two men who had played before and there were three Sig Eps and two A. T. O.'s who knew a drop-kick from a line buck.

The Sig Ep-Sig Alpha fray was the first number on the program and from the first blast of the whistle a victory for Sigma Phi Epsilon was apparent. After advancing the ball to the Sig Alpha two-yard line by every tactic, gridiron and otherwise, Cressell smashed through for the first touchdown and goal was kicked. Wishart was responsible for the second counter. He grabbed a Sig Alpha fumble and romped 35 yards to a touchdown. The attempt at goal failed and the total score was 13. Neither team scored in the second half, the honors being about even. On lookers thought the game would end in a general free-for-all when Brothers Pickett and Hopkins engaged in a little personal controversy but the affair was settled without bloodshed. Cressell, Wishart, Hussey, and Pickett starred (Continued on Page Four.)

Thug Sees Stars In Attempt To Halt University Student

Hold-up Man Receives Knock-out Blow From Bryant

"Hands up!" The command was met with immediate action on the part of Sherman Bryant, '22. He swung his umbrella and fled. Here is the story.

It was Thursday night (hour withheld by Student Council) and Sherman Bryant was making his weary way back to the Phi Psi house after a well spent evening at rummy. As he was passing the Teachers' college at 14th and S streets a man walked out of the shadows and demanded that he raise his hands in the direction of the Milky Way. Bryant did not stop to arbitrate, he did not even stop to raise his hands. Involuntarily he swung his furied umbrella at the thug's head, connected with his neck just below the ear, and as the highwayman staggered, Bryant took A. W. O. L.

MID-SEMESTERS SHOW ONE STUDENT OUT OF FOUR DELINQUENT

The midsemesters reports show 1000 delinquent students. These delinquents, of course, include all cases from serious ones down to mere clerical errors. This is about the usual proportion of one out of four. As the delinquencies are heavier among men than among women, it means that the proportion of delinquent men is somewhere between one-third and one-half. One hundred thirty-three were delinquent in half or more of their hours, and thirty-four of these have been dismissed from the institution. Due to an excess of social engagements during the first half of the semester, the proportion in some of the fraternities has run up to almost three out of four. It is exceedingly gratifying to see how many of the fraternities are taking vigorous steps toward checking this social excess with a view towards raising their scholarship.

FRESHMAN GIRLS IN SOCCER TOURNAMENT SATURDAY MORNING

The 2 o'clock class soccer team defeated the 10 o'clock class team by a score of 3 to 0 in the finals of the freshmen girls soccer tournament, played Saturday morning, in the Armory. In the two preliminary games the 10 o'clock class were victors over the 9 o'clock class with a score of 3 to 1 and the 2 o'clock class won from the 3 o'clock class by a score of 2 to 1.

The games were hard fought and fast. Judging from the showing made in these games, the final freshmen team will make formidable opponents in the inter-class tournament. The lineups were as follows:

Two o'clock class—Beulah Grabill, captain; Ida Edwards, Florence Sherman, Dorothy Dow, Adelheit Veltman, Elma Ross, Martha Hilton, Anna Herman, Elizabeth Wilcox, Mary Redgewick, Joyce Rundstrom.

Ten o'clock class—Nell Bates, captain; Ruth Kindly, Emma Cross, Geraldine Norton, Cora Dale, Nell Holtz, Helen Carson, Dorothy Jones, Belle Farman, Mary Lococo, Amy Rowan, Mable Souther.

Three o'clock class—Dorothy Teal, captain; Katherine Matchett, Blanche Clemmons, Amy Stowell, Mildred Hullinger, Ruth McMill, Carol Aylsworth, Melvina Stille, Grace Pegler, Doris Reynolds, Margaret Ulry, Margaret Falconer, Blanche Gramelick.

FUNERAL OF FORMER NEBRASKA MAN TODAY

The funeral of Clifford Phillips, a former University of Nebraska man, will be at the First Presbyterian church, 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. He was killed while in the army in Siberia, during a skirmish with enemy forces.

Mr. Phillips attended Nebraska University for two years, from 1909 to 1911, and then went to Ann Arbor where he graduated from the University of Michigan College of Law in 1914. He enlisted in the army shortly after the United States entered the World War and was sent to Siberia with the expeditionary forces there, where he lost his life.

The pall bearers at the funeral will consist of five members of the American Legion and five members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. His parcuts have asked ex-soldiers who can readily do so to attend the funeral services.

HOOSIERS TROUNCE SYRACUSE BOYS 12-6

Jumbo Stiehm's Gridders Sweep Nebraska's Turkey Day Opponents Off Their Feet

Confident of an easy victory Syracuse university, champion of the east, was humiliated by a 12-6 defeat Saturday at Bloomington at the hands of Jumbo Stiehm's Hoosiers, the tail-enders of the Big Ten conference. Entering the game 3-1 favorites, the Easterners were swept off their feet in the first quarter, Indiana scoring 9 points. Risley added 3 more in the second period with a field goal from the 30-yard line.

In the second half the Hoosiers resorted to a defensive game. The Orange team advanced as far as the Indiana 8-yard line but could go no farther. Using open football, Syracuse drove down the field in the final period and Erwig went over for a touchdown, the attempt at goal failing.

The defeat of Syracuse was the biggest upset of the dope this season and upsets have been anything but uncommon. Just what bearing this surprise will have on the Syracuse-Nebraska game Thanksgiving Day, is hard to tell. Possibly the Orange morale will be so weakened by the Hoosier victory that the Cornhuskers will also trounce the Easterners. It is more probable, however, that the game at Bloomington will put more fight and spirit into the Orange attack and Syracuse will meet Nebraska with renewed strength and courage.

CONTRIBUTIONS TAKEN FOR NEEDY FAMILIES

The Y. W. C. A. social service committee will place boxes about the campus for contributions Tuesday and Wednesday to Thanksgiving diners for poor families of Lincoln, money at the library entrance, fruit and vegetables at the library entrance, near the door of the armory, and in the Y. W. C. A. room in social science building.

SENIOR LAWS PLAN DANCE AND BANQUET

The senior law class is planning on a dance and stag banquet the first semester, according to plans outlined at the first class meeting held Friday. Officers for the Senior laws who are taking senior work were elected as follows: President, Carlisle Jones; vice president, Homer Carson; secretary, William Cull; treasurer, Clifford Scott; and sergeants at arms, R. Robinson and Edward Shoemaker. The dance will be held in January and the banquet before the holidays.

Thirty-fourth division, hear Miss Grant at convocation tomorrow.

FRESHIES HOLD CHAMPS TO TIE

York College Fails to Roll Up a Single Score Against Yearlings

Holding the champion York college eleven to a scoreless tie Saturday on Nebraska field, the university freshmen exhibited their gridiron strength. The teams were evenly matched in poundage. The freshmen had a slight edge on the visitors throughout the entire conflict, but lacked the driving power to make a final spurt across the goal line. Only in aerial play were the freshmen overshadowed by the Yorkers.

More than a thousand fans were in the bleachers and the gate receipts easily exceeded $500. This assures the freshmen that trophy sweaters will be given them, as the net receipts, after York's expenses have been paid, will be used for that purpose. Considerable spirit was manifested by Cornhusker students in the stands. Led by Turner, they gave heartening and encouraging cheers to the first year team.

The Yearlings were supreme in the first quarter. They smashed down as far as York's 18-yard line where Frank's men held fast and took the ball on downs. Myers booted the piggskin out of danger. In the second period York enlarged the freshmen goal. A 30-yard forward pass and a line buck by Zimmerman brought them to the Freshmen's 20-yard line. Hamilton attempted a kick from placement but it sailed wide of the posts, and taking the ball on their own 20-yard line, the Freshmen punted to the other end of the field.

The third quarter saw a continual exchange of punts between Myers and Moore, the York artist having a slight advantage. Neither team was able to muster enough force to get within striking distance of the goal line. The best football was displayed in the final period. York was almost scoreless when Myers intercepted a forward pass and apparently had a clear field. A flying tackle by Wenke, however, brought him to earth and defeat was again stayed off. Another pass, Brown to Coffey, was good for 27 yards, the ball being advanced to the Freshmen 12-yard line. Doty intercepted the next aerial attempt by York and returned 17 yards.

"Chick" Hartley and Martin were the stellar performers in the Yearlings' final bid for a touchdown. Brilliant runs by Hartley and vicious plunges by Martin brought the oval to York's 25-yard line, where Hartley attempted a dropkick but was unsuccessful. The work of Hartley, Martin and Doty in the backfield and of Sturm, Weller, and Nelson in the line was especially notable.
