

LAST CALL FOR KANSAS SPECIAL

Hundred Twenty-five Fares Must Be Guaranteed By This Evening.

Band To Make Journey

Final Effort Will Be Made to Secure Trainload of Loyal Rooters.

If 125 fares on the special train to Kansas are not guaranteed by this evening, the project will die a death similar to the special to New York City, according to those in charge of arrangements for the game with the Jayhawks, November 13. Reservations should be made at the Union Pacific office in the Chamber of Commerce building, 204 North Eleventh street. The Athletic Department is planning to send the R. O. T. C. band to Lawrence with the team.

The committee in charge of the "special" urges students to make reservations immediately so that the train will be assured. At the rate tickets have been sold up until Monday the prospects for this feature are dim. Because the game with Kansas is a tradition with Cornhusker students, and because Nebraska's southern neighbor has especially prepared for Nebraska rooters, the committee urges students to guarantee the 125 fares necessary by this evening.

Ticket Sale Started Monday.
Tickets for the Jayhawk game were placed on sale Monday at the Tucker-Shean jewelry store. The game will be a feature of the annual Kansas Homecoming celebration, and tickets are reported to be at a premium now in Lawrence. Four hundred seats in the rooters' section opposite the center of the field have been set apart for Cornhuskers. In order to guarantee this reservation of seats, the 125 fares for the "special" must be first guaranteed.

If the project is successful, the special cars will leave Lincoln Friday night, November 12, and will return Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Round trip tickets, including Pullman fare, will cost $20.48 each. Round trip fares without Pullman fees will sell for $14.60. If more than 125 persons signify their intention to make reservations on the "special," more cars will be added.

Last year Kansas sent about four hundred rooters to Lincoln to watch the Huskers triumph the Jayhawks, 19 to 7. "There should be at least this number who will attend the annual clash this year from Nebraska," said a committee member Monday. Arrangements have been made so that students who wish to accompany the team will not miss any school.

F. C. Allen, business manager of the Kansas team, reports that 7,000 pasteboards have been sold for this year's struggle.

Wolochi Camp Fire Organizes Monday

Officers of the Wolochi Camp Fire of the University who were elected at the meeting Monday afternoon in Ellen Smith all are: President, Helen Dun-Helen Wood.

Twenty-five girls were present to hear the third talk given by Mrs. F. F. Teal in the guardian's training course. She took up the organization of a Camp Fire group and the method of conducting the first two meetings.

EX-MARINES.

In order to make our part in the Armistice Day parade a success we must get together. Be present at the meeting tonight at 7:15 in 211 Law.

Faculty and Students:

I wish to endorse most heartily the request of the local committee that all University men, faculty and students, who have served in the army or navy or marine corps are urged to participate in the parade on Armistice Day at 2 p. m. All who are entitled to march in the procession should consider it a privilege and an honor to do so.

S. AVERY, Chancellor.

THANKSGIVING EDITION OF DAILY NEBRASKAN

Special Football Number of University Paper Planned For November 25.

The Daily Nebraskan will issue a special edition of the paper Thanksgiving morning, November 25, according to the annual custom of the publication. Efforts are being made by the staff to make the 1920 issue larger than those of other years. The paper will contain sixteen to twenty pages. Special feature sections, a theatre page and some interesting athletic comparisons will make the Thanksgiving issue this year somewhat novel according to the editors in charge.

A short biography of each player will appear underneath his photograph. "Cuts" of Luehring, Schulte, Schissler, Captains Day and Bailey, and feature articles about "Jack" Best and other familiar athletic figures on the campus, including co-eds will be a feature of the big edition.

Several University professors will be asked to contribute articles. The football scores since the beginning of the sport at Nebraska will be a feature of the football pages of the issue. "The Relation of Fraternities to Athletics," will be discussed by a feature writer of the Nebraskan.

Nebraskans Attend Big Ten Game at Chicago on Journey to Atlantic Coast.

"It is beyond words to express adequately what Clyde Elliott did for the team," said F. W. Luehring, director of physical training and athletics at the University of Nebraska, as he described the trip of the Nebraska eleven and those who accompanied the team to the Rutgers and Penn State games.

Clyde Elliott was graduated from the University in 1909. He arranged for motion pictures of the Rutgers game and gave the films to the department of physical education and athletics so that Lincoln people might see how the victory was won.

The team attended the Ohio-Chicago football game played in Chicago as the Nebraska team was going east. Mr. Luehring said that this was the only opportunity the team would be likely to have to witness a good game this fall. This contest was the Western Inter-Collegiate Conference championship game.

A side trip was a visit to Niagara Falls. Study was a part of the daily program. Its purpose was two-fold: (Continued on Page Four)

SIGMA TAU HOLDS FALL INITIATION

Honorary Engineering Society Takes in Group of New Members Saturday.

Banquet and Interesting Toast List Feature of Program During Evening.

Saturday afternoon and evening Sigma Tau, the honorary engineering fraternity, held its semi-annual initiation and banquet. At the initiation the new men were asked to construct initiation machines from plans and specifications set forth on blue prints which were given each man at a smoker held in their honor one evening the week before.

About fifty alumni, faculty, active members and initiates were at the banquet which was held in the garden room of the Lincoln at 6:30.

A number of men were called upon by the toastmaster, Prof. Clark E. Mickey, former Dean O. V. P. Stout in response to the toast reminiscences gave some very interesting incidents of early stages at Nebraska and of the early Sigma Taus. L. W. Chase, former head of the agricultural engineering department and one of the founders of Sigma Tau, traced the history of Sigma Tau. Dean O. J. Ferguson in talking on construction customs applied that term to the making of engineers instead of the usual idea of applying it to engineering works. Roy M. Vision And A Fixed Ideal

"The 1921 Cornhusker."

Our vision in planning your 1921 Cornhusker has not been marred by sticking to old time-worn ideas of the Vintage of '76.

We are scouting now for new daring plans, special features, striking color schemes, novel typography and modern art—the kind that will make the 1921 Cornhusker stand forth and be absolutely distinctive—just like a red tie on a Preacher.

We realize that we can only make this book distinctly different by allowing every member of the staff the widest scope for the exercise of his individual talents. Our idea, however, is to make this the book of the University and representative of every member in it in order to make our dreams come true and put forth an Annual that will be pre-eminent.

We urge that every one in this school give loyally of his time and make a research for ideas and features that will make this book a real work of art, a book that you can be proud of and look back upon many years from now with a feeling of joy in having a hand in its making.

We want our Annual to be more than a record book. We want it to be an inspiration. We want it to go forth into the homes and instill into the minds of the High School boy and girl that Nebraska University is the place to go.

We want it to reach the old "Grad." and bring him fresh memories and revive the days of real sport when he trod the green with his lass on his arm and breathed tender words in her ear.

We want it to reflect his days of youth when he himself was on the gridiron fighting for the Scarlet and Cream, or digging his cleats in the old sod as he smacked the pill over the right field fence and scampered home with the winning run.

"Those were the real days," you will say five years from now as you look at this book, and you will value it because of its sentimental and intrinsic value. You will value it because you had a hand in its making. Is it too much, therefore, to ask you to do your part in the creating of an Annual that will reflect greater glory upon your University?

THE 1921 CORNHUSKER.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Objects to Peace Terms.

PARIS, Nov. 9.—Marshal Foch, generalissimo of the allied armies, in a long sensational interview with the Matin today denounced the Versailles treaty as a "weak peace." He also revealed that the relations between former Premier Clemenceau and himself were today badly strained. The generalissimo said he was rebuked by ex-Premier Clemenceau when he offered suggestions. "France has failed to gain the assurances which our victory justified," Marshal Foch was quoted as saying.

Ice Bound Off Coast.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—Plans to send a relief expedition to Banks Island, off the Alaskan coast, in an attempt to rescue five men ice bound aboard the famous Arctic schooner Polar Bear were being laid by H. Liebes and company, furriers and owners of the vessel today. A brief message from Nome yesterday notified the company that the Polar Bear had been caught in the ice. Men along the water front acquainted with the ways of the north feared that it might be the last of a long series of adventures in the Arctic regions for the vessel.

Working on Last Message.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—President Wilson is preparing his final message to congress. The message is to be delivered to the final session of the sixty-sixth congress, which begins on December 6. Wilson has been at work on it for some time and is understood to have discussed portions of it with various members of his cabinet, though he has not confided in any of them its exact contents.

Taft May Succeed White.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Former President William Howard Taft, it was predicted freely by leading members of the bench and bar here today, may become the next chief justice of the supreme court of the United States, succeeding Chief Justice Edward Douglas White, appointed by Mr. Taft while he occupied the White House. Chief Justice White, considered one of the greatest legal authorities who ever occupied the supreme court bench, is desirous of resigning, according to persistent reports here, from the very exacting duties imposed upon him by his high office.

FIVE HUNDRED MEMBERS GOAL SET BY W. S. G. A.

Freshmen Girls Urged To Join Group During Membership Drive Of This Week.

Eight hundred new members by the end of the week is the goal set by the W. S. G. A. in its campaign which started Monday on the University campus. The drive will last all week. Very Freshman girl at Nebraska is urged to become a member of the association before Saturday. The Woman's Self Governing Association makes all rules for women students to the University, including dormitory regulations, and aids co-eds in making their way in school by lending them money should they desire.

The week will be known unofficially as "Tag Week." Red and white tags, representing the two sides which will fight for the largest number of new members in the campaign, will be distributed to the girls who join the organization this week. Nancy Pennoyer, '22, has been chosen to lead the White forces, and Leone Becker, '22, will head the Red teams.

The society gives a number of parties during the school year. One of the most important functions of W. S. G. A. is to operate with the work of the Big Sister Movement on the campus.

MISSION WORKER TO TALK TO STUDENTS

Dr. A. L. Shelton Kidnapped By Chinese Brigands Will Tell Experiences.

Kidnapped by Chinese brigands was the experience of Dr. A. L. Shelton, medical missionary, who will speak at convocation in Memorial Hall at 11 o'clock today.

Dr. Shelton was forced to give up his missionary work temporarily on account of illness. He hopes to return to carry out his project of establishing hospitals and medical stations in Thibet.

He was in China on his way to Thibet when Chinese brigands captured him. They held him for ransom. He refused to pay, because he thought that success in his case would encourage the brigands to go into the business of kidnapping missionaries on a large scale. He was taken ill, but was rescued by the forces of the Chinese government.

Today's convocation is endorsed as follows:

"At the conference of religious workers held at the University Temple last Tuesday morning, the resolution was passed that these workers endorse the securing of Dr. A. L. Shelton, for a special convocation on the following Tuesday. The workers feel that as the outstanding missionary of today, and in the light of his recent experiences at the hands of brigands, Dr. Shelton will have a message of interest and inspiration to the students of the University."

HUSKERS PREPARE FOR KANSAS GAME

Nebraska Will Contest With Mighty Jayhawk Next Saturday.

Contest To Be Battle

Men Return from Eastern Trip in Good Shape for Schedule Ahead.

Nebraska begins preparations this week for their big battle with the Kansas Jayhawks at Lawrence next Saturday. The Cornhusker football aggregation arrived in Lincoln yesterday morning. All of the men are in good condition after a ten days trip in the east.

The defeat at the hands of Penn State is an incentive to the men to get out and work harder to win the remainder of the games on the schedule. A defeat by a team of Penn State's ability by such a small score is no dishonor to any team considering the size of the scores Penn State has run up on other eastern teams this season.

The Nebraska-Kansas game is certain to be a real fight from the first kick-off until the final whistle. The Huskers trounced the Jayhawks last year to the tune of 19 to 7. There is every indication that the Huskers will duplicate their feat of last year when they mix with the Kansans.

Kansas lost to Oklahoma Saturday by a one-sided score. This defeat is sure to arouse the "fighting spirit" of the Jayhawks to the utmost. The Husker-Jayhawk contest will take place on Homecoming day for the Kansans and the Kansas men are sure to put up a real battle for their Homecoming crowd.

Schissler Scouts Kansas.
Coach Schulte gave the men a light workout in the gymnasium owing to the failure of the suits to arrive. Assistant Coach Schissler scouted the Kansas-Oklahoma contest and reports that the Kansas aggregation have the best coached team that has represented the school for a number of years. Kansas was unable to overcome the advantage in weight that (Continued on Page Four)
