

ALUMNI NOTES

Mrs. Genevieve Welsh Irwin of Bridgeport, who graduated from the University in 1917, registered at Alumni headquarters during the past week.

Dr. Mortimer Jay Brown, vice president of the Pacific R. & H. Chemical corporation at Los Angeles, Cal., called at the Alumni office the past week. Dr. Brown graduated with the class of '05.

H. B. Muffley of Dear Trail, Col., called at Alumni headquarters this week. Mr. Muffley graduated from the University in 1916.

William C. Chapin, '16, of Mica, Wash., registered at the Alumni office en route to his home. Mr. Chapin is a marine engineer on the Firthcliffe. He is just returning from a thirteen months trip during which time he covered 43,600 miles and visited the following places: South America, Honolulu, Slam, India, Singapore, Australia, Africa and Egypt. He passed through both the Panama and Suez canals.

Fas Tolles of the class of 1916 visited the campus during the week. Since her graduation Miss Tolles has been located at the Methodist hospital in Des Moines. She will receive her diploma from the institution in June and complete her work in September.

Mrs. Anna Lytle Tannahill, '38, of Beloit, Wis., registered at Alumni headquarters during the week.

This and That

GETTING BY.

I am the ghost of one who fell in the Great War. I come to tell Mu ruin. Then perhaps may I Again succeed in getting by.

I do not recall the day When I have tolled or given pay For goods or honors. I was sly, So folks always let me get by.

Why burden you with my sad tale? Why make you tremble and turn pale? Perhaps you'll say, it's all a lie, And I will not be getting by.

I tossed a hand-granade too slow At practice once. Since then you know, Hard luck followed. That is why I am no longer getting by.

—X. Tempo Raneous.

Unusual Girl

Billie: "How do you like having bobbed hair?" Bobby: "It's no fun. Have to to wash my neck every ray."

Noisy girl! She wears bangs. Her clothes are loud. Her hat is a scream. The clock in her nose strikes one.—Daily Kansan.

He—May I call you by your first name? She—By your last if you wish.

Absent-minded Professor (meeting his son)—Hella, George. How's your father?

There are two kinds of girls: Those that kiss, and those that are never asked.

Right! He Left.

Lovers in the hall-way; Papa on the stair; Bull-dog on the front porch— Music in the air. —Cornell Widow.

Willing Hold-Up.

"I've been reared in the lap of luxury," said the millionaire's daughter. "Try mine for a change," suggested the impecunious young man.

She—"Have you ever talked this way to any other girl?" He—"No, love, I'm at my best tonight."—Penn Punch Bowl.

A clever and a lucky man is infallible; one without the other is useless.

Old men are oblivious to life's tragedies since they live off the efforts of young men. (Witness any college faculty.)

Indeterminate.

Prof.—"Give me the longest sentence you can think of." Stude—"Life."

Platitudes.

No one who loves misunderstands. No one who understands loves.—Chaparral.

He loves her—for all he's worth. She loves him—for all he's worth.—Purple Cow.

Knows Nice Knees.

Robert—"Is Evelyn modest?" Ruth—"Extremely so. She even hides her dimples." Robert—"She must wear a heavy veil." Ruth—"How old-fashioned you are."—Dirge.

Society

YOU HAVE WRITTEN POEMS!

Do you care to have them revised or constructively criticised by successful authors? If you do, then send us your manuscript (stories, articles or poems). We will criticise, and place them should they prove to be acceptable for publication.

There is no actual charge for our services. If, however, you have not previously enrolled with the advisory department of this association, we request that you enclose the initial fee of two dollars, which we must ask of each new contributor. There is no additional expense, no future obligation.

It must be realized that we can only be of aid to those of serious intent. If you do mean to strive for literary success, we can help you in many ways. Our services are yours until we have actually succeeded in marketing at least one of your manuscripts. Send something today!

Please enclose return postage with your communications.
