"Way Down East"—Griffith
 Production.

Great because it is the achievement of a artist; great because it is so humanly real; great because it never happened, yet could happen to any one of us, because the characters never breathed and yet could live just as Anna and David lived. This is "Way Down East."

You can feel the pulse of a great artist's heart and the soul-beat of a great genius as it is interwoven into every scene. Whether it is the daisy field near the river, at the old-fashioned bob sled party, or whether the ice is roaring to the falls in the Connecticut river jam, it is all the work of David Wark Griffith, the genius.

Lillian Gish seems to have eclipsed her eventful career of splendid screen acting with her interpretation of the colorful life of Anna. With her curls piled high on her head, Lillian of the Sighs seems to radiate a new and wondrous beauty. Richard Barthelmess is always interesting, not merely because he is a finished actor and good to look at, but because he is a Lincoln boy, whose true surname is Hutchinson. Mary Hay, the little wife of Mr. Barthelmess in real life, shows promise of becoming a screen favorite with her genuine characterization of the professor's sweetheart.

Too much cannot be said of the music that accompanied the picture.
 Each picture was accompanied by a score that carried out perfectly the scene before the vision.

In our opinion, Mr. Griffith has accomplished a monumental work that will live in the unwritten history of the cinema art.

SATURDAY.

Alpha Phi.

Alpha Phi entertained the active members of the Kappa Alpha Theta at a matinee dance Saturday afternoon at the chapter house. Ferns and shaded lights were used as decorations. Ice and cakes were served.

George Washington Party.

The girls in the dormitory at 423 North 13th street were hostesses at a George Washington costume party Saturday evening. Verna Trine played a piano solo and Dorothy Whelepley gave a solo dance. Decorations were carried out in red and green.

Pi Kappa Phi.

Pi Kappa Phi held its annual banquet at the chapter house Saturday evening. Sixty active members and alumni were present. V. L. Taylor of Beatrice, acted as toastmaster.

FOGG GIVES ADDRESS AT YANKTON COLLEGE

Prof. M. M. Fogg spoke at Yankton College, S. D., Friday evening on "Principles of Public Discourse" and, on invitation of the seven colleges in the South Dakota Intercollegiate Oratorical Association, acted as sole judge of the thought, structure, style of the manuscripts submitted in advance, and of the presentation of the addresses on current questions at the thirty-third contest of the association.

SIR GILBERT MURRAY MAY ADDRESS STUDENTS

Sir Gilbert Murray, Regius Professor of Greek at Oxford University, England, will speak at convocation soon if present arrangements are completed. The professorship he holds was established in the sixteenth century by King Henry VIII and is considered one of the highest honors a scholar can attain. Definite announcement of this special convocation will be made in a few days.
