Silver Lynx entertained at its formal dancing party Saturday evening at the Lincoln Hotel for seventy-five couples. Maroon and silver, the fraternity colors, were used in decoration. Maroon and silver lamp shades were used, and these colors were carried out in the ices and cakes. At one end of the ball-room was a large moon which furnished the light for moonlight dances. At the other end of the room was a silver lynx head with electrically lighted eyes. The guests were entertained by an entertainer who danced and sang during the intermission and at intervals during the evening. The programs were miniature notebooks, with covers of abalonia shell. The chaperons were Governor and Mrs. McKelvie, Dean and Mrs. Le Rossignol, Professor and Mrs. Barbour, Prof. and Mrs. George Foster, and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Decker. Among the out-of-town guests were Ralph Wagner, Omaha; Harold McNab, Omaha, and Bruce Eldridge Omaha.

University Union Society held its thirty-fifth annual banquet in the garden room of the Lincoln Hotel Saturday evening. The hall was decorated in the society colors, purple and gold. This color scheme was carried out in the floral decorations of violets and yellow roses. The following alumni and active members were called upon by the toastmaster, Edwin Partridge, 17: "Leap Year," Miss Olivia Pound, '95; "Inside Dope," Alfred Hinze; "Nonsense," Miss Myrna Jones, '15; "Kidding," Ivan Worley, '20; "Smiles," Miss Hazel Beckwith. The society string quartette and a mixed quartette furnished music during the evening. The alumni present were Miss Myrna Jones, Miss Olivia Pound, Miss Louise Pound, Miss Irene Jacobs, Miss Kathryn Busse, Miss Olive Lehmer, Miss Vera Warner, Mrs. Leo Gessell, Professor and Mrs. Almy, and Mr. Edwin Partridge.

Sigma Nu formally entertained thirty-three couples at its annual Pig Dinner at the chapter house. This is a tradition that has been maintained by the local chapter since its installation at Nebraska and is well known as a custom among other chapters of the fraternity. During the dinner, Miss Charline Barnes of Omaha entertained with singing and dancing. Decorations of black, white and gold effectively carried out the fraternity colors. Red roses and candle shades furnished the decorations for the tables. Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Emery and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mosely were invited as chaperons.

One hundred couples attended the informal party of Acacia at the Scottish Rite Temple. Elaborate floral decorations were used and the lights were shaded in subdued colors. Favors of Ophelia roses were given to the guests. Invited as chaperons were: Prof. and Mrs. George R. Charburn, Prof. and Mrs. C. W. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Schulte.

The wedding of Beulah Aylesworth, '21, to Paul Sardeson will take place Wednesday evening at the Blackstone in Omaha. Miss Aylesworth is a daughter of Mrs. Florence Aylesworth of Denison, Iowa. She left the university shortly before the Christmas holidays to complete her wedding arrangements. Miss Aylesworth is a member of Delta Gamma.

PROFESSORS TO HELP PLAN GREATER LINCOLN

Dean O. V. P. Stout, Prof. V. L. Hollister and Prof. Arthur G. Gehrig have been selected to serve as members of the city planning committee. Professor Gehrig will act as secretary of the committee. The Lincoln Commercial Club recently formed the committee for the purpose of working out some suitable plan for a greater Lincoln. The city along with many other cities, has grown up in accordance with no definite plans. The mistakes resulting from such a method are evident. It is hoped to effect a plan by which the growth of Lincoln and its suburbs may be worked out to beautify the city.

Prof. Paul Good has a larger class in Roman law than has ever registered for that subject in the law school. This course has not been given for several years.

LUNCHEON OF THE ORDER OF THE GOLDEN FLEECE

The Queen of those who glisten in the sun!
My crown?—I wear the flashing scarlet plume.
Of all these sparkling sprites, I am the one
Whose Titian tresses pierce the deepest gloom.

Such were the verses accompanying the award of the prize for "general all-round scintillating, captivating golden glow" at the luncheon of the Order of the Golden Fleece, of the state university Saturday afternoon in the red room of the Lincoln Hotel. The prize went to Miss Vivian Hansen of Lincoln. The prize for the most vivid tresses, dimming those of all others in attendance, went to Miss Betty Kennedy of Omaha. All were eligible to attend the luncheon who passed the registration committee as having tresses falling within the following range of colors:—squash, carrot, orange, brick, flamingo, scarlet, maroon, copper, auburn, henna, mahogany, sorrel, cerise and pink. Those shading off into lemon or putty color on the one hand, or into insipid brown on the other, were barred as "neers." "Chemicals" were also barred.

Part I
"Heroes with Henna Hair," Dorothy Teal.

"Life of Titian," Leona Mills.
"Let a Lower Lower Light be Burning," Frances Botkin.

"Of What Shade Was the Hair of Lydia E. Pinkham?" Magdalene Craft.
"Rainbow's End," Louise Pound.

Part II
"Trio Brilliant with Coloratura Effect," Luella and Margaret Gettys and Evelyn Jones.

Recitation
Dance Escalate, Frances Carrothers.

WISCONSIN UNIVERSITY RAISES PAY OF FACULTY

Madison, Wis., Feb. 9.—An increase of salaries amounting to nearly 25 per cent per annum and beginning with the second semester of the current year has just been granted to the faculty of the University of Wisconsin by action of the board of regents.

In announcing the increase to the faculty, President Birge said:

"The regents of the university have made a substantial addition to the salaries of the faculty to take effect the second semester of the current year. The addition applies to those persons who were members of the faculty in preceding years and only in exceptional cases to those who entered the faculty with the current year. This change in salaries has not been made on the basis of a flat percentage, but the addition amounts to the average rate of nearly 25 per cent of professors and to a somewhat smaller rate for instructors."

"Smiles"

That was the order of the day for every man who took advantage of this great sale—and judging from the spirited selling, a large part of the men of Lincoln are rejoicing over their fortunate purchases.

There is plenty here for selection, but hurry—the plums are not all picked—as you know whenever we hold a sale we have the goods and enough to go around.

Men's Suits and O'Coats—Broken lines from our regular stock including many of the celebrated Society models—One, two or three of a kind—That's the reason for the low prices.

WYER DENIES REMOVAL OF LIBRARY TO CAMPUS

I have repeatedly stated to the state librarian that the university administration would oppose such a movement strenuously. No such proposal was made to the American library association committee which recently visited Lincoln. These facts show the absurdity of the rumor which is allowed to circulate so persistently through the state house. The facts in the case are as follows:

Outlines New Plan

"In 1916 I outlined a plan which had the approval of the state librarian whereby the state library should give up the development of the general and miscellaneous collection—specializing in law and related subjects and whereby the university library should be recognized as the general reference library of the state with the other state supported libraries located in the same building.

"This plan was endorsed by the Nebraska library association.

"A joint legislative committee in 1917 studied the situation and recommended that the policy of developing a general and miscellaneous collection at the state library be abandoned.

"Recently a committee of the American library association made a survey of the libraries in the light of library experience throughout the country and its report just submitted to Governor McKelvie recommends that a general or miscellaneous collection at the state library be discontinued. This committee also recommends that the constitutional convention omit from the new constitution the provision in the old constitution authorizing miscellaneous collection as a part of the state library.

"On the other hand the state librarian has announced at a public meeting that as soon as ample library facilities are provided in the new capitol he will actively develop the general and miscellaneous collection of the state library.

"Nebraska is one of four states where the state university and the state capitol are located in the same city. The state library association, a joint legislative committee, and a commission of librarians representing the national professional organization have all recognized that it is good business for the state to take advantage of this fact, by developing the university library as the general reference collection for the state thus saving the expense of building up and maintaining another general library at the state house.

World Herald States Issue.

"The World Herald editorial Jan. 31, 1920 states the issue clearly:

"The state of Nebraska owns and supports a large and growing miscellaneous collection of books in the state university library in the city of Lincoln. It also owns a small and not obviously useful miscellaneous collection of books rather haphazardly brought together as are adjunct of the state law library at the state capitol in Lincoln a few minutes distant from the university library. No one doubts the necessity of the university library; no books, no college; that is evident. No one questions the necessity for a law library at the state house; the court and the legislature both need it. But it is certainly not clear to many persons why in the same city and within easy walk, the state should be called upon to pay for the support and increase of two general libraries both miscellaneous and inevitably duplicating one another's purchases.

"You see therefore that it is questioned by no one that the location and control of the state law library should be in the hands of the supreme court. There is, however, a strong conviction that the state should not pay for two general libraries in Lincoln and the decision should not be made once for all by constitutional provision but should be left open for legislation in accordance with the need as the state grows and develops. Very truly yours,

"MALCOLM G. WYER, Librarian, University of Nebraska."
