L. H. S. CLASS PLAY TO BE PRESENTED TWICE

Seniors Will Give "The Man of the Hour" Friday and Monday Evenings.

Tickets for the High School Senior class play, "The Man of the Hour," to be given Friday evening have been entirely sold. The play will be repeated Monday evening, April 19, at 7:30 p. m. in the Lincoln High School Auditorium.

No reserved tickets for the second performance will be sold. General admission tickets are on sale at the High School Building and will be sold at some downtown store soon. This play is the first class play for a number of years which has given a second performance to accommodate the large number of people who desire to see the play.

Every ticket was sold during the first day of reservations open to the public and a large number of persons were obliged to buy tickets for the second performance. The cast for the play has been hard at work for four weeks and a finished performance is guaranteed by the coach, Mrs. Ruth Newlon. "The Man of the Hour" is a four-act play by Broadhurst, an exciting story of the New York stock market. Former graduates of L. H. S. will be welcomed to the High School Monday evening at the play performance.

Members of the college of pharmacy faculty are preparing several reports to be presented at the Washington, D. His report which will be presented before the revision committee will pertain to desirable changes in themicroanalytical descriptions of vegetable drugs. Dean Lyman also will attend the Washington meetings and appear on the programs.

An appropriation has been made to replace the 1,000 pound testing machine in Mechanic Arts Hall, which was sold during the war. A different type of machine will be chosen and it is hoped to secure one that can take in sixteen foot beams.

THE DAILY DITTY

by

Gayle Vincent Grubb

The males and females say no word
 The silence is complete;
 I never saw such quietude,
 I've never seen it beat.

The wagging jaw has ceased to wag
 And scandal's pretty rare;
 There ain't no sign of boneheads,
 breaks,
 Or wise cracks anywhere.

Some ask, "What causes all this lull,
 With all things running right?"
 And I might answer, "Well perhaps,
 The Shun or Uni. Night."

The world is large but queerly small
 When deeds of scandal thrive;
 There's none can wander with a drone
 And get back in the hive.

So hear me, pin the ear drums back
 And park up near the front,
 And chew your gum in thoughtfulness
 And laugh and cuss and grunt.

For all the choice that's flitted here
 And many thought was dead,
 Will live again, two-fold in strength
 And details, so it's said.

Ah me! oh my! I'd hate to state
 The programs as they lay;
 I think I'll lend an ear myself
 And you, my friends, what say?

CAMPUS NOTES

Teachers' Seminars

Dean Charles Fordyce and Prof. W. E. Sealock of the Teachers' College have two seminars on Saturday morning for teachers from the surrounding towns, who come in on the early morning trains, attend classes through the morning and spend the afternoon in the University Library, returning to their work the same evening. The "Principles of Education" is the subject dealt with by Professor Sealock from eight to ten; then the Dean takes the class and discusses with them mental measurements of an instrument in teaching and supervising. This gives the attending teachers opportunity to earn four hours in residence.

Lecture for Dentists

Dean W. Clyde Davis of the College of Dentistry will give a lantern lecture showing microscopical slides of his research in histopathology of the cementum as related to the filling of root canals, in the general lecture room in Bessey Hall, Monday, April 19, at 7:30 p. m. The lecture is open to the public but will be of especial interest to dentists and physicians.

Faculty Women's Club

The meeting of the Faculty Women's Club is postponed from April 14 to April 21, owing to the dedication of the Agricultural Engineering Building on the afternoon of April 14.

Moving of Reference Bureau

The work of moving the legislative reference bureau was completed this week. The bureau occupies four basement rooms in the Library Building, opposite the Historical Society rooms. The objects of this moving are to bring under one roof the three principal libraries.

Probably no other library in the state contains so many periodicals dealing with the particular questions handled in this library. Government bulletins and commercial publications are here received. Graduate students and professors from a number of higher institutions frequently use this library.
