SIG EPS AND ATOS WIN IN FRATERNITY FOOTBALL SATURDAY

for the Sig Eps and Sword, Gish, and Haggard made most of the Sig Alpha gains. The final score was 13-0. The A. T. O's had everything their own way in the clash with the Betas. 33-0 was the result according to the official scorer but a close count was not kept and it is possible that a touchdown or two was missed. At any rate, the Betas were decisively defeated. Not a single first down was credited to Beta Theta Pi while the A. T. O's were not compelled to punt once. Lees, Sandrock, and Stewart each gathered one touchdown and Hauser made two. The Betas gave up in the fourth period after the last touchdown and conceded a goal.

LOW SALARIES OF TEACHERS ENDANGERS EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM

privilege and even his duty to leave the school and take up work outside which will bring him a more adequate compensation. It would be foolish for him to remain in school to the disadvantage of himself and family. This is being realized more and more each day by professors, and numbers have left the higher places in schools and colleges throughout the country because of the fact that they could draw a larger salary by getting into business.

Right there is the danger to American education. The men who have the education necessary to make them instructors in the schools are finding that they can make more money by going into some other profession. They are right when they step out into the world and attempt to make a success. It is only human that they should. But where will we find the instructors for our seats of learning in the future? If the standing of the educational institutions are to be upheld we will need more trained instructors and better trained instructors than ever before. There is where the salary proposition strikes back at the tax payer and patron.

During the past decade education has taken a step toward destruction. True, more men and women enter our higher courts of learning each year but, do they get the training that they should? It is hardly probable that they do when we are hiring teachers who will take the positions offered. We expect to get something we have to pay the piper. We can get third raters at a minimum wage. Is it third raters that the schools are calling for? Is it third rate educations that are so necessary in business, evidently, to secure first rate goods. This doesn't go in business and it is bound to fall in education.

Each year this is shown more and more to be true by the number of poorly trained students who arrive at the colleges and universities throughout the land. Their teachers in high school were unable to give them the training required because the high schools hired a poorer grade of teacher than it should. And the Normal schools are face to face with the same proposition. Here it is even more essential that the teachers be of the best material available. They are teaching teachers. The newly acquired certificate of a normal graduate will not insure the youth of America that they will be given the training they should have if the teacher has not been trained. The Primary and gradeschools are today, in the main, in the poorest condition they have ever been placed. If the student

ent has poor instruction in the first steps of life he can never hope to overcome the great injustice done him.

It has become necessary for many of the great colleges to require an entrance examination because of the large number of students who apply annually for entrance. These schools have not the time and equipment to give the courses a student must needs have mastered in the elementary schools. They desire only those who are ready to make progress. The process of elimination by examination is the scheme whereby they are able to find the best material, that which they retain to develop into educated men and women. The numbers who fail to reach the goal is enormous. Our educational system is fast becoming a failure.

This is the age where men and women have training to face the battles of life. If they are to be properly trained they must have instructors who can fill the bill. Unless we will pay men salaries which will tend to draw the best educated instructors into our schools instead of forcing them to seek other walks of life for a means of livelihood, education is doomed. And with the fall of education a chaotic state in all branches of life is eminent.
