Y. M. C. A. TO SEND HOLCOMBE FUNDS

The work which Mr. Holcombe is doing in the Mohammeda University at Cairo is done in connection with the Y. M. C. A. He teaches the natives the secret of American ideals and truly high life ambitions. Mr. Holcombe has not been long in Cairo but is sincerely interested in his work. He experienced much difficulty in getting his passports and after an attempt which resulted in failure returned to Nebraska for a short time before his boat sailed. He was on the way nearly a month and sailed from New York on November 15. The trip was made on an Italian ship, the Taorminia, which went directly to Naples.

Next week the campaign will begin in earnest, and individual solicitors will see every university man, and give him an opportunity to contribute to the Holcombe drive.

Mr. Holcombe was for two years state student secretary of the Y. M. C. A. During his residence in Lincoln test at the Husker institution this nation-wide acquaintances. He was president of the class of 1917, and also of the university Y. M. C. A. He is a member of Alpha Theta Chi and is well known in Nebraska for his work in scholastic activities.

WAR DECLARED ON PROFITEER

"In the buying of non-essentials you are crippling the production of essentials," declared the speaker.

"The chief method which we can apply to bring down the prices is to stop foolish buying. It is your patriotic duty to make your old clothes last as long as possible and not to buy non-essentials."

"We must economize," began Professor J. O. Rankin, the second speaker. He brought out the need of working out our own problem—that of working and saving. We must not blame others for the high prices but each one must do his share by doing careful and economical buying.

Miss Ruth Hutton represented the university girls at the meeting. She brought forth the appeal for thrift, made by all men of prominence in the country's affairs through the newspapers and magazines. University people are not doing their share in the work. She brought out the extravagance of the university students in sending home for more money each month and in buying extravagantly.

"Campus life is governed by tradition," said the first student speaker. "If it is the fact to be economical, then the purpose of this campaign will have been accomplished; so let's make it the fact to be economical."

Harry Reed gave a short talk on the part of the university men in this movement.

"Men now seem to think that silk shirts are a necessity," he asserted. Four years ago silk shirts comprised about ten per cent of the retailers business in that line, now it comprises about sixty-five per cent." He concluded by emphasizing the need of co-operation among the men in this economy drive.
