Dean Engberg Looks Down Upon University

Executive Dean Engberg took his first aerial voyage yesterday afternoon. Piloted by Lieut. Errold Bahl, '21, of Harding, Zook and Bahl Airplane company, the Dean was carried up 3500 feet and given an opportunity to see the University from a different point of view than ever before. To permit a closer scrutiny of the campus, Lieut. Bahl nose-dived to a lower plane and then rose to give the Dean the benefit of a few stunts.

Looping the loop, doing the Immelman turn, side-slipping, tail-spinning and spiraling all seemed to agree with the Dean's sense of having a good time. The barrel roll also seemed to be quite appropriate and the sensation, according to the Dean, was "queer." In spite of the rain, the trip was a pleasing one and the Executive says he is planning to make another as soon as possible. His first comment upon landing was, "It's immense upon landing was, "It's immense."

HUSKERS BLANK PACIFIC CHAMPS

Pickett's Run in Ninth Takes Game for Nebraska by Score 1-0.

The University of California baseball team received its first defeat of their eastern trip Wednesday afternoon, when the Huskers trimmed them to the tune of 1 to 0. Pickett's pitching proved too much for the Westerners and the one run scored by the Nebraska captain when Swanson lifted out a clean hit in the last half of the ninth was all that was needed to give the game to Nebraska.

Were it not for two questionable decisions, one in the third inning and one in the ninth, this game could be classed as the best game of the year as league ball was played throughout. In the third inning Pickett placed what apparently was a clean hit just over second base. Smith was on second and had a good chance to score; but Dye called both men out on a catch which to the crowd appeared to be a pickup. In the ninth, Works lined a fast grounder down to Bekins at first and Rowe took home. There were two outs and when the umpire declared that Bekins beat Works to the first sack the run by Rowe did not count. Works, as infield captain, objected to the decision but it stood and the run by Pickett in the ninth won the game.

But three hits were allowed throughout the game, two were made by Nebraska and one by California. The slow ball used by Shephard puzzled the Nebraska men and Pickett's fast

SERENADING TO BE STAMPED OUT

No More Early Morning Revelry, Says Executive Dean Thursday.

Certain Sorority will be Punished for Undue Excitement Sunday Morning.

The serenading which has been such a prevalent nuisance all year has reached such a height and the serenaders have overstepped the bounds of propriety to such an extent, that, according to an announcement made public today by Dean Heppner and Dean Engberg, the thing is to be stamped out altogether.

Last fall one of the fraternities started the fad. Others followed and then the sororities fell in line. The thing soon changed from a novelty to a nuisance. One fraternity, not content with serenading a certain sorority house once, repeated the affair several times. This sorority had just purchased their house and was anxious to be on good terms with the neighbors, but the repeated serenading caused them much trouble. Other sororities have had similar experiences and many complaints have been made both by the girls and the neighbors to the executive dean. However, as it was believed that the thing would die out, no action, besides sending notices to all the fraternity houses concerning the matter, was taken.

Serenades on Large Scale

This spring it began again and with renewed vigor. One fraternity serenaded all the houses with the houses with the aid of a piano on a truck. Others have conducted veritable charivaris, and of course have awakened every one in the vicinity.

Last Sunday morning between one and three o'clock an auto load of sorority girls serenaded almost all the fraternity houses. At many of the houses, the men came out attired in whatever article of dress they picked up first, and talked and sang with the girls. Furious neighbors called to Miss Heppner and Dean Engberg and demanded that the nuisance be stopped. In the home next door to one house serenaded by these girls, lives a woman who is very ill and not expected to live. Her attendants

CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED AT CONVOCATION THURSDAY

Drive for $75,000 on Campus Started Off With Large Pledges.

Special convocation yesterday was the opening of the campaign to raise funds for the new million dollar gymnasium which will be built at the University. The band furnished the music and raised the spirits of the audience to the giving point. Classes were dismissed from ten until twelve. About three hundred and fifty were present.

Chancellor Avery addressed the meeting first and was followed by Prof. G. E. Condra, Miss Alice Howell and Guy Reed, who is at the head of the campaign. Mr. Reed announced that the pledging was well under way and that two fraternities had already promised an average of $51 and $53 respectively at the time of the meeting. The Senior class alone promised $2,000.

The pledges allow the student to pay cash or on the installment plan. Pledges run from five dollars to as high as $1,000 and some, it is expected, will give even more. The campaign will be under way for $75,000 this week and few will escape solicitation. Every Husker is expected to subscribe.

Plans are being made to canvass the city in autos and students with cars are asked to meet at the campus Saturday morning for this purpose.
