A NEW SPORT STRIKES THE CAMPUS

With the opening of the first annual Inter-Fraternity Bowling Tournament, comes a new reign of indoor sport. Nebraska is famed for its outdoor sports but this is a different venture as a school affair. There are sixteen fraternities entered, showing that the game has become very popular recently. As is customary in such contests, a banner is awarded to the winning team. Inter-fraternity contests have become general now on all athletic lines. In the various houses are displayed banners for foot-ball, basket-ball, track, the tug-of-war and cups for tennis, so now some group will soon have a new trophy to bear home.

This is another form of University activity, which, after all, makes up such an interesting part of college life. One comes to the University to learn and to learn how to think, but fortunate is the man who, while remembering that lessons come first, identifies himself with the various activities about the campus. He is doing a definite work for the school and school spirit and at the same time is training himself for other than purely academic and technical things. "College activities are not the 'side-shows' of college. They are the laboratories of all the other departments. They are practical training courses of life."

THE INTER-CHURCH WORLD MOVEMENT

We wish to correct an impression which seems to pervade the campus that the religious-training conference to be here next week, is being sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. associations only. While they would be glad to have the honor of presenting the work to the students, they wish to have it known that it is even a greater idea than it appears to be. The conference is an All-University Movement, backed by the W. S. G. A., Y. M. C. A., W. A. A. and all the representative organizations of this University. It is being held in all the large colleges of the country and Nebraska University is especially fortunate in having included, in the team to be sent here, some of the greatest men in modern inter-church work.

LET HIM NOW SPEAK

Although there has been an almost constant discussion going on through the columns of The Dartmouth in regard to the merits of the honor system, all that has taken place so far has been strangely partial—it has all been in favor of the proposition. To be sure, it has all been worth saying, but it is vital to any definite decision that the College be fully aware of the arguments to be advanced on the negative side.

From the sentiment around the campus, it is perfectly obvious that there is present a well-defined feeling in some quarters against the honor system for Dartmouth—that it is fundamentally useless, that it is not applicable to the situation here, and that it will never meet any appreciable success if tried. With some this feeling of opposition is exceedingly intense. There is another large group consisting of those who are undecided and stand open to conviction one way or the other. Surely in that body of opponents of the plan there are men able and willing to act as spokesmen for their faction.

If anything is to be accomplished, this constant patting of the honor system on the back must be met by the opposing views, and free vent be given to those keenly insistent on the folly of any such undertaking. The Dartmouth has thrown its columns open to a non-partisan discussion, and welcomes any communications in answer to the statements already made in favor of such a plan as has been advocated.—The Dartmouth.
