VOL. XX. NO. 53.

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1920.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

SALES CAMPAIGN OFF WITH BOOM

More than Six Hundred Subscriptions Sold During First Day of Big Contest.

Kappas Are in Lead

Various Organizations Are Running Neck and Neck in Race for Cash Prizes.

100% ORGANIZATIONS.
Sororities.
Alpha Omicron Pi.
Kappa Kappa Gamma.
Fraternities.
Kappa Sigma.

With only a part of the subscriptions turned in, indications are that more than 600 subscriptions to the 1921 Cornhusker were sold during the first day of the sales campaign that started at 8 a. m. Monday.

Kappa Kappa Gamma was leading in the number of subscriptions turned in Monday with 126 subscriptions, according to unofficial tabulations. The Union society is running a close second and promises to be at the top Wednesday. The Delta society is also running near the top.

The majority of the sororities have turned in no subscriptions as yet because of the fact that their subscription books are not full. It is expected that returns announced in Thursday's Nebraskan will show several changes in standings.

Alpha O's Buy Early.
Within ten minutes after the Student Activities office had opened Tuesday morning, officers of the Alpha Omicron Pi sorority came in and turned over money for subscriptions for all their members. In this way, the sorority was placed at the top in 100 per cent sororities and will be awarded the special prize.

Kappa Kappa Gamma reported 100 per cent before noon Tuesday. Kappa Sigma was the first fraternity to report a complete list of subscriptions for the book. The list of all 100 per cent organizations will be listed in the Daily Nebraskan each day.

Planning Committee Hears Doctor Condra

Dr. George E. Condra talked before the city planning committee of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce Monday on the viewing of Lincoln from an airplane. A set of colored slides were used, the best of which were recently taken of the University of Nebraska.

The committee has definitely decided to urge the opening of Fifteenth street between the capitol and the eastern extremity of the University. Many members favor naming the street Pershing avenue.

Ex-Consul To Tell Conditions in Peru

Ex-Vice-Consul Cooper, a prominent Lincoln citizen, formerly of Lima, Peru, South America, will give an illustrated lecture on the "Industries and Social Customs," of Peru next Thursday at 9:00 a. m. in the Geography lecture room, 210 Nebraska Hall.

The lecture is given under the auspices of the Geology and Geography departments, and is open to all.

BOARD OF REGENTS PREPARING BUDGET

In Session All Day Yesterday and Will Continue Work Today.

New Budget and Confirmation of Appointments Are Main Issues.

Regents of the University of Nebraska were in session all day Tuesday to study and act upon a budget presented by Chancellor Samuel Avery and the faculty and to decide upon several appointments. The meeting will be continued today until final decisions are reached in the matters under discussion.

The session began in the Chancellor's office at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. The members of the board were guests of the Rotary Club for dinner at the Grand hotel. A committee of the faculty was invited to speak at the afternoon session on certain phases of the University budget for the next two years.

It is reported that salary adjustments deferred from last year will be important considerations of this meeting. Other University authorities were called in from time to time to arrange special departmental features of the new budget.

By invitation, Regent-elect Seymour and Dan J. Riley, president of the Alumni Board, sat with the Regents. Regent-elect Bates was unable to be present.

Authors of New Budget.

The Chancellor, the deans of the various colleges and certain members of the University faculty are authors of the budget. In order to reduce the total amount, the Regents may have to slice down some of the estimates which have been recommended. The budget, however, will be left substantially in its present form.

Coach McMaster Tells of Cross Country Prospects at Nebraska

Coach McMaster of the Nebraska cross-country squad is an old Nebraska man at cross-country running and is therefore a real authority on the history and prospects of cross-country at Nebraska. The following article was written by Coach McMaster and portrays cross-country work at Nebraska in a very clear way:

In the past few years, the sport of cross-country running has not been given the prominence in the University of Nebraska, that it has had in the days gone by. In the years prior to 1912, when Dr. Clapp had charge of the cross-country, a nice squad of men reported, and a team that was always a runner-up for the Missouri Valley championship resulted. Men like Louie Anderson starred in this sport, standing out as high lines in the history of the sport at Nebraska.

Often Valley Leaders.

At various times the championship of the Valley has rested with Nebraska. Beginning with about 1912, Guy Reed had charge of the sport and under his direction a number of good men were developed and a credible team represented the school. However, Mr. Reed was manager of athletics, and a great deal of his time was required for football in the period of the year when much time in cross-country is needed. For that reason, the men trained by themselves to a large extent and the interest in the sport greatly decreased until about 1915, which was the last year that Nebraska had a cross-country team. During the war no attempt was made to place a team in the Valley competition, and the interest in the sport was dormant during that period.

MILITARY BALL TO BE FIRST FORMAL OF YEAR

Tickets Now on Sale to All Students—Orpheum Talent to Entertain.

The Military Ball which will be held at the Lincoln Saturday night will be one of the first and most elaborate formal to be held this year. The tickets have been held for members of the regiment until this time but they will be released to other students at noon today. The number of tickets is limited and those desiring to place in the big event Saturday night will have to hurry if they get their paste-boards.

Talent from the Orpheum will be a part of the entertainment, according to the committee in charge of that phase of the evening's fun. The talent is to be the choice of the bill at the local theater and the students who attend the show this week will have a second opportunity to see their favorites at the ball Saturday night. Although this will be a military formal and uniforms are to be worn by the members of the cadet corps, those who choose are free to wear evening dress instead.

To Surpass Former Balls.
In the past the Military Ball has

DEAN BUCK TO SPEAK TONIGHT ON "INDIA"

International Relation Club in Charge of Meeting in Social Science Auditorium.

Dean P. M. Buck of the Arts and Science College will speak under the auspices of the University of Nebraska International Relations Club at an open meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the auditorium of Social Science Hall. "India" will be his theme and this subject will be the topic under discussion during the evening. The meeting is open to the University public and all students and faculty members are invited.

Much interest is attached to the fact that Dean Buck has chosen "India" as his subject, because he was born and received his early educational training in that country. For that reason, he is in close touch with conditions as they have been there for some time. His parents are doing missionary work now in India.

Series of Open Meetings.
The International Relations Club has planned a series of open meetings to be held during the semester. At least once a month the society has scheduled such a meeting at which outside speakers will speak. A formal

Gamma Phi Beta Gives Cake to Team

Gamma Phi Beta Gives Cake

A mammoth cake, two feet in length and eighteen inches wide, was the gift of Gamma Phi Beta to the members of the 1920 Varsity football squad after the last game of the season. When the men returned to the gymnasium after the struggle Thanksgiving Day, the feast was waiting for them.

It is rumored that it was not merely students of cooking at the Gamma Phi Beta house who moulded the cake, but that the entire chapter had a hand in the baking.

A football in brown icing with the inscription "Cornhuskers 1920" upon it in scarlet letters, graced the center of the cake. The girls left the surprise in the Athletic office, where Director Luehring found it and presented it to the team after the clash.

"It was a rare treat and much appreciated by every man on the squad," said Captain Bill Day Monday. Although we had to miss our Thanksgiving dinners at home, the feast in the gymnasium reminded us that we had a great deal to be thankful for."

LAST DAY TO BUY BANQUET TICKETS

Money Must Reach Student Activities Office Tonight, Say Innocents.

Lincoln Hotel Ballroom is Scene of 1920 Feast—No Rowdiness To Be Allowed

All tickets for the Cornhusker Banquet, to be staged Friday evening in the Lincoln Hotel ballroom, must be disposed of by this evening and the money turned in at the Student Activities office, according to announcements made Tuesday by the Committee in charge.

The banquet is an annual affair and is given each year at the close of the football season to commemorate the work of the grid players. The Lincoln Hotel ballroom was chosen this year as the scene of the banquet because of the larger number of students that can be accommodated. Tickets for the feast, for sale at the Student Activities Office and in all fraternity houses, are priced at $1.75.

No Rowdiness This Year

Because of its value as a University tradition, authorities at the University have issued the ultimatum that no rowdiness and hilarity of the sort indulged in several years ago will be tolerated. The usual banquet procedure will be followed. The toast list will be announced tomorrow.

"Because it is a means of introducing freshmen to upperclassmen and to faculty members, the banquet is valuable to first-year students and every one of them should attend," said a member of the Innocents Society yesterday.

The members of the 1920 football team will occupy places of honor at the head of the banquet board. Toasts will be given by Captain "Bill" Day, and the newly elected captain for 1921, after the election which will take place before Friday.

PROFESSOR IVEY GIVES SALESMANSHIP LECTURE

Third of Series in Extension Course Delivered in Omaha November 30.

BASKET TOSSERS COMMENCE GRIND

Twenty-five Candidates Respond to Coach Schissler's Call for First Practice.

Prospects Are Great

Cornhusker Squad Will Participate in Practice Games Early in the Season.

About twenty-five men reported for basketball yesterday afternoon. Coach Schissler drilled his men on the various shots and on floorwork. He is well pleased with the showing made by the men. Last year's letter men showed their usual efficiency and several new men also are showing up well. Stiff setting up exercises were given at the close of practice.

There will probably be one or two practice games played before the first scheduled battle. There is some chance of the Huskers meeting either Wesleyan or Omaha University a week from next Friday. Coach Schissler will have to drill his men to the utmost in order to have them in the proper condition and training for the Eastern trip. This trip comes early in the season from January 2 to 7, and the Huskers will battle some of the strongest teams in the Big Ten.

Prospects Are Rosy.

Nebraska has a chance to develop the best basketball quintet this year that has ever represented the school. They have games scheduled with the strongest teams in the Big Ten and Missouri Valley conferences. Last year the Huskers went through the season practically undefeated. The team this year should be as good, if not better than last year's five, because the old squad is nearly intact and the men have the benefit of having played together through an entire season.

Freshmen at Work.

Several Freshmen are already practicing and are displaying good form. There will be a meeting of all Freshmen basketball men this afternoon at 3:30 p. m. in the Armory.

Professor Bengston Quoted by Bradstreet

Bradstreet's Journal for November 20 contained the following article concerning a statement made public by Prof. Nels A. Bengston, University of Nebraska Geography Department:

"American automobiles and trucks are so predominant in Norway that they give a distinct American touch to the street traffic, states Trade Commissioner Nels A. Bengston of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce, in a report just made public. American agricultural machinery is prominent. In general, the high quality of American tools and mechanisms is conceded, and the expression is frequently heard that American goods rank first in quality but are somewhat higher in price than the same type of goods from the United Kingdom, Sweden or Germany. The United States now ranks first in the trade in metal manufactures as a whole. Before the war Germany ranked first, the United Kingdom second and the United States third. In the leather goods trade the United States has long held a foremost place, but before the war the imports from Germany were practically three times as large as those from America. Now, however, the United States has swung into first place. During recent years direct trade with the United States in textiles and clothing has been established.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL.

There will be a meeting of all Freshmen basketball candidates at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon in the Armory.

WRESTLERS ATTENTION!

All men interested in wrestling meet Thursday, December 2, at 5 p. m., in the Chapel of the Armory.

By order of:
DR. R. G. CLAPP.
