QUOTA FOR SPECIAL TRAIN INCOMPLETE.

One hundred twenty-five guaranteed railroad fares to Lawrence is our quota to insure a special train to the Kansas game.

Will Nebraska students stay at home and let their team go to Lawrence unsupported, to fight our ancient rival? Hundreds of faithful Nebraska followers have always traveled to Lawrence on past occasions.

One of the noticeable features of the cheering last year was that so long as the team was winning it was well supported, but that the enthusiasm in the cheering section always lagged when the team was being defeated.

Although tickets are now at a premium at Lawrence, due to the big Kansas annual homecoming celebration, the Kansas athletic management has set aside a section of four hundred seats in the middle of the field for Nebraska rooters.

The special train will leave Friday night at 11 o'clock for Lawrence and will return Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

Arrangements have been made so that the students who wish to accompany the team will not have to miss any school.

NEW STUDY FOR SCHOOLS. For the first time in American history educators have admitted that their previous plans of education have been all wrong.

money. The year 1920 marks the turning point in real teaching in the United States.

A committee of seven state superintendents of public instruction, appointed last summer at a meeting of the National Educational Association, will meet with treasury officials at Washington before Thanksgiving to confer on teaching saving in schools.

TACKLING THE BIG THINGS.

ELIGIBILITY RULES FOR RESERVE COMMISSIONS

Military Department Announces the Rules for R. O. T. C. Officerships.

The following notice has been issued by the Military Department at the University in regard to examinations for commissions in the R. O. T. C.:

Eligibility.

To be eligible for a commission in the R. O. T. C. the applicant, if an upperclassman must be taking the advanced course in the R. O. T. C., or, if a Sophomore, must signify in writing that he will take the advanced course during his third and fourth years. Freshmen are not eligible for a commission in the R. O. T. C. unless they are eligible for and taking the advanced course.

Any student who was a cadet officer in the Corps of Cadets during the University year 1919-1920 is eligible for appointment this year without examination, if his record is considered satisfactory and he fulfills the qualifications of eligibility as set forth above.

No student will be recommended for a commission who is below the University standards in any of his studies, unless he is actually taking the advanced course in the R. O. T. C.

Scope of the Examination. The ratings of the applicants will be determined as follows:

- I. Theoretical examination. Written examination to cover Infantry Drill Regulations (Provisional) 1919 to include the school of the company. Definitions and paragraphs 1 to 271, inclusive. Value 500. II. Practical. To drill a platoon of infantry. Value 500. Those wishing to try out will register their names with the Military Department, room 202, Nebraska Hall, before November 18, and any information regarding the examination may be obtained at the same place. The theoretical examination will be held in room 205, Nebraska Hall, at 5 p. m. Thursday, November 18. The practical tests will be as arranged for during drill periods.

Master Masons Plan A University Club

Master Masons of the faculty and student body of the State University will launch a new campus organization at their first meeting, called on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Temple theater. All Master Masons in good standing, whether members of the faculty or students in the University, will meet at the appointed time. The new organization will be called The Master Masons' Club, according to S. B. Aronson, instructor in the Chemistry Department, who issues the call as chairman of a special committee.

Good Care of Clothes Will Make Them Last

If you are waiting for prices to drop before you buy new clothes here are some ways to prolong the life of the old, suggested by Miss Hazel Manning of the department of home economics of the University of Wisconsin.

Use a cotton protector over woolen dresses when they are hung in the closet. The dust which would otherwise fall on the dress is caught by the protector.

Hang woolen garments in the air and brush them frequently. If they are hung out-of-doors in a light snow or wind and then brushed much of the dust which has settled in the fabric will be removed.

Spots or stains should be removed immediately. An old stain may combine with the fiber so that it cannot be removed without injury to the garment.

Unwashable dresses should be made over washable linings.

Mend badly worn places in garments at once before they become too big.

Shoes require as careful attention as do clothes. The best way to make them last longer is to use the stretcher or shoe tree when the shoes are not on the feet. As soon as the shoe is removed from the foot the stretcher should be put on before the dampness has evaporated and the wrinkles are set. Brushing is also good for shoes. An old stocking sprinkled with oil and rolled to allow the oil to penetrate will make a good shoe cloth. By using this the shoe leather is not only polished but preserved as well.

One-seventh of the students in the universities of France are from other countries.

Patriotic Films For Armistice Celebration

The Department of Conservation and Soil Survey has been preparing for distribution a large number of motion picture reels for Armistice Day celebrations. Among them are the following: "Pershing's Crusaders," "America's Answer," "Price of Peace," "Bridge of Ships" and "Pavarska" is composed of reels showing the University of Nebraska S. A. T. C., University Cadets, four minute men of the state, Armistice Day parade, return of the 89th Division at Lincoln, and Col. Roosevelt's last address in Lincoln.

Mr. R. A. Lindsay, now in business in Sidney, Nebraska, and formerly connected with the University photographic work, has been assisting in preparing these reels for distribution.

Cornhusker Staff To Meet This Afternoon

The 1921 Cornhusker staff will hold its initial meeting in U 102 at 3 p. m. today, Tuesday. Plans for the book will be discussed and work of gathering material for the various sections commenced.

A professional artist has already been employed to do a part of the art work for the book. Other art work will be done by members of the art staff during the next few weeks.

The work of gathering material for the various sections will start at once. The department editors, working under the direction of Senior Managing Editor LeRoss ammond, will do this work.

Pennsylvania has more higher institutions of learning than any other state in the Union, 67 being located in the Keystone state. In order follow Illinois, 59; New York, 54; Ohio, 53; and Missouri, 41.

Theatre Reviews

"Passers By," the story of a man who opened his home to all who wished to enter, with Herbert Rawlinson, as the star, will be the attraction at the Rialto the first part of the week. A big, all-star production, "Held by the Enemy" is to be shown on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. These pictures are both said to be masterpieces of their kind.

A story of crooks is "From Now On" which is to be the feature at the Colonial the first half of this week. The scenario was written by Frank L. Packard, the author of the "Miracle Man." George Walsh, as the star, is at his best and although the picture is seven reels long, it is so full of action that it seems much shorter. Blanche Sweet, in "Help Wanted, Male," will be the offering the last part of the week.

Do you know what comes "Once to Every Woman?" Dorothy Phillips' version of it is one that will prove very appealing and interesting. "The Devil's Pass-Key," a sensational picture, which attempts to solve the old question of the eternal triangle is a story of Paris and all its wicked wonderfulness. These two productions will be seen at the Lyric this week, each for half of the week.

An exquisite musical comedy, "Under the Apple Tree," is to be the headliner at the Orpheum this week. The contributing bill composed of John Sully & Co., Kennedy and Rooney, Stanley and Birnes, Neal Abel, Bob Carleton, the writer of Ja-Da, and several others, is said to be of unusual excellence.
