

Huskers Fall Before Penn State Attack Nebraska May Meet Princeton Team In Debate

BEZDEK MACHINE VICTORIOUS IN GRINDING BATTLE WITH HUSKERS

Penn State Take Long End of Score in Saturday Contest.
RESULT WAS IN DOUBT UNTIL FINAL QUARTER.
Marvelous Speed of Eastern Backfield Makes Valiant Fight a Futile One.

STATE COLLEGE, Penn., Nov. 6.—The Penn State eleven defeated the Cornhusker squad Saturday by the score of 20 to 0. This game terminated Nebraska's invasion of the east. The Huskers broke even on the trip, defeating the Rutgers crew and losing to the Penn State aggregation. The Penn Staters admitted that the Huskers were the most formidable foe they have met this season. Penn State's wonderful aerial attack combined with an occasional fifty yard jaunt by Way, the stellar Quaker half-back, spelled defeat for Nebraska's warriors.

The outcome of the game was in doubt until the last quarter when Way, substituting for Lightner, romped around the Husker's ends repeatedly for large gains which resulted in Penn State's last two touchdowns.

The game opened with Penn State kicking to Nebraska. An exchange of punts followed and Nebraska had the ball in the middle of the field. Hartley got away around the end for forty-two yards bringing the ball to the Quaker eight yard line. The Huskers tried bucking the line for three downs but could not gain. Newman executed a pass but the ball went wild and was brought to the Penn State twenty yard line and put into play.

Killinger booted the ball into Nebraska's territory and Weller returned the kick. Weller's punt went out of bounds fifteen yards from the line of scrimmage.

A forward pass, Killinger to Haines, brought the ball to Nebraska's twelve yard line. The Quakers took the ball to Nebraska's two yard line on straight football but the Husker line tightened up and held the Pennsylvanians for downs. Moore, who was substituted for Hubka, punted from behind the goal line out of danger.

The first period ended with Penn State in possession of the ball on Nebraska's twenty-one yard line.

BIG CELEBRATION ON ARMISTICE DAY

Every Ex-Service Man Expected to Take Part in the Parade.

Census of Victory Medal Holders to Be Taken in All University Classes.

Every ex-service man in the University is expected to take part in the big parade to be held on Thursday afternoon. A holiday has been declared for the afternoon in order that every student may participate in the festivities.

Carl Peterson, commandant of the University Post of the American Legion, has issued the order that all ex-service men report at the Armory at 1:30 p. m. next Thursday afternoon, when the University section of the parade will form.

The University band will lead the parade, followed by girls who took part in the war in any way, carrying the service flag of the University. They will be followed by the marines; then the ex-service men according to the organization to which they belong in the army. The R. O. T. C. cadets will follow them.

Marines in Parade.

The marine national headquarters at Kansas City are sending the marine standards and standard bearers, also uniforms for all marines who take part in the parade Thursday. This will be a feature of the parade.

The University committee on arrangements for the parade and celebration are: Dean Buck, Carl H. (Continued on Page Four)

Hard Times Party Staged By W. A. A.

The "Hard times" party given by the Women's Athletic Association Saturday afternoon was attended by a gay crowd of weirdly costumed girls. Most of the afternoon was spent in dancing. In the dining room girls gathered about a huge bowl bobbing for apples, endeavored to eat doughnuts suspended on strings and drank cider.

A program was given toward the close of the afternoon. Ruth Ellsworth and Dorothy Seacrest danced. Margaret Hager gave a reading, "Hexonimous Pop an' th' Baby." Adelheit Dettman and Betty Clark appeared in a clever skit, an interpretation of "I'm a Little Prairie Flower" and "I'm a Dried Prune."

Martha Krogman, chairman of the committee, urged all girls who want to become members of W. A. A. to take part in the next sport on the W. A. A. fall program, hockey. An announcement concerning the game will be made later.

Crowd to Hear Penn State Returns Vies with Election Jam in Size

Who said that football is losing its prestige as the most popular American college game? Who declared that football is "going out of style," so to speak? If the surging crowds that thronged the streets in front of both city newspaper offices Saturday is any criterion, football as a sport is still in the growing stage, when popularity is considered.

The mass of people—students, business men, business women, instructors—men, women and children of every profession and every walk of life—that yelled and cheered and hooted before the scoreboard which echoed the results of far away, vied with the election jam of Tuesday night for enthusiasm. Someone told us that the election crowd was not half so rampant and excited as the mob that awaited results from Penn State.

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATE TOURNAMENT PLANNED

Dozen High Schools to Compete Next May in Battle for State Honors.

Professor Fogg Re-elected Head of League—Which is Largest in County.

A debating tournament with ten or a dozen teams in the battle for state championship honors at the University of Nebraska next May is the innovation adopted by the Nebraska High School Debating League meeting Thursday at Omaha. Every district championship school will send its team for the tournament which will continue through probably three days. Supt. R. D. Kuns, Superior, moved the innovation be made.

The innovation is a still farther carrying out of the plan in force last May when inter-district championship teams competed, instead of individual representatives of championship schools.

The competing teams will come prepared to maintain on short notice either side of the League question for the fourteenth annual contest. "Resolved, That the literacy test restriction on immigration should be repealed."

Beatrice won the championship in 1920 in a whirlwind conflict of logic with Lincoln.

Fogg is Re-elected.

Prof. M. M. Fogg, who organized the League in 1908, was re-elected president. Supt. R. B. Carey, Ashland, was re-elected secretary-treasurer. They were empowered to arrange details for the tournament, which will be the largest of its kind (Continued on Page Four)

State.

Football is just beginning upon a career of undreamed-of popularity. Don't think that because your father was a "star" on the gridiron in the early "eighties" that the sport is nearing or has reached its zenith. Just because a few master motion pictures are produced, we do not say the pinnacle of motion picture production has been reached; these few productions show us that the field is so wide that these super-features are necessary to help in the development of the profession.

Football will be just as popular tomorrow as it is today. Our prediction is that it will be far more popular in days to come! Can't we feel just a little pride in the fact that Nebraska helped to make it so?

BABY INTERNATIONAL HELD AT STATE FARM

Sixty-four Head of Prize Stock Exhibited By Students of Agriculture.

College to Send Team to Big Show at Chicago to Represent State in Contest.

Sixty-four head of horses, cattle, sheep and hogs, that are to represent Nebraska at the International Live Stock Exposition at Chicago this winter, were exhibited and judged by students of the College of Agriculture at the "Baby" International held at the State Farm judging pavilion last Friday night. This is an annual event and is held to show the public the animals to be sent to the Chicago show and to give students practice and experience in handling and judging live stock.

The proceeds from the show will go towards defraying expenses of the University stock judging team at Chicago. The College of Agriculture sends a team each year to compete at the big exposition at Chicago and also at the live stock show at Denver, but they have been compelled to pay their own expenses. The average student can hardly afford this cost and the student body is making an effort to help the team by raising a fund.

Campbell Judge of Show.

Dr. C. W. Campbell of the Kansas College of Agriculture, who has a national reputation, was judge of the show. He made his awards according to the student's ability to show his animal. Dr. Campbell gave reasons for his placings in each class. An orchestra, a male quartet and (Continued on Page Four)

NEBRASKA MAY CLASH WITH PRINCETON FORENSIC TEAM

Sousa and His Band Here Tuesday Night

Sousa and his band, accompanied by Famous soloists, will give a concert in the City Auditorium Tuesday night, November 9th. The concert will hold more than usual interest for Lincoln people for Edward Wals's "Lassie of Mine" will be sung as an encore by Mary Baker, soprano, and "The American Indian" will be taken from themes recorded and suggested by Thurlow Lieurance. Both Mr. Wals and Lieurance are Lincoln men. The band, in its twenty-nine years of travel has had unparalleled success, touring Europe five times and taking one trip around the globe. The band, since its reorganization after the end of the war, has been drawing immense crowds. At the completion of the recent two-weeks tour of New England the records of attendance showed that over 60,000 persons, and average of more than 4,000 per day, had heard the great bandmaster.

Ag Judging Team Visits Cambridge

Preparatory to the selection of the agriculture stock judging team to go to the international live stock exposition at Chicago, a squad of ten men was taken to Cambridge to practice on the purbred herds of Mousel Bros., Thomas Andrews, and Mr. Rodwell. The squad was headed by Prof. W. H. Savin of the department of animal husbandry and consisted of the following students: C. E. Atkinson, K. A. Clark, A. K. Hepperly, L. W. Ingham, W. V. Lambert, R. L. Schoen, C. H. Crowell, L. F. Smith, W. S. Rice, and P. F. Toggart.

Five men and an alternate will be chosen from this squad to represent the state at the big Chicago show. The men will start east about November 16 and visit herds of stock on their way to Chicago. The Nebraska team was second in the international contest last year, being but 16 points below the winners.

Easterners Query Husker Coach Regarding Possibility of Christmas Clash.

SCARLET AND CREAM ANXIOUS FOR CONTEST.

Professor Fogg Wires Coast School Willingness to Enter into Agreement.

Recognition by Princeton University of Nebraska in the field of inter-collegiate debate and the possibility of a Nebraska-Princeton debate in Lincoln Christmas vacation is the news that came Friday to Cornhusker students of argumentation and debate.

"Glad to arrange debate. What question?" was the prompt telegraph reply of Prof. M. M. Fogg to the following telegram from Alfred McCormick, chairman of the Princeton Debate committee: "Princeton debating team making western trip in Christmas vacation. Would you be interested in debating with us? Wire reply earliest possible moment."

Favorable to such an east-west debate were debaters and professors interested in this phase of University intellectual activity at an impromptu conference, on receipt of the telegram, in the College of Law hallway. "Sure!" said Dean Warren A. Seavey, a Harvard man. "Good idea," said Prof. W. G. Hastings. "Let's have it," said Prof. H. H. Foster (Cornell and Harvard). "Certainly, we ought to have it," said Prof. G. N. Foster, Nebraska debater against Illinois in 1910 and Iowa in 1911 and Chicago debater against Northwestern in 1913.

Prospects for Victory.

Nebraska's speakers, now in college, in the Iowa debates last spring on Article Ten of the League of Nations are Oscar Drake, Law '22; Louis Finkelstein, Law '22; Cecil Strimple, Law '22; and Robert Van Pelt, '20, Law '22.
