

THE DAILY NEBRASKAN

Published Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of each week by The University of Nebraska. OFFICIAL UNIVERSITY PUBLICATION Under the direction of the Student Publications Board.

Subscription rate $2.50 per year $1.35 per semester 5 cents single copy

N. STORY HARDING Editor-in-Chief
JACK AUSTIN Managing Editor
JESSIE WATSON Associate Editor
ORVIN GASTON News Editor
GREGG McBRIDE News Editor
ROY GUSTAFSON News Editor
HELLE FARMAN Society Editor
CHARLES MITCHELL Sports Editor
Telephone B3511; room 206, "U" Hall
Assistant editorial writers: Helen Howe, Ward Randol and Harlan Boyer.
Gladys Patterson and Genevieve Lames, assistant society editors.
Staff artist: Katherine von Minckwitz.

BUSINESS STAFF

GLEN GARDNER Business Manager
JAMES FIDDOCK Asst. Business Mgr
KNOX BURNETT Circulation Mgr

GREGG McBRIDE

News Editor for this Issue

DAILY NEBRASKAN'S SECOND SEMESTER PLATFORM

1. Clean politics in competitive campus affairs.
2. More paid readers on the campus.
3. A wider scope of news.
4. Realization of the new gymnasium and stadium.
5. Lower prices to University students.
6. Each student an "unofficial" staff member of the Daily Nebraskan.
7. Adoption of the Single Tax System next fall.

STUDENT COUNCIL NO MORE?

Out of a clear sky a mass meeting was called to consider a petition to abolish the Student Council and to discuss the calling of an election to vote upon this matter. At this meeting a motion was carried to the effect that students will be given an opportunity to vote 'yes' or 'no' on the abolition of the Council within two weeks.

Personally we believe that it will be a wise move if the students of this school decide to do away with the Student Council. In other schools where student government is on a different plain than that at Nebraska and where the duties of the Council do not conflict with duties of numerous other campus organizations, such a body has a right to exist and in many schools is probably accomplishing a large amount of constructive work. The legislation that the Council passes upon at this school is already being enacted by other campus organizations. At Nebraska the Student Council is a non-essential under the present methods of student government.

The reason behind the undisputed fact that the Council here has never, during its two years of existence, promulgated a single piece of beneficial legislation depends largely upon the theory that it had no material with which to work. Other organizations on the campus are busy working out plans for betterment along their particular lines, but should the Student Council discuss these same things, its work directly coincides with that of another body. Thus, nothing is gained and a large amount of time is lost.

Under present conditions, the University of Nebraska needs no Student Council.

LEARN TO EXPRESS YOURSELF.

A father once said to his son as the boy was preparing to enter college: "If the university teaches you nothing else, when you emerge a graduate I want you to be able to talk—to express yourself before a crowd of people."

Thousands of fathers are making this desire known to thousands of sons each year.

Our fathers have realized the necessity of being able to speak in public and of saying what you mean when you speak. From long years of experience they have gleaned that it is the man who can make a good talk that creates an impression. In order to make this impression, learn the powers of expression. It is man's greatest attribute.

RUSH FOR NEBRASKA.

Rush week for the University of Nebraska begins a week from today, when youth from every corner of the Cornhusker State will migrate from our villages to Lincoln for the eleventh annual state high school basketball tourney. Nebraska's boys and girls will scrutinize our school, ourselves and the way we do things. Therefore, it is up to us to make a good impression, for we want to rush all our visitors "University of Nebraska."

The future members of Nebraska's Varsity, the future editors of Cornhusker publications and the future workers in class and other campus affairs—they will all be represented in the mammoth crowd that will attend the tourney. It is known as the largest affair of its kind in the world.

Nebraska University has built up a mighty machine of her representative men to entertain these thousands of high school students from all parts of the state. However, we want you, as a true member of the University's great manufacturing plant, to assist these committees in their plans for the biggest tournament that our Cornhusker University has attempted to stage.

The latest campus diversion for co-eds seems to be that of trying to outdo one another in the size, brilliance and material of the new spring veils. You would think it was Turkey.

Some one said that since the skirts are getting shorter, co-eds wear veils to hide their crestfallen countenances. We don't believe this. There are other reasons for the 'wearin' of the veil: remember it might be a case of misplaced rouge, fallen puffs, sooty cheeks or the desire to cover up the proverbial tired look.

Famous Corns.

- beef and cabbage.
- Pop
- Your favorite
- fed.
- Husker.
- meal.
- er.
- ot.
- cob.
- crib.
- field.
- Indian
- Broom
- Canned
- Sweet
- ucopia.
- Barley
- erstone.
- starch.
- A

In Years Gone By

Twenty-Seven Years Ago Today.
The Hayden Art Club met in the chapel and was addressed by Will Owen Jones.

Twenty-Six Years Ago Today.
Professor Swezey started a class in meteorology, the science of the atmosphere.

Nine Years Ago Today.
Nebraska defeated Kansas by a score of 49-21, thus winning the Missouri Valley basketball championship.

Six Years Ago Today.
The funeral services of Dr. Charles E. Bessey were held in Memorial hall.

Four Years Ago Today.
The Junior girls won the girls' interclass basketball championship.

The national convention of Sigma Alpha Iota, musical sorority, will be held here in Lincoln in April.

Nu Phi Epsilon entertained Sinfonia fraternity at the home of Mrs. Adrian Newens last Sunday.

Prof. F. D. Keim of the agronomy department was operated on for appendicitis at the St. Elizabeth hospital Tuesday.

Pearl: "Have you ever talked this way to any other girl?"
Jimmie: "No, love; I am at my best tonight."

UNI NOTICES

Engineering Positions.

F. G. Kottman of the educational department of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company will be at the University March 17 to interview engineering seniors interested in taking up work with his firm.

Telegraphic Engineers.

Western Union Telegraph company offers to send a representative if any engineering seniors wish to confer with them in regard to positions. It needs telegraphic engineers and supervisory officials.

Women who want to be counselors at Kiwanis camp next summer call for application blanks at women's gymnasium office this week.

University Masons.

Regular monthly business meeting 7:30 Thursday evening, March 3, in Social Science auditorium. Dr. C. M. Shepherd, chaplain of the Grand Lodge for this state. We have a big speaker, see that we have a big meeting.

R. O. T. C. Convocation.

Convocation in Temple Theatre at 5 p. m., Thursday March 3, 1921. All members of the R. A. T. C. who have completed two semester's requirements in the R. O. T. C. are required to attend. Chancellor Avery will have charge of the convocation.

St. Paul S. S. Class.

Prof. F. D. Barker will give an illustrated lecture at 10 a. m., next Sunday upon the laws of heredity.

Cadet Officers, Attention.

All cadet officers must have their individual pictures taken for the Cornhusker by Saturday, March 12. Pictures will be taken at Townsend's. Officers must wear uniforms and caps in these pictures.

Sigma Gamma Epsilon.

Sigma Gamma Epsilon business meeting tonight at 7:30. Two short talks by active members.

The Big and Little Sisters are to have a six o'clock dinner a week from today, March the tenth, at Ellen Smith Hall. All the girls of the University are invited to attend. The tickets go on sale today at the gymnasium. Anyone wishing to sell may secure tickets at Ellen Smith Hall. The price of the dinner is fifty cents per plate and the tickets must be purchased before Wednesday of next week.

BUBBLES

By Ima Cuckoo

Chaperon—"Did you come in before last night?"
Miss Coed—"Yes, oh my, yes!"

Chaperon—"I heard the front door close at three this morning."
Miss Coed—"Well, that's seven hours before ten."—Ex.

So Say a Lot of Us.

First Stude—"I don't wanna go to Heaven."
Second Stude—"Come now, don't say that."
First Stude—"They say there must be an 'accounting' before one can go to Heaven."—Ex.

My Prom Queen.

She isn't so good lookin',
She hasn't dainty feet,
But I picked her for a winner
And she's really awful sweet.
In fact she's most good hearted
And fond and generous too.
With the key to her Dad's cellar
I've promised to be true. —Ex.

Doctor—"This man is suffering. What happened?"
Stude—"Nothing much. He cut a class and learned afterward that the professor forgot to call the roll." —Ex.

Tessie—"Agnes always finds something to harp on."
Bessie—"Yes, I only hope she'll be as fortunate in the next world." —N. Y. U. Alumnus.

CURTIS GALT ATTENDS NATIONAL CONVENTION

Curtis M. Galt, junior in the College of Medicine at Omaha, is in New York attending the convention of the Student Volunteers as representative of Nebraska.

Mr. Galt was formerly a student at Hastings College, Hastings, Neb. While there he was selected as all-state quarterback in 1916. He has received the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science from the University of Nebraska. At Omaha he is president of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet and a member of Phi Chi medical fraternity.

Mr. Galt plans to receive the degree of Doctor of Medicine in 1922, take his internship in China and devote his life to medical work in the Orient.

Upper classman: "How many studies are you carrying?"

Freshman: "I'm carrying one and dragging four."—Milton College Review.

Pat: "Phwat was the last card O' dealt ye, Mike?"

Mike: "A spade."

Pat: "O! knew it was, O! saw ye spit on yer hand before ye picked it up."—Student Life.

Sam (to wife at show): "Mand, tell dat niggah to take his ahm away from aroun' yo waist."

Mandy: "Tell him yoself. He's a perfect straggle to me."

"Do you think you could learn to love me, dear?"

"Well, I could practice a lot."

Enter Dean Bereman.

"It's all off, kid!—Ah! yes, French is rather interesting—"

"I wish I was as religious as Able."

"And vy?"

"He clasps his hands so tight in prayer, he can't get them open vnder collection box comes around!"—The Collegiate World.

Once again the husband came staggering home late.

"Oh, John, have you been drinking again?" sobbed his wife, as she caught a whiff of beer.

"No, my dear, you do me wrong. I've been eating frogs' legs and you smell the hops."—The Pulse.

THE MIRROR

We went down to the beach
We wandered on the sand.
The moon was coming up;
I held her little—shawl.

I held her little shawl,
How fast the time flies,
The band played "At the Bat"
I gazed into her—lunch basket.

I gazed into her lunch basket,
And wished I had a taste,
I saw her sweet lips tremble,
My arm went around her—umbrella.

My arm went round her umbrella,
On the beach we quietly sat,
I softly whispered "Stella"
She was sitting on my—handkerchief.

THE CAMPUS HOUNDS AGAIN.

Again my muse's harp resonnds
To celebrate the campus hounds
That gambel on the lawn.
They do not go to class each day,
Nor study books,—but jump and play,
Beginning with the dawn.

I'm sure, if they were given, say,
Four special themes to write, the day
Before examination,
They would not sport and jump around
(And smile!) upon the campus ground
With such reckless elation.

How they enjoy the spring sunshine,
They soon forget the winter's whine
An dthe unpleasant weather,
The campus is their field of play.
Here they can be carefree and gay,—
They neither sow nor gather.

"How do they get that way?" I ask
They live and laugh without a task,
Yet trust in providence,
This riddle is too deep for me;
How can they be so full of glee
And have such confidence?

This is why my muse's theme,
The campus hounds, again has been
The hound sthat know bat fun,
They are so jolly every day,
They run and jump and yelp and play
Until the day is done.
—X. Tempo Raneous.

WANT ADS.

LOST—Lower half of gold fountain pen, between Social Science building, College Book Store and "T" Hall. Finder call B1516. Reward. It

LOST—Friday noon, from the faculty rooms in Temple basement, an overcoat with blue and bronze silk muffler and gloves. Guernsey Jones. It

CALL B3022 OR B2454

Dud's Taxi Line

Careful Drivers
SEVEN PASSENGER CARS FOR ALL PURPOSES.

Cerf's CLOTHING HOUSE

925 O STREET, LINCOLN, NEB.
GUGENHEIM BROTHERS OWNERS

is the Store of fellows who know the value of dollars—they walk a few steps, possibly out of their way to save a few dollars.

STETSON

and other Good Hats

JUST IN!
A new shipment of ENGLISH TWEED CAPS for spring wear.

Just what you've been looking for.

$3.50

Others at $3 and $4

FARQUHAR'S

—THE HOME OF GOOD CLOTHES.—