SONG BOOK TO UNIFY SPIRIT

All Types of Songs Will Be Used in New Book, According to Committee.

Work Progresses Fast

Purpose is to Tie Every Student Heart to a Melody—Alumni Co-operating.

The subject matter for the new University song book is taking definite form. The pamphlet which is now in the process of composition is expected to reek with old campus traditions and cherished memories of college days. The pages of the book will not be given over only to one type of song; the committee means to take them all—the sad strains, the stirring melodies, the campus ditties and the ballads of the days after graduation. The group of students who are behind the song book proposition believe that Nebraska school spirit needs something to pull it together, and that that something is a song book with distinctive Cornhusker songs.

College Unity and Music.

The purpose of the song book is "to tie every U. of N. student heart up to a melody." "When the student hears a certain strain or bar of music dear to the University, he will be carried back to the campus with its traditions, its sentiments and its ideals," said a student Saturday.

The committee has sent out an appeal to every student to write a song or a lyric, or both, and submit them to the members of the committee for the Nebraska song book. Professor R. D. Scott and John M. Rosborough represent the faculty on the committee. Gaylord Davis, '20, Carolyn Reed, '20, and R. L. Doyle are representatives of the alumni.

A number of organizations throughout the state are pushing the movement. Individuals are already responding to the call for subject matter, and several Nebraska towns have been represented by lyrics, poems and songs. Several Lincoln people have submitted poems and music.

Coach McMaster's Runners Make Excellent Showing in Classic at Grinnell.

Plans Are in Preparation for Dual Meet with Kansas Here Saturday.

Nebraska's cross-country team finished third in the Missouri Valley Conference meet at Grinnell Saturday. Ames won the meet with Kansas second. Coach McMaster reports that the men made a very credible showing considering the experience they have had this season. The team scores were as follows: Ames, 15; Kansas, 62; Nebraska, 75; Missouri, 83; Cornell, 92; Grinnell, 148; Washington, 7th.

Nebraska's runners finished in the following order: 6, 11, 14, 17 and 27. Coach McMaster is planning a dual meet with Kansas here next Saturday. Final arrangements will be announced later concerning the meet. There will be a handicap meet held this evening over the course and Coach McMaster wants all the men to turn out so that he can choose his material for the team to represent Nebraska against Kansas, if the meet is arranged.

Van Orsdel Addresses Law Students Friday

"Knowledge of Attachment is exceedingly valuable and is very important as a point of law," said Mr. Ralph A. Van Orsdel in his address to the law college during the eighth general lecture period at 11 o'clock Friday, November 12. Mr. Van Orsdel is a prominent attorney of Omaha. He graduated from the University of Nebraska in the class of '06, and was president of the Alumni Association last year. He also is a well informed speaker and he has always been an enthusiastic supporter of the Nebraska law college.

He told the laws of the proceedings of attachment in the State of Nebraska and of the general proceedings throughout the United States. He said that the graduate lawyers should feel that their instructors trained them for real service and in order for them to have this feeling they must contribute their utmost efforts in endeavoring to get the most out of their daily work.

In closing he left a valuable suggestion in the minds of the law students, mainly, "People want to know about law and they don't care for your personal opinion. When they put a legal question before you read them the statutory law and you will secure better results."

Special Train Hauls Over Three Hundred Husker Rooters to Game

Crowded coaches did not prevent three hundred University students from making reservations on the special train to Kansas. The train consisted of five passenger coaches. It left Lincoln at 11 o'clock Friday night and arrived at Lawrence about 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

The "special" stopped for breakfast at Topeka. The three hundred students swarmed into the lunch counter and depleted the stock before the proprietor could tell who his guests were. The music of guitars and ukuleles accompanied by voices, far from subdued, made the night miserable for those who had purchased sleeper accommodations.

On the return trip the members of the Varsity and Freshmen squads were housed in a car connected to the special train. The crowd of well-fatigued Huskers returned at about 10 o'clock Sunday morning.

The University of the Sunflower state featured the Kansas-Nebraska game as part of its annual Homecoming day. The Daily Kansan published a special Homecoming edition, in which were reproduced photographs of several Husker players. Bradley, who won honors in the Olympics at Antwerp, exhibited the throwing of the javelin between halves of the game. A new Kansas song, "I'm a Jayhawk," written by George H. Bowles, Kansas University, '08, made its debut at the game. Snake dances and the famous "Rock-chalk; Jay-hawk," together with other songs of both universities were given during the clash. A Varsity dance and numerous fraternity and sorority parties were features of the evening.

Railroad fare for the round trip on the special train was $20.38 with Pullman and $14.60 without sleeper accommodations.

TWO TEAMS TIE IN W. S. G. A. CAMPAIGN

Membership Contest Results in Five Hundred New Members for Association.

Plans for Girls' Cornhusker Party Rapidly Nearing Completion.

The subscription campaign conducted by the W. S. G. A. council members during the past week, ended Friday evening in a tie between the two teams. The drive was a continuation of the campaign during registration week for members and resulted in about five hundred girls joining the association.

The team captains, who were elected from the W. S. G. A. council, were Nancy Pennoyer and Leone Becker. The result was one of the most successful in several years, according to those in charge.

The losing side in the contest was to have arranged a dinner for the winners. On account of the fact that the result was an exact tie, each captain has appointed four members of each team to arrange the dinner. It will be given Thursday evening at 6 o'clock at Ellen Smith Hall and open to all members of the board and council. Members of the committee who have charge of the dinner will meet this evening at 5 o'clock at Ellen Smith Hall in order to complete arrangements.

Plans for Cornhusker Party. The annual Girls' Cornhusker party is scheduled for Friday, December 3, and plans are rapidly being completed by the W. S. G. A. Brilliant Rally By Kansans in Second Half Nets Three Touchdowns.

Aerial Attack Succeeds

Phillips' Team Triumphant in First Periods But Slows Up and Loses Victory.

The Kansas Jayhawks did the unexpected Saturday and held Nebraska's Cornhuskers to a tie score. The final count was 20 to 20. The Kansas football enthusiasts regard the outcome of the game as a victory. Nebraska completely outclassed the Jayhawks during the first two periods of play but the Kansans did not stop fighting, and were able to overtake the Cornhuskers in the final two periods of the battle. The game was played before a large Kansas Homecoming crowd who did not let up once during the entire game in encouraging their men to "fight the Huskers." The only reason the Nebraska have to offer in regard to their poor showing during the last half are that they were too over-confident and Kansas had an aerial attack they were unable to stop. Every one connected with the Kansas team thought Nebraska would triple the score at the beginning of the game but after Quarterback Lonsberg had hurled a number of spectacular passes to Mandeville in the second frame the outcome of the contest became more in doubt.

Husker Line Impregnable.

The Jayhawks were unable to make much headway through the stalwart Husker line but made up for the discrepancy in the form of forward flips. Nebraska was able to make first downs almost at will during the first half of the contest. Many of the Cornhusker followers expressed the sentiment that Nebraska played the best brand of football during the first half that has been displayed this season. Every one was in high spirits at the end of the first half of the conflict and a "snake" dance was indulged in by the members of the Cornhusker rooting party. The Nebraska (Continued on Page Four)
