NEW PUBLICATION TO APPEAR SOON

School of Business Administration
Plans a Monthly Magazine.

EDITOR IS H. R. PETERSON

Publication Will Be Self-Supporting—Backed By University Commercial Club.

The College of Business Administration is to have a monthly publication. Plans have been completed by the University Commercial Club and a paper will be issued March 15th and May 15th. The paper will become a monthly next September.

The following staff has been chosen for the magazine: Howard R. Peterson, editor-in-chief; John R. Gillette, managing editor; Robert Eastwood, business manager; Ray E. Kokes, assistant business manager, and John W. Wolf, circulation manager. The publication will be self-supporting, but the Commercial Club has set aside $100 to be used if necessary.

Offer Prizes for Name.

The Commercial Club has offered two $5.00 prizes to be paid February 16th for the best slogan for the club and the best name for the publication that are submitted. The contest is open to all students in the university.

Following the adoption of the resolutions providing for the publication of the paper, the last regular business meeting of the club for the first semester was held. Nominations for the officers of the club for the second semester were made as follows:—President, Wallace Herrick, and Geo. Darlington, vice-president; John R. Gillette, and Harry Latowsky, secretary, Charles McMillen, and Wayne Farmer, and for treasurer, Robert Eastwood, Herman Wollmer, and Ned Eastlack.

Elections of officers for the second semester will be held Thursday, Feb. 10th.

OPPORTUNITY FOR CHORUS OFFERED

Mrs. Carrie B. Raymond has arranged that students wishing to add chorus to their schedules may do so without paying extra fee for late registration, providing they register before Wednesday, February 9. The chorus meets on Wednesdays and Mondays at 5 o'clock and does not require preparation. One hour credit a semester is given.

A special attraction is offered those taking the course this year. Singers will be chosen from the members of the chorus to represent the University chorus in a tour of the state during University week. Small groups will also be chosen for a part of the University week program. Tryouts and rehearsals will start at once.

At present the chorus is working on Coleridge-Taylor's cantata, "A Tale of Old Japan," which they will give early in the spring. Mrs. Raymond hopes to bring a symphony orchestra here for a spring festival. Last year the chorus of three hundred voices sang Verdi's Requiem with the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra.

A chorus party is to be held soon so that members may become better acquainted. Last semester a party was given in Art Hall with great success.

MORTARBOARD PARTY FOR SENIOR WOMEN

The Mortarboard society will give a party for all women in the senior class Saturday from 3 to 6 o'clock in Ellen Smith Hall. The program will consist of a vocal solo by Gerolyn Walrath, a solo dance and some readings. Ruth DuBois, who is in charge of the party, says she hopes that many girls will turn out to foster class spirit and make the party a success.

"BLUE HEN" COVERS THREE THOUSAND EGGS

University of Nebraska Poultry Department has started a big spring drive, by setting its mammoth 3,200 egg incubator.

This large "Blue Hen" is heated with a large anthracite stove. The heat is regulated with automatic thermostats which close and open dampers with almost the precision of a human mind.

In order to obviate hours of tedious toil, the machine is equipped with a device which turns the entire "setting" with one turn of a crank.

The chicks hatched by this Department are used mainly for demonstration, practice work, and experimental purposes. Very few, if any, are sold to the public.

Every twenty days hundreds of little downy chicks start their "journey down through this vale of tears"—and thus the process proceeds until the hatching season closes.

ATTRACTIVE PROGRAM FOR LUNCHEON TODAY

Greater Nebraska Gathering to re-ture Interesting Talks on School Plans.

The first Greater Nebraska luncheon, open to faculty members and all men students on the campus, will be held today from 12 to 12:50 sharp at the Grand Hotel. The attractive program includes, besides the chicken pie feed, talks and discussions on campus expansion and athletic improvement.

Archie N. Jones has been secured to lead the songs and "Bill" Day, Husker football captain, has promised to start the discussion after the talks. The promise to make the luncheon "sharp at both ends," has occasioned the following program: Eating for the first twenty minutes; talks by Dr. Luehring and Dr. Alexander for fifteen minutes together, and fifteen minutes for open discussion. The order of the Rotary Club luncheons will be followed including the yelling and singing.

Accommodations are limited to two hundred men and tickets may be secured at the Y. M. C. A. office in the Temple building or from students on the campus. Forty cents is the price of admission, which will include both lunch and talks.

Dr. Fred Luehring will tell of some of the athletic facilities which Nebraska lacks and which he hopes to bring to the University in the near future. Dr. Alexander has the plans which have been developed for a greater campus and will tell the steps which are being taken to carry these plans into execution. The luncheons will be held each Friday noon and the programs for the rest of the year are in the process of completion at the present time. Some of the best Lincoln talent in the way of speakers and musicians has been secured, the committee men announce.

SCHOLARSHIPS OFFERED TO YALE FOR RESEARCH

The graduate school of Yale University offers four fellowships for study and research at $1,000 each. These are in anthropology, botany, zoology and geology or geography. The fellowships are open to men and women who have completed at least one year of graduate work at an accredited university.

Yale University also offers two Sessel Fellowships at $1,500 each. In selecting the man or woman to fill one of these places preference is given to graduates of universities who have obtained their doctorates and show original research in one of three biological studies; physiology, including physiological chemistry, zoology or botany.

This is the time of year when notices of scholarships and fellowships to be awarded are coming in to the graduate college. Prof. Carl E. Seashore, dean of the graduate college, will answer any inquiries concerning them.—Exchange.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Rail Strike Imminent.

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—A transportation tie-up is hovering over the nation as a result of threats to reduce railroad wages. Railroad workers are threatening to leave but if they should consent to work on reduced salary, the nation will face a transportation crisis. Unions charge that roads are violating the Cummins-Esch law in their demands for wage cuts. The roads have laid off 200,000 men since Sept. 1; as they are not able to support them.

U. S. Share of Indemnity.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The U. S. should share in the German indemnity to the extent of receiving payment of American loans to the allies, says Senator Welsh of Massachusetts. The present demands on Germany may not be fulfilled but whenever an agreement is reached, the allies should consider their debts to U. S. when they begin to collect.

Fear of Revolt of Villa.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 3.—Francisco Villa, retired bandit chieftain, may lead a Mexican revolution of his own. He has refused to lead a force of federal troops against the Arieta brothers now in rebellion in Durango. He even refused to go to Mexico City to be commissioned a general. The illness of President Obregon, is said to be the factor which has caused the revolutionary outbreaks.

WHITE ELEPHANTS AND RED LEMONADE

Jingling Brothers Will Have Man
Eating Lion from Havelock at University Party.

Coming! Coming! Coming! Jingling Brothers great one ring circus, greatest show on earth. It's the big feature of the All-University party. Be sure to see it. This magnificent marvel will show at the coliseum rain or shine, one performance only starting promptly at 7:45 Saturday, February 12.

For years the University people have been yearning for this kind of entertainment. They may not have known they were yearning—they may have thought they were yawning. But they were yearning, we repeat, for just this kind of circus. It is only since Jingling Brothers have gathered their stupendous attractions that this wish could be gratified. Saturday evening of next week you will have a chance to witness the most wealthy, winsome, witching and wondrous collection of world-wide torpedo-proof tantalizers ever seen by University students. All this for 30 cents.

A Giraffeless Giraffe.

A menagerie that amazes and stupefies, a fairland of freaks and curiosities, you'll want to see 'em all, so begin right now to save your pennies and your pep. There'll be wild and ferocious beasts of every kind including silk worms from Patagonia and Afrighanistan. "Dainty Dick," the most beautiful clothes horse in the world, will delight the faculty; "Old Gumbo," the fiercest elephant in the world, will positively kill his trainer at each exhibition. Do not fail to see this thrilling scene. (Applications for jobs as trainer taken at the main entrance. Free life insurance and a beautiful coffin with each job. File applications at once.) Freshmen and all other little folks may feed the peanuts to the elephant.

Good Gracious, Agnes.

Red lemonade, popcorn balls and scintillating slideshows will lure your cash away. Among the wonderful attractions will be the following greatest college freaks ever seen: A girl without a rouge box; a student

OMAHA CLUB HOLDS MEETING WEDNESDAY

The Omaha Club held a meeting in Social Science 101, Wednesday night. The club picture will be taken some time next week and all Omaha students should get in touch with Harry Latowsky so that final arrangements can be made.

At the next meeting of the Club February 16, new officers will be elected. All Omaha students are eligible to attend meetings.

The club will have a dance Friday night February 11, in Ellen Smith Hall. A five piece orchestra has been arranged for, and refreshments are to be served. Tickets can be obtained from members of the dance committee, Pierce Rogers, Chairman, Gladys Mickel, Steven King, and Leita Markwell. They may be purchased for individuals at 60 cents each or for $13.20 a couple.

NEBRASKA GRAPPLERS MEET AMES TONIGHT

Husker Mat Artists To Mix With Iowa
Ring Artists This Friday Evening.

The University of Nebraska wrestling team left Lincoln Thursday afternoon for Ames, Iowa, where they will meet the Ames grapplers in a series of bouts Friday evening.

In Ames the Husker mat artists are going up against some of the strongest college mat teams in the west. Ames has lost only one dual meet in the past two years and this season no team has succeeded in getting more than two bouts off of the Iowans.

Northwestern, Wisconsin and University of Indiana scalps dangle at the belt of the Ames mat meet this year.

Cornhusker mat stock took a decided slump this week when it was announced that Cotopka and Wertz would be out of the line up. Both of these men are last year's letter men.

The following men made the trip:—Captain oyt, Bengston, Bower, Long, Reed, Gayle Pickwell, Troutman.

DEPARTMENTS PLAN NEW COURSES FOR SECOND SEMESTER

"Industrial Insurance," a course for economics students will be one of several new courses to be given next semester. B. S. Beecher, secretary of the National Guardian Life Insurance company of Madison will have charge.

Another course for reeconomics students will be given by Dr. Smiley Branton of the Speech department, called "Correction of Speech Disorders." It will offer three credits to those who are interested in employment management work.

A new course for the benefit of women students will be given in the Journalism department. It is a course of instruction in how to conduct women's departments of newspapers and magazines. Mrs. Genevieve Boughner will have charge of the class.

A two credit course in narrative writing, a course which has not been offered since the war, will be given by Prof. William B. Cairns of the English department. This course is intended for those students who desire to learn to write, and is open to advanced undergraduate and graduate students.—The Daily Cardinal.

AGRONOMY CLUB SELECTS OFFICERS

At a recent meeting of the Agronomy Club at the University Farm, new officers were elected for the ensuing semester as follows:

H. B. Sprague, '21, president.
J. L. Moore, '23, vice-president.
G. A. Streitz, '22, secretary.
L. S. Andrews, '21, treasurer.

Although this club is one of the youngest organizations upon the campus, it is fast coming to the front as a departmental organization, and now has twenty-five active wide-awake members.

FRESHMEN BATTLE HUSKER VARSITY

Youngsters Give Veterans Stiff
Brush in Practice Scrimmage.

NEBRASKA STOCK SLUMPED

Preparations for Iowa Invasion Under Way—Four Conference Games.

DES MOINES, Ia., Feb. 3.—The University of Oklahoma basketball five defeated the Drake University five, 35-32, here last night.

The Husker Varsity cage quintet took a stiff workout against the Freshman crew in the Armory yesterday afternoon. The more experienced men outplayed Coach Pickett's aggregation to a certain extent but could not put the ball through the hoop when within easy shooting distance.

Coach Schissler used the entire squad during the two hours of scrimmage work. Coach Schissler is using the Armory floor so that the men can get used to a smaller floor which they will encounter at Grinnell.

The Husker athletes have not as yet come out of the slump that has struck the Nebraska aggregation. Coach Schissler is in hopes that next week's trip will bring the team up to its old time form.

Nebraska has already defeated the Grinnell team in two contests but will run up against a real combination when they meet the Iowa Farmers. The Aggies have not made a wonderful record this season but have lost only to the strongest teams in the conference.

Beat Notre Dame.

The main interest to Nebraska followers of the cage sport centers in the coming Notre Dame contests that will be staged at the Coliseum on February 18 and 19. The Huskers captured both contests last year by a safe margin.

The "fighting" Catholics defeated the Huskers on Nebraska field this fall and now that defeat may be blotted out when the two teams meet on the basket ball court. Last year's contests were marked with rough playing on both sides. This will be done away with to a great extent by the added size of the Coliseum floor.

PROFESSOR FRANDSEN RETURNS FROM MEETING

Prof. J. H. Frandsen, returned Wednesday from southwestern Nebraska where he attended a meeting of the stockholders of the Orleans Co-operative Equity Union Creamery Association. He states that, "this company turned out over one million pounds of butter during the past season, and they expect to do even a larger business this year."

GREEN GOBLINS.

The Green Goblins will act in the capacity of reception committee at the Freshman Hop at the Armory this evening.

FRENCHMAN WANTS TO LEARN ABOUT LIVE STOCK

E. A. Burnett, Dean of the College of Agriculture, has received an application from a young Frenchman, Mr. Pierre Voyle, of 87 bis, rue du Chateau, Asnieres, (Seine) France, for an opportunity to live with an American live stock farmer and learn something about the live stock business.

Mr. Voyle states, in his letter, that he is eighteen years of age and a graduate of a French Agricultural school. Dean Burnett states further that "any student in the University who would be interested in this young man should consult the Dean of the Agricultural College.
