

PROFESSOR FLING WRITES A HISTORY

Fred Morrow Fling, the head of the University Department of European History, has a new book out called "The Writing of History." In it he takes up the work step by step and shows the value of evidence and the necessity of genuineness. This book is just off the Yale Press and is considered very good reference material.

Alumni of the University of Nebraska College of Medicine at Omaha are holding their eleventh annual reunion this week. Round-table discussions and clinics started Monday noon and continue until Friday night. A smoker was a feature of the week's program Tuesday evening. A banquet for visiting "grads" is slated for this evening and will complete the festivities.

Headquarters for the alumni Medics have been established at the Hotel Rome in the Nebraska metropolis. A number of Lincoln doctors and out-state graduates from Dean Cutter's College are taking advantage of the clinical and professional discussions as well as the social features of Reunion Week.

NEWSPAPERS REPORT BIG LEAGUE GAMES

The State Journal will announce the play in the world's series games every day during the series. Beginning at 12 o'clock today and continuing each day until the end of the series, the games play by play will be announced from the newspaper office.

The Star is announcing the play in the same manner and has had large crowds who "followed" the first two games.

THOSE ASTHETIC DANCING BUGS.

Have you ever, in your wanderings Among people wise and queer, Met up with any of that crowd Who hold the art of dancing, dear? You ask them how it come they choose

This stuff so frivolous And sure as fate they'll answer you "Why 'tis meat and drink to us."

"The sensation of it is like wine" (If it were we'd all be at it) Its lightness makes you feel divine, It simply gets you when you step it. You can change yourself to what you will

By its magnetic swaying— But you begin to wish that you'd kept still

When these dancers start to rave, I. G.

Teacher—"Can you say three words in a dead language?" Student—"Sloe gin fizz."

—Philip Portor, Ohio State '22, Kas.

John Andrew Holmes will give a sermon lecture on the Pilgrims, Sunday at 10:30, L and 13th St.

Keep an eye open for the Rosewilde announcement on October 29.

Stratford Clothes

G. E. & Co., 1928

Style? Yes
But that's not all!

CERTAINLY style is a distinction of Stratford Clothes—but not the only one. There is exceptional tailoring too. For instance—

Stratford sacks are without linings. No linings to wear out. None to bulge and twist the coat out of shape. Inside trim is the fabric of the coat itself with seams elegantly satin-piped.

Trousers have extra crotch of cloth. Really a double crotch for double strength and wear. Pockets of trousers doubly reinforced to prevent threadbare wear at that point.

See these features in the actual garment and understand what they mean to you in clothes-values. This is an opportune time for inspection while we are showing the new Stratford styles for Fall and Winter.
