Alpha Xi Delta held its annual banquet in the Garden Room of the Lincoln Hotel. About eighty active and alumnae guests were present. The tables arranged to form a large semi-circle were decorated with tall crystal vases holding pink roses and wreaths of smilax interwoven with gold and blue ribbon ran down the two sides of the tables. As favors old fashioned corsages, made of candy, tied with blue and gold tulle were given the guests. Hazel Harnsberger, '16, as toast-mistress called upon the following responses to her toast "The Quill;" "Querulous Quillings of Quaint Quibblers," Kathryn Bedoom; "Unprecedented Understanding of Unusual Undergraduates," Mary Sheldon; "Inestimable Idealism of Incomparable Individuals," Jessie Wagner; "Laudable Love of Loyal Lasses," Helen Fischer; "Lasting Loyalty of Lustrous Lumina," Edith Yungblut Babson.

Kappa chapter of Delta Delta Delta held the annual banquet in the ball-room of the Lincoln Hotel. Each table was decorated with three deltas made of pine filled with purple pansies. At each place was a candle of silver, gold or blue with the corresponding shades. Corsages, of candy, also carrying out the color scheme were given the guests. Alice Welsh, as toastmistress called upon the following to reply to her toast, "The House of Deltas Three." "The Bungalow," Marian Humpus, "The Doorway," "The Dream Garden," "The Stars," Esther Hunter van Orsdale; "The Homestead," Cleo Corry. After an original stunt given by the freshmen a paper written by the active members was distributed. This paper known as the Tri Scream is always a part of the banquet and appears regularly every year.

One hundred couples were entertained at the annual formal dancing party of Alpha Phi given in the large ball-room of the Lincoln Hotel. Tall floor lamps with shades of bordeaux and silver and jars of ferns were placed around the room, while on the table, from which punch was served, silver vases with red roses gave an attractive note to the party. On either side of the entrance to the ball-room there were small tables with silver plates of bon-bons. Chaperons were Dr. and Mrs. Hollenbeck, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cornell, Professor and Mrs. Martin, and Mrs. O. M. Paynter.
