'HELLO!'
Somehow I rather envy Jim
For everybody takes to him.
No matter where you see him go
No one fails to say "Hello!"

Going along from class to class,
Him scarcely one will pass
Without a friendly nod to show
They mean to say "Hello!" "Hello!"

See that pretty girl go by!
See that twinkle in her eye?
Of course, anyone would know
Why she should greet him with
"Hello!"

Wrong! for there a prettier one
Does the selfsame thing in fun.
And Jim can't help, you know,
But answer back, "Hello! Hello!"

Jim's not half as fair as I,
Yet when I am passing by
Folks do not look up to show
Their friendliness and say "Hello!"

I am often wondering,
Who started to do this thing??
Did everybody like him so?
Or was Jim the first to say "Hello?"

He—I would, only they are not expecting to meet me until train time.
As you sit alone a-thinkin'
Of the things you want to be,
Of the things you ought to know,
And the things you ought to see,
You get to feelin' lonely
And you get to feelin' blue,
You get to wonderin' how and why
And if your best friend's really true.

A shot of self-pity comes
Stealin' in your heart.
And you wonder how the other fellow
Can always be so smart,
And when you feelin' this way,
Wipe away your tears, and smile
Remember, 'tis not always the big things
That are the things worth while.

Coach Hughes Considers Nebraska Game Important
The following clipping, taken from a recent issue of the Denver Post and sent to the Daily Nebraskan by a Denver reader yesterday, gives an interesting comment on one of the 1929 football games: "Coach Hughes of the Colorado Aggies declares the Nebraska game was a mistake in that it forced him to bring his team to a peak of development by Oct. 7. He says if any more big games are to be taken in future years they will be at the close and not in the middle of a season."

TESTS AT MICHIGAN.
Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 10.—Tests to determine the professional aptitudes of students may be brought into use by the University of Michigan in the near future. The tests are now a part of the system of several American Universities, including Pennsylvania and Columbia. Members of the faculty here are of the opinion that the tests may be ultimately adopted. The purpose of these tests is to determine the man for the job instead of the job for the man, so that students will no longer waste their time studying for professions for which which they are not adapted.—Exchange.

SENIOR WINNERS GUESTS OF DEFEATED PLAYERS

Fourth Year Soccer Champions Honored With Dinner Given By Losing Teams

Members of the Senior Girls Soccer team, champions in the interclass tournament, were honored at a dinner given by the losing teams in Ellen Smith Hall Thursday evening. Miss Clark, head of the women's physical education department and soccer coach, and Irene Springer, '29, referee of the games, were guests of the players.

An impromptu toast list was a feature of the evening. Ruth Fickes, toastmistress, called for the following responses:

Success—Ruth DuBois (Senior captain).
Opposition Betty Ball (Junior captain).
Centipede—Davida Van Gilder (Sophomore captain).
Cherubim—Pearl Stafford (Freshman captain).
Rudder—Miss Clark.
The toast list had been kept a secret by the Juniors who had planned it. The speakers did not know that they were on the program until the place cards, which were miniature soccer balls, were opened, revealing the toast list within.

A short program, arranged by the Sophomore team, was given, consisting of a dance by Dorothy Wheelpley, a reading by Katherine Matchett and an Indian club drill using hair brushes instead of clubs. The drill was a take-off on the Seniors in gymnasium classes.

The dinner marked the climax of a successful interclass soccer tournament. The W. A. A. plans to have a "feed" for the teams after the final game of each interclass tournament.

The Freshmen players were in charge of the dinner for the soccer teams.

R. H. Fogg of Beatrice visited the Sigma Nu house the first part of the week. He left Wednesday evening for the east where he will visit his parents.

Lucile Cross and Blanche Wynot will attend the Pi Phi Chi ball at the Blackstone hotel in Omaha Saturday night.

It is said one of the new suffragettes "What for?" asked Art.
"For a woman's movement," was the reply.
"No," said bashful Art. "if you have something to keep the Aggie girls still, I'll sign it, but nothing that puts more pep into them."

Professor Scores Pink Tea Hounds

EVANSTON, Ill., Dec. 10.—Dean Frederick Flickinger has set all tongues wagging at Northwestern University as the result of a rather vigorous talk he made at chapel recently.

"You students are degenerating into 'pink tea hounds,' and what I want Northwestern to be is a fighting school," he declared.

"No football playing students should refrain from going out with girls. Those on the team who because of training rules, can't go out with their sweethearts resent seeing them go out with other students. They worry, and their playing falls off. "Girls should refuse to go out with the 'pink tea hounds' during the football season."—Exchange.

LeRoss Hammond Tells of Journalistic Meeting

A detailed report of the national convention of Sigma Delta Chi, men's honorary journalistic fraternity, held recently at the chapter in Oklahoma State University, Norman, Oklahoma, to which Nebraska sent Le Ross Hammond, '21, as delegate, was given at the regular monthly meeting of that organization this week at the Phi Gamma Delta house.

The University delegate reported that the treatment accorded the visiting members of the society was most cordial. "I never was present at such a sumptuous banquet," he declared. Next year's convention will be held at the Iowa State Agricultural College, Ames, Iowa.

"Some of the delegates came from such distant points as Maine and Washington and their pullman fares alone amounted to more than fifty dollars a man," said the speaker. The next meeting of Sigma Delta Chi will be held the first Tuesday of January at dinner in the Silver Lynx house.

Professor Candy Talks On Numerical History

Prof. A. L. Candy of the Mathematical Department lectured before a united session of the Physics Club and students of the Mathematics at Nebraska Wesleyan University Wednesday evening. His speech was illustrated with lantern slides. He showed the historical development of numerals.

The professor showed the origin of the abacus which was originally a table of sand with grooves in which the counters were laid. The lantern views showed plates of numerals taken from many nations and ages. Professor Candy was introduced by Prof. Oscar Schmeidel, instructor of mathematics at Wesleyan, and was the guest of Professor Schmeidel, and several Wesleyan faculty members afterwards, at a luncheon in the cafeteria.
