OMAHA STUDENTS IN CITY TODAY

400 Commercial High School Pupils Come by Special Train for Visit.

UNIVERSITY TO ENTERTAIN

Four hundred students of the Omaha Commercial high school will arrive in Lincoln this morning at 9:30. A special train on the Burlington has been chartered to convey the Omahans to the capitol city. The students will come to Lincoln with the purpose of visiting the city's institutions and primarily the University of Nebraska.

The Omaha Club at the University will pilot the visitors over the city and will devote their efforts in making the visit a memorable one. The club members will meet the high schoolers at the station where special cars will take them to the state penitentiary for a short visit.

An interesting sight-seeing trip has been mapped out for the day. The program includes illustrated lectures, a stock judging contest at the State Farm, dinner at the University cafeteria, and the Lincoln-Omaha high school debate at the high school will conclude the schedule for the day.

The program arranged for the Omaha high school students is as follows:

- 9:30—Visit to the penitentiary.
- 11:00-12:30—Visit to various State Farm buildings. Observe demonstration in stock judging.
- 12:30-1:30—Lunch at State Farm dining hall.
- 2:00-3:00—Visit Art Department on the downtown campus.
- 3:00-4:00—Visit Museum.

ENGINEERS SET ASIDE WEEK FOR ACTIVITIES

WILL HOLD BANQUET AND HEAR PROMINENT SPEAKERS

The annual series of festivities for Engineers are scheduled to take place next week. The week of May 3-8 has been set aside as "Engineers' Week" and is to be a big week if the plans at hand are not interfered with. The schedule includes a special Engineers' convocation and Engineers' edition of the "Rag" on Wednesday; a field day celebration on Thursday; and "Open House" on Friday night. The week is to be topped off with a banquet at the Lindell Hotel on Saturday evening.

R. B. Howell, director of the Metropolitan Water Board of Omaha, is to be the principle speaker at convocation on Tuesday. Every Engineer should be there because Mr. Howell has something worth while for them.

Several novel stunts have been arranged for Field Day. Baseball games and other contests between students and faculty men of the various departments will be featured.

On Friday night, the public will be given an opportunity to see the Engineers at work. All of the laboratories will be in operation and numerous exhibits of engineering work will be at hand. In the mechanical laboratory.

WILL DEBATE ON LODGE AMENDMENT

Iowa and Nebraska Speakers Will Disagree on Ailments of Article X Tonight.

On the biggest question before the American people today, the after-the-war attitude of the United States toward world affairs as affected by the proposed League of Nations, the Nebraska student can get two hours of sifted and packed information this evening at the Nebraska-Iowa debate in the Temple Theater. It will not be campaign "oratory"; it will be debating—the arraying of expert witnesses to establish facts; drawing conclusions from facts; and presenting conclusions with what clarity and vigor the picked representatives of these two state universities are capable of.

In two respects the debates this year are different from those of preceding years. They are to be more informal and an open forum discussion is to follow them. From the audience questions will be asked which Governor McKelvie, the presiding officer, will refer to the teams for reply. This new feature is expected to add both to the general interest and to the educational value of the event.

SELECT CAPTAINS FOR CLASS BASEBALL TEAMS

The temporary captains for the girls' class baseball teams have been announced and teams will be picked soon. The girls who have been selected to act as temporary captains for the nines are Senior, Irene Shuff, Junior, Sue Stille; Sophomore, Eva Hollaway and Freshman, Nell Holtz.

There will be a Senior first team and both a first and second team for the other classes. Ten practices are required to be a candidate for a team. These practices must be completed before five o'clock May 6.

The inter-fraternity baseball tournament will be inaugurated next Monday according to the committee which has just completed the two-week schedule for the Greek series. Twenty-one teams have entered the tourney. All games will be played at the M street and Cushman parks. Contrary to precedent the umpires have not been selected by the committee. Opposing teams will have the privilege of choosing their own umpire.

The games this spring promise to eclipse all others in previous years. There is an abundance of major league material in the University this year and these veterans expect to flash some fast diamond playing. All men who have played in Varsity games this season will be banned from the inter-fraternity games.

Following is the lineup for the first three days of the tournament:

- Monday, May 3
  - Phi Gamma Delta vs. Alpha Sigma Phi, six o'clock, M street park.
  - Pi Kappa Phi vs. Silver Lynx, one o'clock, Cushman park.
- Tuesday, May 4
  - Alpha Theta Chi vs. Sigma Phi Epsilon, six o'clock, M street park.
  - Acacia vs. Delta Upsilon, one o'clock, Cushman park.

SEVEN WRESTLERS AWARDED LETTERS

Committee Passes on Minor Sports Recommendations and Approve Giving Emblems.

The committee on awards has granted seven N's to seven grapplers. The announcement of the granting of letters was made yesterday by Provost Lees after the committee had passed on the names presented by Captain Troendly.

H. P. Troendly has served the team three years in succession, never losing a fall. In the 125 he won his first "N" and in the same weight was elected captain last year. This is Troendly's last year in school and he leaves with the inter-collegiate championship, won in the 135 at the Urbana meet the first of April.

M. R. Smith, C. C. Votapka, R. S. Long, C. E. Hoyt, G. B. Pickwell and G. S. Salter are the other six men to win their letters. This combination, under the direction of Prof. R. G. Clapp, made a record this year in wrestling circles. They defeated Omaha Y. M. C. A., trimmed Minnesota in every weight, lost to Oklahoma Mechanical and Agricultural College 23-17 and won second in the inter-collegiate meet at Urbana, Illinois, with nine University teams competing.

AVERY SPEAKS BEFORE CHEMISTRY CLUB TODAY

Chancellor Avery will speak on the "Development of Chemistry in the University" under the auspices of the Chemistry Club at five, Friday afternoon, April 30, general lecture room, Chemistry Building.

The Chancellor was formerly director of the chemistry department and has seen the department increase from one "professor of science" and six (more or less) test tubes to the department we now have. He will also tell some of the future plans for the department and the University.

HASKELL DUE FOR DRUBBING

Huskers Are Going After Redmen With Speed and Accurate Clubs.

K. U. LATEST VICTIM

The Cornhusker ball team has hit its stride during the past week's practice and has been burning the earth on the M street lot. This afternoon Captain John Pickett is slated to lead his warriors to victory and bring the bacon home to the Husker camp. Coach Schissler's outfit has been showing up exceptionally well in the past few practices and the team which Schissler will send against the Haskell Indians this afternoon has been working together as smooth as a machine.

With the official opening of the baseball season starting this afternoon, the Nebraska team's outlook for success is very bright and the team should sail along smoothly and down the best clubs in this part of the country during the remainder of the season. Some new prospects have been showing up for practice of late and they promise to strengthen the Huskers materially. M. Smith looks good to Coach Schissler and during the last practice game with the yearlings, he worked three innings in which he struck out seven out of the nine men to face him and let the first year men down with a 6 to 0 defeat. In this game the Varsity displayed a stellar brand of ball which any collegiate team in the country could not surpass. Smith is also a catcher of no mean ability and Coach Schissler has him billed to receive Captain John Ickett's twisters in this afternoon's performance. Shellenberg is another new ball tosser out and has shown up good in practice and will more than likely be used in one of the two games with the Indians.

SENIOR COLOR WEEK BEGINS NEXT MONDAY

RECOGNITION RIBBONS TO BE DISTRIBUTED TO MEMBERS

Tickets for the Senior Hop will be on sale today and tomorrow. Color Week is to begin next Monday. These and all the other Senior activities were reported at a committee meeting Thursday morning.

Tickets for the Senior Hop may be obtained from the committee: Milo Beck, chairman; Alfreda Macprang, Harvey Rice, Lamert Redelfs, Mark Havens, Lucille Cline, Marguerite Howard. Seniors will be given the preference, but after most of them have bought tickets the sale will be open to others.

Forty Seniors will distribute scarlet and white ribbons among their classmates Monday. These are to be worn in the manner of pledge ribbons all week. The purpose of these is to tag the Seniors so that they can recognize each other. Every person wearing the colors is supposed to speak to every person wearing the colors. A mixer at Woman's Hall, May 8, will close the week. This will be for Seniors only. Tickets will be sold for fifty cents.

That the whole class must boost the Senior play was one of the decisions. Plans were laid for an excursion to Antelope Park on Ivy Day.
