

OMAHA CLUB HOLDS BUSINESS MEETING

The club will hold regular meetings on the first and third Thursday nights of each month. These meetings will be short, and a time limit will be placed upon them, allowing members to leave the meeting place by 8 o'clock. Programs for meetings and for parties and mixers to be held will be in charge of the following committee: Gladys Mickle, chairman; James Proebsting and Leota Markwell.

Plans are under way to have the old Omaha day tradition re-established. Members of the club interviewed representatives of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce and the University Club of Omaha and definite steps will soon be taken to have an Omaha day again. Co-operation by business men of Omaha is already promised, and dances and banquets will be given visiting students if the movement proves a success here. In years past a school day has been declared a holiday on which day all students traveled from Lincoln to Omaha on a special train and spent the day inspecting the city and visiting business establishments, being entertained in the evening by dances and theatre parties.

Ellen Smith Hall May Be Opened for Dances

Last evening at the second meeting of the Presidents' Club, representing the seventeen girls' organizations on the campus, the question was discussed "Whether or not Ellen Smith Hall should be closed to parties to prevent statuary, pictures and other valuable furnishings from being taken." Because it would be a blot upon this University to have the report go out that the students stole so many things that they were prohibited from using Ellen Smith Hall, the proposal to close the hall was rejected. Another plan was adopted, that of holding the organization giving the party responsible for anything that might be taken. But even by this arrangement, if furnishings continue to be taken, Ellen Smith Hall will have to be closed to parties.

The Presidents' Club also decided not to place a guard in the basement to prevent men in the future from smoking and drinking there but instead to post a notice, endorsed by the presidents of all the girls' organizations, asking the men to comply with the same rules regarding no smoking on the premises which are enforced at every sorority house.

Freshmen Girls' Party Biggest of the Year

All the Freshmen girls are to be entertained Saturday afternoon at a Christmas party at Ellen Smith Hall. It was voted at the last meeting of the Senior Advisory Board to make the Freshmen girls' Christmas party an annual event—a tradition of the school. The Big Sisters are giving tomorrow's party for the Freshmen, under the auspices of the Senior Advisory Board. The program of music and games and Christmas stunts is to start promptly at 2:30. There are to be little Christmas favors and many other pretty features to the party.

The committees, appointed by Faye Curry, president of the Senior Advisory Board, to have the party in charge are: Ruth McKeeney, Mary Baker and Marion Mote, entertainment; Ethel Hoagland, Katherine Geis, Helen Nieman and Hazel Poozangh, refreshments; Hattie Heppert, Mary Brownell, Olive Hartley and Ruth DuBois, decoration.

The work of the Senior Advisory Board is becoming more and more influential and definite. The board has the entire Big and Little Sister movement in charge. Each Big Sister, either a Junior or a Senior, in the summer is given the name of a girl who is to be a Freshman at the University in the fall. She writes to the Freshman, meets her at the train, helps her in registering and sponsors the Freshman through her first year. The upperclasswomen are true friends to their Little Sisters. Parties, with the Senior Advisory Board in charge, are given at which the first year girls become acquainted with their girl classmates and the Junior and Senior girls. Two mixers for Big and Little Sisters, a luncheon and a picnic, have already been given this year. And the third get-together, the biggest event of this semester for all Freshmen girls, is Saturday afternoon's Christmas party.

Guess: "Dad, buy me a tin horn."
Dad: "No, you'd make me entirely too nervous with the noise."
Guess: "Aw, dad, I promise only to play it when you're asleep."

Theta Sigma Phi Hold Initiation of Members

Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalistic fraternity for women, held initiation for nine members at Ellen Smith Hall at six o'clock p. m. Thursday, followed by a banquet at the Betty Brown tea rooms. Mrs. Jessie Behtol Lee, feature writer for the Chicago Evening Post, was a guest of honor and told of her interesting experiences in newspaper work.

Covers were laid for twenty-five. Jean Burroughs Reed, '18, of St. Paul Minn., formerly actively associated with University publications, and an alumna of Theta Sigma Phi, was present.

The newly initiated members follow: Belle Farman, '23, Mildred Doyle, '22, Mary Thomas, '22, Naomi Buck, '23, Evesa Holloway, '22, Nora Livingston, '22, Florence Miller, '23, and Lois Margaret Hartman, '23.

Notre Dame Game Probably in the East

Notre Dame will not in all probability play on University field next season, as has been the custom of the Catholics for the past six years. The South Bend authorities have offered the Nebraska mentors a substantial proposition for the Cornhuskers to come to the Indiana school for a game on the Notre Dame field. Negotiations are now under way between the schools and an agreement should be reached in a few days.

The Huskers are slated to meet the Ames Angles football aggregation at Ames on October 5, next year, but on account of football relations between the University and the State College being broken off, the Huskers may meet the Farmers at a later date.

The Cornhuskers had hopes of meeting the Washington State team again next year, but from all reports the Washington State team does not want to meet the Huskers.
