Three Thousand March

Cadet Troops in Full Uniform Score Hit During Line of March.

The University of Nebraskan cele brated the signing of the armistice by furnishing the largest section to the parade staged by the citizens of Lincoln in honor of the event.

Twenty-five hundred people took part in the parade and it is estimated that voer half of this number were University of Nebraska students. In spite of the weather with the temporature hovering around the zero mark a large crowd of students were on hand to take part in the parade and a crowd which lined O street four and five deep watched the marchers as they passed in review celebrating one of the greatest events in the history of the world.

The students were grouped in the fourth section of the parade and the University cadet band headed the section playing martial music. Next in line was the University service flag carried by a number of Nebraska co-eds.

Marines in Parade.

Then came the marines heading the University American Legion section. The "devil dogs" fell into line singing the "Marine Hymn." They were stationed behind the color guard which had been obtained through the Kansas City recruiting station. The color guard were in blue uniform as were several men in the ranks. The remainder of the marines wore the winter field uniform. Ex-Marine Lieutenant Joe Stanton commanded the marine section.

Army Section.

Next in the line of march was the army section which was the largest of the group. The doughboys made a line over a block long, marching eight abreast.

The army group was not all in uniform but nevertheless formed a well-drilled unit of the section.

College Grid Game on Nebraska Field.

The Laws displayed their superiority over the Engineers in a hard fought grid battle on the Athletic field yesterday immediately after the Armistice parade and won, 13-0. In spite of the fact that the weather was unusually cold, there was a large number of students from each college cheering for both teams.

The Engineers showed excellent fighting spirit but they were unable to withhold their ground against the Laws. The first quarter was scoreless, but at the close, the ball was but a few feet from the Engineers' line

The first touchdown was made by Captain Pickett, in the early part of the second quarter by a line plunge. Pickett's goal kick went true.

Score: Laws, 7: Engineers, 0. The remainder of the quarter was scoreless and the third quarter ended with the score remaining 7 to 0. During the latter part of the fourth quarter Fogelson succeeded in scoring another touchdown for the Laws, but was missed by a he goal margin. (Continued on Page 4.)

Professor Barbour at Sigma Xi Meeting

Prof. E. H. Barbour of the Biolog Department at the University gave an interesting illustrated lecture on "The Prehistoric Animals of Nebraska" in the general lecture room of Bessey Nebraska Football Squad Departs Hall, Thursday evening, before members of Sigma Xi society at an open meeting

He discussed the origin and nature of the Tertiary formations of the Great Plains with special reference to the Nebraska formations in which are found the fossil remains of animais that lived many thousands of years ago. Descriptions and illustrations of the famous Nebraska bone beds with habitat restorations of the large animals found in them were shown.

Students to Witness Battle of Husker and Jayhawk Saturday.

Reservations Still Open for Journey to Sunflower State Which Starts Tonight.

The special train to the Kansas game will leave via the Union Pacific tonight at 11 o'clock. Reservations may still be made at the Union Pacific office in the Chamber of Commerce building, 204 North Eleventh street. Tickets for the game may be secured at the Student Activities office or at Tucker-Shean's.

Railroad fare for the round trip is $14.60. With standard sleeper accommodations the total amount is $20.38 This amount is not great and authorities feel that it should keep no enthusiast at home when such a treat as a gridiron game with the Jayhawks is at the other end of the line.

Those who have made reservations can further the cause by speeding up others who intend to go but who are "gumming the machinery" by delaying the act of making reservations. Ne braska should send several hundred rooters with the team on their tour into the "Sunflower State." Now that the "special" is really assured there should be no further delay in getting the maximum number of passengers. The train will return to Lincoln at 9:30 Sunday morning.

Freshmen Taken Along Huskers to Take Light Workout at Kansas City this Afternoon.

Last Night for Land of Jayhawk.

Nebraska's football warriors left last night over the Burlington for Kansas City where they will take a light workout this afternoon and proceed to Lawrence tomorrow. The gouad is in charge of Coach Schulte and Assistant Coach Schissler. The squad is made up of the following men:

Captain Day, Swanson, Scherer, Pucelik, Weller, W. Munn, M. Munn, Newman, Hartley, Wright, Hubka, Dana, Cypreanson, Bassett, Wenke, Young, Triplett, Hoy, Schoeppel, Dale, Moore, Thompson, Howarth, Martin, McGlasson, Berquist, Cressel, Rogers, Nixon and Nelson. The last five men named will leave tonight on the student special. The Kansas trip will be Nebraska's last game away from home. Coach Schulte expects to give all the men a chance in the game if possible. The Huskers have worked out only three times the past week but the men are in the best of condition and expect to give the Jayhawks one of the worst drubbings they have received this year. Kansas has been defeated a number of times this year but all of their defeats have been by strong teams.

Blankets for Varsity.

The entire Varsity squad was presented with blankets at the Penn State contest by Clyde Elliott, a former Husker star. The Cornhusker enthusiasts who are making the trip to Kansas will have the treat of seeing the Huskers come onto the field tomorrow in a slightly different costume than they have been accustomed to wearing.

The exact lineup that will start against the Jayhawks has not as yet been determinel. The probable lineup is as follows:

W Munn left guard. Day (captain), center

The Naval Group. The navy section also was large.

A large number of the "gobs" were in uniform and swinging along behind their banner they made a good showing.

R. O. T. C. a Feature.

A feature of the entire parade was the R. O. T. C. troops which marched like veterans. About nine hundred marched in the cadet regiment all in full uniform and with equipment.

Frequent remarks were heard in the crowds of spectators on how well drilled the cadets appeared and upon the creditable showing they made.

Following the parade the R. O. T. C. troops returned to the University to turn in their equipment. They then reported to the auditorium to hear the speech of General Wood but the building was crowded.

Grand Army of Republic.

The first section was led by Adjutant General H. J. Paul, marshal of the parade. His two aides and sixteen members of the Lincoln police force followed. Then came the Lincoln high school band, fifty pieces. Following the band came the Grand Army of the Republic with the Colonial Fife and Drum Corps.

The drum corps was followed by the W. R. C. and thirty veterans of Spanish-American war and a few members of the auxiliary.

Veteran Troopers.

The second division of the parade was headed by a gold star flag with color bearer. The American Legion band followed, then cars bearing wounded soldiers. The one hundred members of the 134th Infantry followed. The 355th Infantry, two hundred strong, was next in line. Five

The following letter has been received from Paul Adams, '20, who is City, Kas .:

"I'll try to tell you a little about what I have been doing since June 7th (how well 1 remember that hot day). I came to this city to work for these people as a traveling salesman, and I was employed as such for some time. Later, larger deals such as city light plant contracts instead of the little farm plants came to us and this of course required the enlargement of the company. PROFESSOR BARBOUR TALKS TO GAMMA SIGMA DELTA

University Instructor Speaks on Genesis of Domestic Animals.

Prof. E. H. Barbour addressed the members of Gamma Sigma Delta last now employed by the Consolidated Wednesday evening on "The Genesis Power and Light company of Hays of Domestic Animals." He stated that at one period during the formation of the earth, it was surrounded by several hundred atmospheres of poisonous gases and that it was impossible for animal life to exist until these gases had been absorbed. The first animals were sea animals and the first plants were water plants and the reason for this was that they could not survive on land because of the gases and the high temperature. Birds are the outgrowth of animals and the transformation required millions of years. Fossils found show a marked resemblance of the prehistoric bird to the animal. These prehistoric animals evolved into the various animillion years. Discovered Many Fossils.

Professor Barbour has discovered many fossils of these historic animals "I was in Lincoln last registration in their various stages of development covered with lakes and because of this condition the fossils have been preserved. Many of the fossils unearthed are rare specimen and very valuable. The principal one is that Hall. only one other like it in the world and that one will be found at the Carnegie museum.
