

GIGANTIC PARADE ARMISTICE DAY

Heroes of Three Wars to Participate in March Through Main Streets of City Tomorrow Afternoon.

Co-eds Urged to Join

Wesleyan and Lincoln High School
Organizations to Co-operate in Celebration of Holiday.

A parade representing heroes of the World War, Civil War veterans, fighters of the Spanish-American War, and veterans of foreign wars will feature the second anniversary of the signing of the Armistice tomorrow, November 11. University classes will be dismissed for the afternoon.

The line of march, which was issued Tuesday afternoon by Commandant Carl H. Peterson of the University Post of the American Legion, indicates the size of the parade. The University section will form at Twelfth and R streets at 1:30 p. m. It will contain the University band, the service flag of the University of Nebraska, ex-marines, former members of the air service, ex-soldiers, ex-sailors and members of the University R. O. T. C. cadet corps. These groups will march in the order they are listed.

The parade proper will be lead by the marshal and his aides followed by the police. Following these units will come the high school band, the members of G. A. R. and auxiliary, the Spanish-American War veterans, the Gold Star Flag, the American Legion band, those who were wounded in the World War, the 134th and 355th Infantry, the members of the Lincoln Post of the American Legion, the Wesleyan band, veterans of foreign wars, ex-marines, ex-"gobs," the Rainbow division, the 88th Infantry, colored troops, the Nebraska State band, the medical corps, the dentists who served during the war, army nurses, members of the Red Cross corps, canteen workers, the American Legion auxiliary, and the Cotner band. The University section will make a long extension to the parade.

Many Service Men to Participate.
Over four hundred ex-service men from the University alone are expected to take part in the parade. They will march in civilian clothes, with no distinction as to rank. Arrangements have been made for those men who were incapacitated in the war and cannot march in the parade. Cars will be provided for them.

All members of the University R. O. T. C. who were at any time previously connected with any branch of the United States service, will be excused from their places in the cadet ranks and will be allowed to march with the members of the unit with which they were formerly affiliated.

"Armistice Day this year should be observed more as a memorial 'day,' said a committee member yesterday. There will be no monster celebrations tomorrow as in 1918, but throughout the country the day will be quietly observed with parades, banquets and memorial services."

All disabled ex-service men who are unable to march in the parade on Armistice Day, should telephone at once to Rev. Copey, B6469, and cars will be furnished so that they may ride. The place of assembly is at the Lincoln Y. M. C. A. at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow. If unable to get to the meeting place, a car will be sent you.

By C. C. ENGBERG,
Executive Dean.

Faculty and Students:

I wish to endorse most heartily the request of the local committee that all University men, faculty and students, who have served in the army or navy or marine corps are urged to participate in the parade on Armistice Day at 2 p. m. All who are entitled to march in the procession should consider it a privilege and an honor to do so.

LAW UPPERCLASSMEN TO ENTERTAIN FROSH STUDENTS

President Schlabit, of Junior Class,
Hopes to Make Smoker Annual Affair in College.

A plan without precedent in the Nebraska Law College was established Tuesday morning, November 9, at a meeting in Law 201, at 11 o'clock, when the members of the third-year class in that college decided to sponsor a reception and smoker to be given by the upperclassmen for the Freshmen Law students sometime the latter part of November.

President O. F. Schlabit of the Junior barristers, in a few words expressed the hope that this would become an annual custom of the college. It is the opinion of some of the Freshmen that they will return the courtesy with a smoker for members of the upperclasses of the Law College in the spring. The purpose of the first get-together is to help the first-year students to form acquaintances among the upperclassmen. Regent Judson will be asked to talk during the evening.

The smoker and program will be held either in the Elks' home or the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce building. The expense of the entertainment will be prorated among the upperclassmen in the College of Law.

CROSS-COUNTRY TEAM ENTERS VALLEY MEET

Tryouts to Be Held this Afternoon for Des Moines Classic Which Occurs Next Saturday.

Husker Runners Will Also Participate in Western Conference Races
November 20.

Cross-country race plans include a tryout at 4 o'clock this afternoon for places on the team to be entered in the Missouri Valley Conference race at Des Moines next Saturday. All who take part in the Wednesday tryout will be eligible to enter the handicap race, which will be held here Monday, November 15. Ribbons will be awarded for the first ten places.

Today's tryout is the second of a series. In former years just one tryout was held to select the members of the team. A series was planned this year so that men who did not have much practice at the time of the first tryout would have an opportunity to get on the team later. The membership of the team may not be the same all season.

To Enter Big Ten Race.
Besides the race at Des Moines next Saturday plans have been made to enter a team in the Western Inter-Collegiate race at the University of Illinois at Champaign, November 20. In the Y. M. C. A. race to be held here Thanksgiving day and in the Y. M. C. A. race at Omaha on that day. Six teams will compete at Des Moines and forty or fifty men, as individuals and teams, in the Y. M. C. A. race here and at Omaha.

Six men will compose each team in the Western Inter-Collegiate race, but only the records of the first five men of each team will count in the results. Thus, if one man is disabled, his record will not affect the record of the team.

Sophisticated Upperclassmen Can Err the Same as Freshmen

Freshmen should really forget their apologies and ashamed looks as they murmur that they are only Freshmen, for some Junior or Senior may be much more youthful than they. The discarded small green caps and the ever-present blushes of Freshmen are not the only signs of youth on the University campus. Although these other signs of frivolity are perhaps not as apparent to passersby as are green caps, often they afford more merriment.

As the Freshman reaches the dignified status of an upperclassman and learns that there is no fourth floor in Social Science Hall and does not need a directory to find his way to the different sorority houses, his imagination couple itself with stories of Apollo and the heroes of Grimm's fairy tales, and he becomes at once in his own eyes the resulting hero. When, in upperclassman garb, he learns that he no longer must subordinate himself before his fellow students, but in turn can show the new Freshmen how "hopeless" they are, he takes on an artificial attitude and his wanderings are far more amusing than anything ever attempted by a Freshman. The upperclassman, although more sophisticated and college wordily wise, is not incapable of doing wrong, and very often appears in a light that would make the humblest Freshman stand out like a blaze of gold on the University horizon.

JOURNALISM STUDENTS TO FORM PRESS CLUB

Mass Meeting Tuesday in Law 101 of
All Persons Interested in Any Form of Newspaper Work.

Organization to Foster Ideals of Profession and Stimulate Interest in University.

Students of journalism and aspiring magazine writers of the University together with all students interested in the newspaper game are invited to a mass meeting in Law 101 Tuesday evening for the purpose of organizing a University Press Club.

The proposed organization is intended to stimulate the interest in journalism and give every student with a desire to enter the profession a chance to hear prominent journalists and men who know the inside of the game.

Membership is to be open to all students of journalism, all editors and reporters on University publications as well as students who are now connected with the daily papers of the city.

Outside speakers of journalistic prominence will be invited to address the club and present their views upon how a student should prepare himself for the work and what opportunities are open to him.

The organization also hopes to obtain speakers from among the members of the Nebraska Press Association when that group of state editors gathers in Lincoln during the first of next year.

Sigma Delta Chi Behind Movement.
Themovement is being fostered by Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity, and is the outcome of a meeting held Sunday afternoon, when the formation of such a club was suggested by Chandler Trimble of the Department of English, and enthusiastically endorsed by the members of the fraternity.

Theta Sigma Phi, women's national journalistic sorority, is expected to throw its influence toward making the Press Club a vital organization in the life of the school.

STUDENTS TO VOTE ON FEATURE TOWNS

Cornhusker and Daily Nebraskan to Co-operate in Staging Referendum
Next Tuesday.

Professional Artist Secured for Color
Work in "Nebraska Annual"— Work Progressing.

Nebraska students will have a chance to vote for their home towns or whatever other place they want to back for a place in the 1921 Cornhusker next Tuesday. In accordance with the plan announced last week, the Cornhusker management will stage the referendum with the assistance of the Daily Nebraskan.

Coupon ballots will be inserted in the Daily Nebraskan of November 16 and will be marked and deposited in a ballot box in Station A. Although this plan will not permit all students registered in school an opportunity to vote, still it will be representative.

The "Nebraska Annual," as the book has been nicknamed by the Cornhusker staff, is to be the biggest and best annual ever put out at Nebraska. The feature section is to be the best that can be obtained and no expense will be spared to make it a truly valuable state section.

Professional Artist Employed.
A professional artist has been employed to do the color art work. A considerable amount of this work is already under way and will be sent to the engravers soon so as to insure the best possible art work.

In order to insure absolute fairness in the selection of towns to be representative towns getting the highest number of votes at this time will be voted on later and ten or twelve will be finally chosen for the Nebraska section.

Hugh Carson, business manager of the Cornhusker, sent out queries to business managers of other big university annuals to get a comparison with the Nebraska book. Answers showed that the Cornhusker could compare favorably with all of them in the matter of material put into it.

Varsity Dairy Club Makes Plans for Holding Show

Big Dairy Exhibition Slated for December 4 on Farm Campus—
Committees Appointed.

At a recent meeting of the Varsity Dairy Club, arrangements were made to hold a Varsity Dairy Show, December 4, at the Dairy building and judging pavilion, on the University Farm campus. This will be a three-phase exhibition consisting of a dairy judging contest, dairy cattle fitting contest, and dairy manufacturing exhibit. A continuous moving picture show will be an added attraction.

The purpose of this show is to arouse interest in encouraging and co-operating with work of all the educational and associative efforts for the advancement of Nebraska's dairy industry. The members of the club wish to combine the practical phase of actual work with the scientific instruction of the University in order to push our college to the front in the dairy world.

Prof. J. H. Frandsen Applies for Release

Head of Dairy Department Leaves to Assume Charge of Similar Work with Capper Farm Press.

Has Been Main Factor in Building Up
Most Modern Dairy Instruction
Plant in Country.

Prof. J. H. Frandsen, head of the Dairy Department of the College of Agriculture, has asked the Board of Regents to release him as soon as it is possible to finish all important work. Professor Frandsen leaves to take charge of the dairy department of the Capper Farm Press as general dairy editor and dairy counselor. The Capper publications have a circulation of over 1,250,000, principally in the central western states. His salary will be considerably higher than what he received from the University.

Professor Frandsen came to this department nine years ago when there were only two instructors and a very crowded and poorly equipped dairy building. He leaves a modern dairy building and seven instructors.

To Remain in Lincoln.
He will remain in Lincoln for perhaps a year, performing his duties here even though the Capper headquarters are located at Topeka. The Capper Farm Press has offices in Omaha, Kansas City, Topeka, St. Louis, Gridley, Oklahoma City and Denver.

Professor Frandsen pays tribute to Dean Burnett and Chancellor Avery for their splendid co-operation in building up a dairy department that has no equal in America and perhaps the world. Experts have pronounced it as the most modern and best equipped plant for dairy instruction in the United States.

WEATHER DELAYS HUSKER PRACTICE

Wintry Breezes Yesterday Force
Coach Schulte to Resort to Light
Signal Drill Only.

Prepare For Kansas

Freshman Squad Mastering Jayhawk
Formations Gleaned by Scout
Schissler at Oklahoma.

The Cornhusker football squad took its first workout last night since their return from the east. On account of the wintry breezes and the muddy condition of the field Coach Schulte drilled his men in signal practice only. With one or two exceptions the squad reported intact and notwithstanding the weather conditions showed a great amount of fight and pep.

The Huskers realize that the Kansas game will be a hard battle and are working their hardest to be in the pink of condition in order to humble the mighty Jayhawkers before their homecoming crowd next Saturday. More than any other man on the Husker squad the Kansas aggregation fears Hubka. In 1917 and last year he was the individual star in the Kansas-Nebraska games and he alone had the ouch to make the winning scores for Nebraska. If history repeats itself in the sport world, Hubka is due for a big day next Saturday.

Freshman Learn Kansas Plays.

The Freshman squad devoted the entire evening to the mastering of the Jayhawkers' plays as learned by Assistant Coach Schissler who scouted the Kansas-Oklahoma game last Saturday. Although Kansas was defeated they are said to have a strong aggregation and promise to give the Huskers a real battle. The Freshmen, after a week and a half of rest were "rarin' to go" last evening and a few eye-openers are predicted when the Yearlings spring some of the Jayhawkers' pet plays on the Varsity in their first scrimmage.

The Huskers will leave Lincoln Thursday night and will spend the entire day, Friday, in Kansas City, where they will take a light workout. They will leave for Lawrence Saturday morning. The special train for students will leave Lincoln Friday night at 11 o'clock and will return Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Students who wish to accompany the team will not have to miss any classes and it is hoped that a larger crowd of Husker enthusiasts will be at the game at Lawrence next Saturday than there were Jayhawkers in Lincoln at the Kansas-Nebraska game next year.
